Young Married Folks Say Religion Vital

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Inquisitiveness and a desire to face squarely one of the burning problems before every Church today — young marrieds — have led the Rt. Rev. Bartel H. Reinheimer, D. D., Episcopal Bishop of Rochester, to some startling discoveries.

To attain his aim, Bishop Reinheimer called together thirty young married couples, business men and their wives, for a week-end at an exclusive hotel near Rochester. It would be worth the expense to find out some things, the Bishop concluded, so that all of the group were his guests.

For two days the group enjoyed carefree fellowship and talked religion — rock bottom religion, says the Bishop. Such matters as prayer, meditation, the Creed and Christian living. They talked it freely; nothing was forced. The result: Bishop Reinheimer is outspoken in saying that young marrieds today are not only interested in, but anxious to consider religion as a normal part of their everyday lives.

"One of the most satisfying experiences we have had in all our married life," the Bishop quotes one of the group as saying. "We have just been going blandly through life accepting Christianity as simply being but not particularly related to us," says another.

PLANTS GET "TOO FAT"

Several of Michigan's most important crops include plants whose ability to withstand winter weather seems to depend on their condition. In fact, men in the farm crops department at Michigan State College compare this to the tests given by life insurance companies for selection of the best insurance risks. S. T. Dexter considers that overwintering of such plants as alfalfa, sugar beets intended for seed, winter wheat and chicory is more successful if the plants are thrifty, neither too luxuriant or too spindly, but just medium and in good condition.

DUST PROTECTS DAHLIAS

With summer troubles due for dahlias a simple remedy suggested by Professor E. I. McDaniel at Michigan State College may aid gardners. Red spider and leaf hoppers are two of the worst dahlia pests. The leaf hopper can be controlled by dusting with lime. If the mites or red spiders appear, combine the lime with sulphur dust and the plants will be protected against either pest.

FIRES ARE CONTINUOUS

GRAND LEDGE (MPA) — Local firemen are now taking blazes as part of the daily routine. Fifteen fires in 15 days is the record made by the local department recently. The fourteenth fire, a car with the upholstery ablaze, was brought to the fire department.

MUSICAL THIEVES

EATON RAPIDS (MPA) — It's possible the burglars who robbed the band instrument storage room at the local high school recently were musically inclined. Loot included three cornets, two or three clarinets, an alto saxophone, and two drum sticks.

HANDS ARE JINXED

HARBOR BEACH (MPA)—Several Port Hope residents recently considered forming a "right hand injury club," when four persons all received injuries to their right hand in the space of a few days. One failed to remove a middle finger from a bowling ball on time.

True Contentment

MOST PEOPLE would agree that contentment is a valuable asset, and would willingly give much to be assured of its lasting possession. Considered, however, from the material standpoint, this state of consciousness seems to be of a fleeting nature. One may temporarily experience a false sense of contentment or satisfaction over some material possession, or because of some temporary condition or situation, but such a source of contentment is never lasting, for material possessions may suddenly be lost, or circumstances be altered, and erstwhile contentment give place to bitterness, dissatisfaction, and resentment. Or one may feel that the gaining of certain desires or the realization of some particular ambition will bring contentment, only to find that such attainments, when secured, have failed to bring the expected satisfaction.

What is true contentment? May it not be defined as satisfaction, or restfulness of spirit, as serenity and peace of mind? Paul declares (Philippians 4: 11), "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." Whence came to Paul the wonderful sense of peace and contentment that could not be disturbed or changed by any untoward condition or circumstance? It came from his knowledge and understanding of God, his recognition of the value and permanence of spiritual things and the nothingness of all that the material senses hold desirable and valuable. . . . Man reflects the abundance and affluence of infinite Love, the omnipotence of Truth, the eternality of Life. Man, as the idea of God, possesses by reflection all the good that God has, even as the beloved Master, Christ Jesus, implied in his parable of the prodigal, when the father said to the elder brother (Luke 15: 31), "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." True contentment, then, comes to us in the degree of our spiritual understanding of the fact of man's eternal unity with God, the source of all good. It is an attribute of divine Mind, and therefore it is a natural quality, which man forever expresses, along with all the other attributes of God, spontaneously and without effort.

When we gain the assurance that man is ever one with God, that he is spiritual, perfect, and complete, lacking nothing that is necessary to the full and perfect expression of God, good, of Life and Love, we shall have attained to spiritual contentment, and it will be unchangeable and enduring. Nothing can mar it or take it from us, for this exalted spiritual consciousness must of necessity destroy those disturbing and unhappy conditions of thought which find expression in dissatisfaction, covetousness, jealousy, envy, selfishness, and greed, and such unlovely traits as pride and self-satisfaction. It silences the craving of the human mind for constant acquisition of material things, and dissolves the restlessness and continual urge for mere wordly pursuits and the indulging of sensuous pleasures, which never have brought, and never can bring, happiness or contentment. It replaces the false satisfaction of worldliness and worldly knowledge with spiritual ideals and joys, and enables us to understand and appreciate the words of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, where she writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 452), "Better is the frugal intellectual repast with contentment and virtue, than the luxury of learning with egotism and vice."

Again, true spiritual contentment does not mean surrender to idleness, laxity, or self-satisfaction in what has already been accomplished, a specious contentment with half-way achievement, with things attempted but not fully completed. On the contrary, discontent with oneself, a discontent that spurs one to greater effort in a worthy undertaking or cause, is helpful and beneficial. Spiritual understanding awakens thought to the appreciation of true values, and a desire to attain greater spiritual growth and achievement.

He who possesses true contentment possesses great spiritual riches, a treasure of priceless worth, and all may attain to it who are willing to seek for it and pay the price. And the price is self-surrender to God, divine Love, a willingness to put aside our belief in a material selfhood and our material sense of things, and joyously, gratefully, humbly, as little children, put our trust and faith in the omnipotence and omnipresence of the infinitely tender, compassionate Father-Mother, Love, who giveth liberally and spontaneously all good to all His beloved children. Thus may we prove the truth of Mrs. Eddy's declaration (ibid., p. 494), "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need." What need we more than this joyous assurance to bring us lasting contentment?

Onsted

Miss Hague Weds

The Onsted Baptist church was the scene of a lovely wedding Thursday at 2:30 o'clock when Miss Ruth Hague, youngest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs F. D. Hague, became the bride of Robert H. Ostrander, son of Mrs Geo. Reynolds of Manitou Beach. The altar was banked with baskets of roses and white and pink peonies.

Mrs Winifred Hammond, sister of the bride, sang "Great Is Thy Faithfulness," after which the bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin played by Miss Lida Imhof of Cleveland.

As the party took their places before the altar, Mrs Hammond sang "We Promise Thee" and immediately after the song the Rev. F. D. Hague, father of the bride, read the impressive single ring service. Little Nancie Hague acted as the ring bearer, carrying the ring in a tiny white basket.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Bernie Hague, was attractively gowned in a floor length, white embroidered organdy dress and wore a finger-tip veil held in place with a wreath of tiny white roses and carried an arm bouquet of white Killarney roses. The maid of honor, Miss Faris Foor, wore a floor length dress of light bluebell and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride traveled in a shepherd check sharkskin redingote with white accessories.

HINT AIDS DISHWASHING

Use of a dairy plant method can simplify one of the chores of dishwashing, it is pointed out by dairy department staff members at Michigan State College. Tumblers that have contained milk should be rinsed out with cold water before they are put into hot dishwater. If hot water is used first, the residual fat melts and emulsifies over the surface of the glass, requiring more strenuous washing to clean the glass.

Service Sunday 10:45 a. m.

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 30.

The Golden Text (II Peter 1:21) is: "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 17:20, 21): "And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The Kingdom of God cometh not with observation: Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (576): "This kingdom of God 'is hithin you,' — is within reach of man's constiousness here, and the spiritual idea reveals it. In divine Science, man possesses this recognition of harmony consciously in proportion to his understanding of God."

a firm down the street advertises regularly in The Herald.

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consider a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness — through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

Garden Club Entertained At E. G. Palmer Home

Mrs. E. G. Palmer entertained the Tecumseh Garden Club at her country home southeast of Ridgeway last Friday afternoon. The co-hostesses were Mrs. Guy T. Poddington, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and Mrs. Stanley Rees. Flower decorated tables were arranged for the members and guests where a potluck luncheon was served.

The dining table, covered with a handsome embroidered cloth, had an artistic arrangement for the centerpiece of pink and white roses and lavender and pink sweet peas with a pink and a white candle in A white pottery holder at each end. Mrs. R. J. Pulver conducted the business meeting after the ladies had inspected Mrs. Palmer's garden. Reports were given by the civics, memorial and spring exhibit committees, by Mrs. F. C. Hanna, Mrs. Leon Rosacrans and Mrs. R. K. Anderson. It was decided to hold another work meeting in Elliott park Wednesday morning from 8:30 to 9:30. Should the weather be unsettled it would be held the following week. The president appointed Mrs. J. M. Mulvany and Mrs. D. C. Heesen to assist Mrs. Lewis Lent in inspecting the garden projects of the Junior Garden Club. Mrs. Charles Rynd gave an instructive paper on, "Lilies for an American Garden," and Mrs. Pulver read a poem "The Flowers Sermon." Mrs. R. S. Moore gave a talk on the eradication of jag weed, and the club voted to sponsor a drive against the weed with $10 in prizes to be awarded. The details will be announced later.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. R. S. Moore's cottage at Sand Lake with Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. Pulver and Mrs. Lent as assisting hostesses. Mrs. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones of Rochester will be the guest speaker and she will be accompanied here by her mother, Mrs. Alice Jones. Mrs. Donald F. Wright will be transportation chairman.

HONOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Complementing Miss Betty Selders, whose marriage to Andrew Johns of Adrian is to be an event of June 30, Miss Myrna Bugbee entertained at a kitchen shower Friday evening. Games and contests were enjoyed, prizes being awarded to Marilyn Selders and Kathleen Powell who in turn presented them to the bride-to-be. Pink balloons floating from the chandeliers contained verses directing Miss Selders to the gifts which were hidden about the rooms and yard. Later refreshments were served at tables centered with pink rose buds. Mrs. Elwyn Bugbee and Miss Lucille Bugbee assisted the hostess. The honored guest's table was centered with a large bride's cake baked by Mrs. William Taylor of Adrian.

The guests were Mrs. John Selders, Betty's mother, her sisters, Delores and Marilyn of Tecumseh, Miss Stella Johns, Mrs. Donald Faust and children Donald Lee and Elaine Ann of Adrian, Mrs. Roger Van Valkenburg of Fairfield, Mrs. Gordon Berry of Blissfield, Miss Erma Hollowell of Addison, Mrs. Elwyn Bugbee of Macon, Marian and Doris Aebersold, Muriel Ives, Mary Lou Boyd, Mrs. Robert Bryan, Kathleen and Pauline Powell and Helen Russell of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Selders of Tecumseh announce that the marriage of their daughter Betty, to Andrew Johns, of Adrian, will take place at 4 o'clock, June 30, in the Brotherhood Tabernacle at Adrian.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

CAMPBELL NOW HEAD OF ROTARY

SUCCEEDS KARL M. SCHNEIDER AT MEETING TUESDAY; NAMES COMMITTEES

Ernest M. Campbell on Tuesday succeeded Karl M. Schneider as president of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, and other officers who were elected with Mr. Campbell also took their offices. The installation service followed the club's regular noon-day luncheon meeting, Tuesday at the Boston Cafe.

The club's new officers besides Mr. Campbell are: Mr. Schneider, vice president, Wade L. Jones, secretary, and Lester C. Rogers, treasurer. The board of directors is made up of Mr. Campbell, Mr. Schneider, B. B. TurnBull, P. G. Heidenreich, John Larsen, Dr. Wm. Britton, Henry Smith, William Bruce and Del Burleson.

The committees named by the new president are as follows: Aims and objects, Campbell, Mr. Jones, Mr. Larsen, Rev. Edward Green, Mr. Smith and C. O. Butler; club service, L. Larsen, Dr. Britton and Mr. Rogers; vocational: the Rev. Mr. Green, Glenn Williams and Leo Essex; international: Frank Smith, D. J. Carson and P. C. Satterthwaite; community: Mr. Butler, Louis Schneider and Ernest Brandt; classification: Mr. Smith, Bert Oosterhout and Mr. Heidenreich; sergeant-at-arms: Mr. Britton and Clarence Gilman; song leader: William Berkhof and H. H. Hanna; community planning: Karl Schneider, Mr. TurnBull and Earl Wickwire; membership: Guy E. Belding, Ralph Oliver and John R. Thompson; programs and information: William Bruce, Mr. Berkhof and Mr. Green; boys work: Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, J. Larsen and M. L. Dannells; fellowship and attendance: Dr. F. G. Hodge, Harold Anderson and Mr. Gillman; publicity: Mr. Hanna, Mr. Jones and D. F. Wright; crippled children: B. J. Pulver, C. M. Brown and E. E. Berry; rural-urban: Mr. Burleson, Fay Whelan and Mr. Satterthwaite.

Mr. Schneider, in a brief exaugural talk, expressed his appreciation to members of the club for their cooperation during the year just past, and for the civic interest in the organization that brought 10 new members into the club during his administration. He also expressed his thanks to Mr. Green, who was the district governor's representative in the organization of a new Rotary club at Clinton, sponsored by Tecumseh Rotarians.

"There is hardly a member of the club," Mr. Schneider said, "to whom I do not feel indebted for some outstanding accomplishment during the year. I could mention names, but I might overlook some of them. I sincerely thank you for all this help, and I trust that you will do an even better job for Rotary and President Ernie during the year that is before us."

Mr. Schneider had a distinct honor during his administration, the formation of the new Clinton club. This is one of the most sought-for honors by any club or its president. Clinton is the only club ever sponsored by the Tecumseh group.

The program was in charge of Mr. Butler, local Ford dealer, and included several vocal and instrumental numbers by the Mercury Rangers, from the Ford Touring Salon, showing in Adrian on Monday and Tuesday. The Rangers, with Bill Hurley, of radio fame, are excellent entertainers and were cheered repeatedly by the club members.

The touring salon attracted several thousands of people to the Adrian fairgrounds on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Heavy Traffic Expected Over Week End Holiday

Tomorrow, July 4th, will be observed as a holiday in Tecumseh and its trading area, and for the most part stores, offices and other places of business will be closed throughout the day.

Many residents are planning week end vacations, because the holiday falls on Thursday, and from lake resorts comes a report that cottages are filled, and the demand for fishing boats is at a premium. The Irish Hills district today was beginning to feel the effects of the approaching holiday, motor traffic on US-112 being exceptionally heavy.

State police warned motorists against speed and the dangerous operation of cars on trunk line highways, in an effort to reduce the accident toll, and at the sheriff's office it was said that special deputies will patrol all highways over the week end in an effort to "hold down" speed and reckless driving.

POULTRY FARMS OPENS JULY 5TH

WILL CREATE NEW MARKET FOR POULTRY FARMERS IN TECUMSEH TRADING AREA

The Hayden Poultry Farms, owners of Tecumseh's new egg-grading station, will be in operation next Friday morning at the Hayden Mills property, South Pearl Street, A. B. Horton, proprietor, formerly managed a large poultry farm in Missouri.

The purpose of the Hayden Farms, according to its manager, is to establish a federal-state egg grading station here, and to develop a merket for a better grade of eggs in Detroit. This will enable farmers to receive a higher price for quality eggs.

Mr. Horton also plans to establish a poultry processing unit at the plant, buying poultry direct from the farmer, grading and fattening it and preparing it for a higher market. Poultry dressed here will be semi-scalded and waxed under government supervision.

The new plant, when it is in full operation, will employ from 10 to 15 people, mostly women, and is expected to bring hundreds of farmers to the local market. By January 1, it is expected that the plant will "run" from 1,000 to 1,500 broilers, and from 1,000 to 2,000 heavy hens a week. The plant also will do custom dressing of birds, for the trade.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING JULY 8

ELECTORS WILL NAME BOARD MEMBER, APPROVE BUDGET, HEAR OF ATHLETIC PARK

The annual meeting of the Tecumseh School District Number Seven will be held on Monday evening, July 8, in the auditorium of the high school. The session will be called to order at 7:30 p. m., by Perry C. Satterthwaite, president of the board.

The term of only one member of the board, that of Ned Baldwin, expires with the approaching election and the voters will be asked to choose Mr. Baldwin's successor. They also will hear the report of Superintendent W. L. Berkhof, covering the activities of the school year just completed, and or his plans for the year 1940-41. The budget for the new year will be submitted for approval, and a proposal to sell any or all of the buildings on the recently acquired athletic park site will be placed before the voters.

The board of education, with the approval of the voters, desires to authorize a WPA project at the athletic park, looking forward to an athletic field suitable for all out-of-door sports. The project calls for an expenditure of approximately $26,000, of which Tecumseh's share would be less than $6,000. The program would be carried out over a period of several years, depending upon available local money.

To carry the program to a successful conclusion, it is contended by some members of the board that a house now on the park site should be disposed of to permit a larger field. It is this proposal, as well as the WPA program, that will be explained at the annual meeting and upon which the voters will be asked to act.

GARAGE BURNS

The Tecumseh fire department was called at 2 o'clock Friday morning to the Wm. Hendershott farm, about four miles north-east of Tecumseh, when fire was discovered in their garage on the north side of the road. An automobile as well as the garage were destroyed, but there were no other buildings damaged. The fire was discovered by Mrs. John Murphy, a near-by neighbor, who notified Mr. Hendershott at once. The cause of the fire is unknown and the loss is not esimated.

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the peope, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

$40,000 BONDS SOLD BY VILLAGE OF CLINTON

Clinton's sewer bond issue, amounting to $40,000, was sold to a Detroit firm on Monday, when the council in that village met in regular session. The council also voted to make the final payment of $1,700 on its contract for the building of a municipal lighting plant. The plant, opened last October, cost Clinton approximately $75,000.

The Clinton council acted to protect the village's milk supply by ordering Dr. H. D. Iler, health officer, to notify all milk dealers selling in Clinton that their cows must be tested for Bang's disease.

NEW BANKING OFFICE READY

UNITED SAVINGS TO MOVE INTO ITS REMODELED OFFICE ON FRIDAY MORNING

One of the most modern banking offices in southern Michigan will be presented to the public on Friday morning, July 5, when the United Savings Bank opens its new and remodeled building at the corner of Chicago boulevard and Evans street.

Completely remodeled following the fire, April 26, that damaged the banking home and the adjoining hotel property, the new offices of the bank are modern in every detail. Except for the massive time vault, undamaged by the flames, and two or three smaller vaults, most of the furniture in the offices is new. The arrangement of the office also has been changed, the lobby has been greatly enlarged, a private office has been included, and the bookkeeping room has been moved to the rear of the building. Coupon booths for the convenience of holders of safety deposit boxes have been included along the east lobby, and the directors room is now in the northwest corner of the building. A new heating and air conditioning plant has been installed in the basement.

The morning following the fire the banking offices were moved to the old Lilley bank building across the street, occupied by the Tecumseh Finance Company. The actual work of moving into the newly remodeled offices will be accomplished tomorrow, it was said, and the bank will be open for business in its new home, Friday.

COUNCIL MEETS

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the village council was held Monday evening and little except routine business came before the trustees for consideration.

The request of Howard Truesdale for a sewer extension on West Cummins street was referred to a committee, and Mrs. Pearl Packard was given permission to operate a popcorn machine on East Chicago boulevard. Current bills were audited and ordered paid and reports of committee chairmen and department heads were heard and placed on file.

HUNT GOES ON FOR FIRE BUG

ROSACRANS STORE TO BE REPAIRED AND REOPENED IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING SALE

State police and local authorities continued their search today for the fire bug who last week was blamed for the $10,000 fire at the Fred Rosacrans & Sons Dry Goods Store, Chicago boulevard, and Evans street, and for four other blazes here within the past three months, doing damage estimated at more than $75,000. The investigation is being directed by Trooper Cook of the Michigan State Police, a deputy state fire marshal, assisted by local police and members of the sheriff's department.

The Rosacrans fire started in a neatly piled lot of kindling wood in the basement of the store. The blaze was discovered soon after 7 o'clock in the morning by Henry Van Duzer, when he saw smoke coming from a window. Firemen brought the flames under control in about one hour, but not until the stock had been damaged by fire, smoke and water.

At the Rosacrans store, it was announced today that all of the stock would be sold at a fire sale, beginning Friday and continuing for about eight days. The store will then be completely repaired and redecorated, and will be opened for business immediately thereafter with a new stock, Leon F. Rosacrans, the owner, declared.

Officers are working on the theory that entrance to the Rosacrans store was gained by the "bug" by forcing open the east door of the store, secured by a night lock. The broken lock was discovered by firemen soon after their arrival.

State police are of the opinion that the "bug" who fired the Rosacrans store also is responsible for the Chisetain Hotel-United Savings bank fire, April 26, on the corner north of the Rosacrans store. The loss in this fire amounted to about $40,000. They also believe that the same person set fire to the McCoy-Braun buildings on East Chicago boulevard, the Witherell hall on West Chicago boulevard, and to the buildings at the Tecumseh Sand & Gravel Company. The hotel-bank and the McCoy-Braun fires started in the basements of the buildings from unknown causes. At Witherell hall the blaze mysteriously started in a coal bin.

EDWARD REEVES FATALLY HURT

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT DE KALB, ILLINOIS

Edward Reeves, aged 29 years, a former resident of Tecumseh, was fatally injured in an automobile accident early Monday morning at DeKalb, Ill.

No particulars were learned, but it appears that Mr. Reeves who worked nights for the Cyclone Fence Co., was either going to or coming from work shortly after midnight and swerved his car to avoid striking a bicycle rider and collided with a truck. He was a graduate of Tecumseh high school in 1931 and had lived here until the past few years. He would have celebrated his birthday July 4.

Survivors are his widow formerly Miss Elsie Eaton of Reading and at one time a member of the Tecumseh high school faculty; a son Charles Edward born in May 1940; his parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reeves of Adrian; a sister Mrs. Raymond Austin of De Kalb, Ill., and his grandmother Mrs. Theodore Reeves of Tecumseh.

The body was brought to the Reading Funeral Home in Reading yesterday and funeral services will be held there today at 2 o'clock.

CLINTON DOCTOR IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Dr. W. B. Hornsby of Clinton, is a patient at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, suffering from injuries received on Monday when his car and another machine driven by Herbert Ayers of Onsted, collided. The accident happened on US-112, about a mile east of Clinton.

X-ray pictures at the hospital show the doctor to be suffering from a shattered right knee cap, a severed tendon, torn ligaments and a broken bone in the same leg. Two stitches were necessary to close a cut in his lip. He also was injured about the chest and other X-rays are to be made.

A FARM INVENTORY

Practically every business in the commercial world takes an inventory at least once a year, many quarterly and not a few every month. Good managers would not think of trying to do business without such a check-up.

Farming is a business, in fact, it is a rather complex business, and an annual inventory is just as valuable, and should be considered just as necessary as it is to any other business, and next fall before the start of another busy farming season, would be a very appropriate time for farmers around Tecumseh to give the subject their attention.

Take stock of your personal and real property, your livestock, hay, grain, implements and equipment of all kind. List the money you may have in bank and all outstanding debts that may be due you. Balance this against whatever obligations you may have, and thus determine exactly where you stand from a financial standpoint before starting on another crop year. Later on you will find a comparison of inventories helpful in deciding which projects are most profitable. Every farm, the same as any other type of business, should be conducted along systematic, regulated methods. It is not only helpful, but is essential if the farm is successfully operated. The farmer who "keeps books" has a much firmer hold on his affairs than the one who does not. And those who make it a rule to take a yearly inventory are less apt to find themselves going into the hole.

SAME OLD STORY

Not long ago a New York City girl wrote a letter to the editor of one of the newspapers there wanting to know why it is that young men and women "can come here from out west or down south and get jobs when girls who have lived all their lives in New York cannot." Someone should tell her what a lot of people already know—that as long as energy, efficiency and ambition count for anything these "out-of-towners" are going to keep right on doing it. Young men and women, ambitious for a larger life and fields that offer wider opportunities will continue to educate and equip themselves on the farms and in the smaller towns, and then when they are fully prepared they will step out and secure the best jobs. And they will continue to make good in those jobs. Writing to the newspapers can't alter that. Farm and small-town boys and girls always have been the backbone of this nation—and they doubtless always will be.

Let others growl about road hogs and parking space, an aviator can just hop off and take the air where there is always plenty of room and no idle chatter.

Week's Best Recipe:

HAM MUFFINS — Sift flour once and measure 1¼ cups. Add 2 tablespoons of baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt and sift together. Measure ½ cup of wheat bran and add it with ¾ of a cup of ground cooked ham to the flour mixture, blending well. Beat two eggs well, add 1 cup milk and 3 tablespoons melted shortening and combine thoroughly. Mix with the flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen all the flour. Fill well-greased muffin tins two-thirds full of the muffin batter and bake in a 400-degree oven for 20 or 25 minutes.

A Fashion Hint:

There are tricks of designing to make waistlines look smaller. One is to shirr a dress from the bustline to the hips where two thick rolls of fabric bulge out unexpectedly. The shirring holds the frock snugly to the figure and gives the illusration of a small waistline. Another way is to introduce a satin panel at the front of a dull crepe frock, draping the fabric profusely through the bodice and goring the waistline section.

Kitchen Kinks:

A few bread crumbs added to scrambled egg improves the flavor and makes an extra serving possible . . . Never add sauce to boiled cabbage, onions or celery until time to serve or mixture will become too watery . . . Put the egg-beater into cold water as soon as you finish using it and it will be much easier to clean.

How To Do Things —

An oilcloth pocket to hold the lids of cooking utensils is made of a piece of oilcloth 18 inches wide. On this sew two oilcloth pockets, one 10 inches deep for large lids and one 6 inches deep for smaller ones. Rough edges are bound with pretty contrasting tape. Tacked on a cupboard door, lids are always handy, and also attractive when the door happens to be left open.

The Family Doctor —

In treating cuts and scratches, first saturate a piece of cotton with iodine and apply. Do not try to clean the wound. Place a pad of sterile gauze carefully over wound thick enough to absorb bleeding, being careful that the hands do not touch any part that comes in contact with the wound. Then wind bandage around to hold pad in place. Should inflammation occur, causing swelling, redness or pain, call a physician immediately.

An Inspiration —

"Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall."

—o—

Something to think about. Ten million people in the United States do not have an approved hospital within 20 miles of their homes. More than one-quarter of a million childbirths take place each year in this country without a physician in attendance.

—o—

It would be grand if during the off years we could get the gents who raise the campaign funds to run elections to raise funds for us to run our homes.

—o—

We suppose there are three things the average woman will always claim the right to lie about, and that is her age, how much her husband makes, and what things cost.

—o—

Motor trucks which carry 200 sheep at a time are to be used in Australia.

Did you know, for a car operating in normal traffic making six stops per mile, the cost is one per cent per mile greater than for a car which does not stop?

—o—

Punishment cannot always be made to fit the crime. Suppose we punished drunken drivers the way they do the pedestrians.

—o—

Believe it or not but about the hardest thing on a reputation is a gossip neighbor.

True Tact

PEOPLE sometimes seem to feel that tact means insincerity and dishonesty, or that it is an unimportant quality. Refusing to cultivate it, they sometimes cause others hurt feelings or embarrassment, which might have been avoided.

A dictionary defines tact as "nice discernment of what is appropriate to do or say in dealing with others; peculiar ability to deal with others without giving offense, or so as to win good will, especially in difficult situations. . . . delicate and sympathetic perception, especially of what is fit, graceful, or considerate under given circumstances." A certain surface politeness may be simply the result of intelligent control and good breeding, but the love that is unfailing and truly graceful and considerate at all times is based on the understanding of God.

Tact is consideration, thoughtfulness of others, and it is closely related to loving-kindness. It appreciates the viewpoint of the other person and tries to apply the Golden Rule (Matthew 7:12), "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Tact may sometimes be shown in simply refusing to do or say something which, if said or done, would accomplish no good. It may be shown in speaking an encouraging word to one who is facing a difficult situation. It may be evidenced in an interesting observation which will turn someone's attention from himself and put him at his ease. It avoids unnecessary controversy, chooses silence rather than unconstructive criticism, encourages the troubled, commends honest effort.

Truly did Jesus' life exemplify the prophet's word (Isaiah 42:1, 3): "Behold my servant, . . . a bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench"! The "bruised reed," that which has already been hurt, even if by its own fault, may sometimes be won back to wisdom and courage, activity and strength, by gentle kindness, where blunt condemnation of the fault would fail. The "smoking flax"—that mental activity which is but dimly alight needs tender and wise encouragement. One of the lovely qualities that alds our work with others is graciousness. Well may we pray in the words of a loved hymn (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 88):

"Gracious Spirit, dwell with me:
I myself would gracious be."

Tact does not tell all it knows; it minds its own business. It is greatly needed in all organization work. The business official or a committee or church worker who uses tactful methods in dealing with others, succeeds in inspiring all to better service than does the inconsiderate or the unwisely outspoken individual, whose intentions may be praiseworthy. People occasionally believe that they are tactless, and that there is nothing they can do about it but regret the fact. There is no reality in crude or brusque or thoughtless words or deeds. . . .

One should claim for himself the ability to express every good and strong and lovely characteristic which reflects God. Sometimes it takes much work and prayer to demonstrate them. It may take patience and persistence and steadfast effort to do so, but as impatience, thoughtlessness, selfishness, and narrowness of vision are replaced by their opposites, man in God's likeness becomes ever clearer.

Every earnest person wants his thinking and acting to bless others. He can always be sure that they will if he is reflecting God. Not to condone evil but not to condemn person; not to think of self but to think of others; not to be afraid, repressed, or self-conscious, but sympathetically alert to the problems of others and quick to help to meet them—earnest desire such as this will be expressed with the graciousness of love.

As we turn to Jesus' life and words for examples, we see what tact he used in illustrating his teaching by parables on subjects with which his particular audience was especially familiar. . . .

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy states (pp. 476, 477): "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick." With such a view of man, one could not be other than loving, gracious, and considerate. And with these qualities in consciousness, one's tender wisdom, thoughtful consideration, and intelligent helpfulness will be inspired by true Christliness. —The Christian Science Monitor.

40TH REUNION

The 40th annual reunion of the Mull-Haas families was held Saturday at the Adrian fair grounds with 51 in attendance. Picnic dinner was followed by games and contests and a program. Committee chairmen chosen were Cleo Hunt, dinner; Arlene Brown, program; Carl Rockwood, Lyle Hunt, Tillie Quigley and Helen Haas, games.

The 1941 reunion will be held at the same place the last Saturday in June.

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSES

A special treat was given to all the children who had been members throughout the term. Great interest was shown and interesting classes were held.

Real knowledge, in its progress, is the forerunner of liberality and enlightened toleration. — Lord Brougham.

Miss Mildred Redlin was the bride's only attendant and Nancy Willnow, sister of the bride, acted as ring bearer. Robert Pierson of Cement City was his brother's best man and ushers were Carl Bisidey and Jess Arnette.

TECUMSEH IS WARNED ABOUT A NEW RACKET

Funeral directors and the public generally were warned this week of a new racketeer that is operating in Michigan.

According to Guy E. Belding, of the Belding Funeral Home, the racket is operated by a man who calls on widows two or three weeks after the death of their husbands, on a pretext of knowing of some insurance carried by the deceased, and which he might be able to collect. He asks the relatives to give him $25 or $30 for his expense in the collection effort, and then disappears.

Police are now on the lookout for the racketeer, and ask to be notified in the event the operation of the scheme is attempted in this section of the state.

EGG GRADING NEWS

OPENING SATURDAY JULY 6

We cordially invite the public to visit our new little plant at the Hayden Flour Mills. We will start grading eggs Friday, but will be in better position to explain the benefits of this station on Saturday.

TECUMSEH REFRIGERATION

Our cooler is equipped with Tecumseh Products Co. refrigeration units. Eggs must be kept cool in order to qualify for top price. Ask to see the most modern little cold storage plant around.

A. B. HORTON IS THE PROPRIETOR

The reason for locating on the Hayden property is because of the accessibility for the farmers. Mr. Horton is the sole owner of the business.

WILL BE VERY CONVENIENT

Farmers can come to the mill with their eggs, and leave them to be candled and graded while having their feed ground or mixed. Parking worries will be eliminated. Drop in and ask all about the advantages of marketing your eggs thru this new station.

QUALITY EGGS WILL BRING PREMIUM PRICE

If your eggs are not good enough to demand a premium, we cannot help you. But if you feed the right kind of egg mash, give your hens the proper care, yard them properly, keep plenty of litter on the floors, and have clean eggs, you'll make money by selling us your eggs.

$300.00 A DAY MORE FOR LENAWEE EGGS

Our guess is that Lenawee produces 1000 cases eggs a day. If we make possible 1c doz. more, that's $300.00 more for Lenawee Poultrymen every 24 hours.

With the development of all manner of mechanical aids for those who work in the kitchen, there is a parallel trend to perfect similar helpers for out-door workers. Typical of this trend is the garden truck pictured above, which facilitates the carrying of baskets, garbage and ash cans, etc. A sliding clamp at the rear of the truck may be adjusted to hold securely the receptacle carried.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, July 3—For a quick cooling off of emotional ardor that the United States should go to war, consider the Michigan national guard.

Six thousand sons of Michigan, who form half of the 32nd Division, are handicapped today by lack of the following modern equipment:

No new anti-tank guns.
No anti-aircraft guns.
No anti-aircraft searchlights.
No Garand automatic rifles.
No mechanization of cavalry.
Only 12 observation planes.

In the light of 1940 Hitler-style warfare, mechanized to the nth degree, the deficiency of the above material is serious. Was has become a battle of machines on land and in air; its tempo has been speeded tremendously until the 16-mile infantry advance of a World war day has been multiplied tenfold by motorized transportation.

Better Trained

And yet in spite of the appalling shortage of vital arms, the Michigan National Guard is "five thousand times" better equipped and beter trained than it was in 1917.

The statement comes from Col. John S. Bersey, the adjutant general of Michigan, whose full-time business is national defense.

It offers an insight into the relative unpreparedness of the Guard in 1917 as compared with 1940 when the German blitzkreig, unorthodox in its methods, changed rules of the military manual.

For example, Michigan is one of 17 states authorized to maintain an aircraft arm. The 107th Observation Squadron is based at the Wayne county airport, Detroit. Its total equipment today is twelve planes. It was only in the past two months that the unit received nine new observation planes each of which carry a pilot, machine-gunner and an observer.

At a time when Germany's output of airplanes is estimated to be 100 a day, the dozen airplanes at Detroit would not begin to meet military needs for 30 seconds. (The federal government maintains a large corps north of Detroit at Selfridge field.

Then there is the new automatic rifle of which the United States has about 75,000 to date. None of these has been distributed to Michigan guardsmen who rely upon the old Springfield rifle, firing five times semi-automatically from cartridge clips.

Horse Cavalry

The World War style of horse cavalry still prevails.

The 106th Cavalry depends on horses which are fine for polo games and which are still reliable for military use after the tanks, airplanes and trucks smash through enemy lines.

This is in contrast with mechanized cavalry units in other states. The cavalry also has two riders for every horse.

The 182nd Field Artillery, a motorized unit, lacks some tractors and trucks. (Michigan's guard is to get 42 trucks this year.)

From coast to coast Michigan is known as the foremost industrial state who technological advance has been the marvel of engineers from nations of the world. This lack of arms is also contrast to the state's ability to manufacture them.

Congress has just authorized a four billion dollar expenditure for armaments of all kinds. The regular army is to be almost doubled in size from 225,000 to 400,000. During the last year the Michigan guard was authorized to recruit 1,000 men, and today the state force is more than 6,000 strong.

Military Viewpoint

If Hitler overwhelms the English isles, military observers are convinced that this country will be forced to embark upon a military training program that would make the Michigan force of 6,000 men look like pygmies.

Instead of 6,000 soldiers, the state would probably have 60,000.

A national guard strength of three million men is being recommended by experts.

Likewise, Michigan's current effort to dig up $50,000 or so to provide some additional armories for expanding guard units will seem like matching for pennies. The explosion overseas has transformed our unemployment problem into a preparedness problem overnight. (Governor Luren D. Dickinson recently acceded to pressure of advisors and requested the Unitee States government to authorize an anti-aircraft unit for Detroit.

The cost of modern military arms is fairly staggering to the imagination. Each of Michigan's new observation planes, for example, cost Uncle Sam about $60,000 each. It takes about $10,000,000 to equip one anti-aircraft regiment! That calls for a lot of blue chips in the form of increased federal taxes.

Educational Orders

It was William Jennings Bryan who declared that a threat of war would find a million Americans springing to arms between sunset and sunrise.

The men might spring, all right, but they wouldn't have the arms.

As recently as two months ago the House at Washington poohpoohed the need for educational orders for making of war needs in industrial plants. The senate budget appropriation of $16,000,000 was cut to $2,000,000.

This aroused the ire of Rep. Albert J. Engle, Michigan. He declared:

"We should have tools, dies and jibs made with which to produce the equipment necessary for equipping an army of one million men. If we have the tools, dies and jibs, we will have saved from three to five months and not be dependent upon taking these workers from ordinary production.

"We then should have enough educational orders in these factories to train sufficient men so that on short notice we can go into production of the required material and equipment."

MIRROR—GAL 2

A Pressing Factor

After the United States entered the last war, the armies of Great Britain and France, together with those of Italy and Russia, engaged the Germans for nearly one year until we could train an army and transport them to France. Even Henry Ford in his remarkable offer to build 1,000 airplanes a day said that it would take him six months.

If we are given the time (and the right leadership) the country can properly equip its regular army and its national guard.

Likewise, Ford can build his 1,000 airplanes every 24 hours.

Factories also can be ready to turn out war goods on a brief notice.

But the big factor, unforseen six months ago, is time. Michigan's national guard is offered as exhibit A. Well trained as it is, the guard is not prepared for war this July 4, 1940.

"Let's Hurry—

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness—through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

BOY SCOUT CAMP OPENS JULY 7TH

EARLY REGISTRATIONS ARE URGED FOR FIVE CAMPING PERIODS AT LAKE

Boy Scouts of Wolverine Council are being urged this week to make early registration for camping periods at Camp Kanesatake on Washington Lake which officially opens July 7. The summer season is divided into five camping periods, with the heaviest registrations in the first three periods.

A new handicraft lodge has been constructed, making a 16x12½ foot addition to the original camp building with a complete length of 48 feet. The lodge is screened and a built in workbench has been constructed around all four walls of the building which is also outfitted with tools and equipment for woodworking and scout handcraft projects.

A gift of $100 from a "friend of scouting" will provide Boy Scouts with a rifle range at camp this summer, the range to be constructed as a part of the scouting program to teach safety in handling firearms. The range will be supervised and Orville Molle of Britton, a member of the camp staff and an expert marksman, will be the instructor for the summer.

The range is 50 feet long with a movable board for targets. By using a system of ropes and pulleys from the shelter in which the shooting is done, it will be possible to pull the target to the shack to change targets, making it unnecessary to step into the range of the rifles. The space between the targets and the shooting station will be fenced off. .22 calibre rifles of the single shot type will be used.

The council will join the National Rifle Association of America and scouts will be able to qualify for marksmanship medals from that organization.

The Golden Text (Rev. 7:12): "Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 24:3-4): "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 4): "Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him; but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mould and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness."

NINETIETH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-ONE | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1940 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY.

BROWN IS NAMED TO SCHOOL BOARD

LOCAL DENTIST SUCCEEDS NED BALDWIN AS MEMBER OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

Dr. Arthur H. Brown, newly elected member of the Tecumseh board of education, was named as president-pro-tem of the board when it met for an organization meeting, Tuesday evening. P. C. Satterthwaite was re-elected as secretary, and Earl Lindsley as treasurer. John Larsen is the fifth member of the board.

Dr. Brown received the unanimous vote of the district for his office, when the school system assembled in annual meeting, Tuesday evening at the high school. His name was placed in nomination by Perry Hayden, after Ned Baldwin, whose term of office had expired, announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Dr. Brown's term of office will continue for three years.

The district, by a vote of 78 to four, gave the board of education permission to sell any or all of the buildings on the site of the new athletic field, immediately to the north of the central school building. This property, acquired by district consent about a year ago at a cost of $6,200, will be improved and made into a modern athletic park.

Prior to the vote, Mr. Larsen explained the board's desires in connection with the proposed improvements, and declared that in order to carry the program to a successful conclusion it is necessary to move the buildings off the site. The board is considering a WPA project at the field, the cost of which amounts to about $26,000. Of this amount, the district's share would be less than $6,000. When or if the project receives federal approval is still problematical, but it is hoped that Washington's O. K. will be given this summer, in time for work in the early fall.

W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, submitted his annual report, one of the most comprehensive ever received by local electors. He explained in detail the effort that is being made locally to maintain the high standard of the schools, and pointed out that the per pupil cost during the year just ended amounted to 41.9 cents daily. He declared that the school is ever on the alert to be of greater assistance, both to the pupils and to the community it serves, and referred briefly to the adult educational program carried on here throughout the winter months under the direction of Ray Morton Hardy of Ypsilanti, and attended by nearly two score of business and professional people.

The report of the secretary and treasurer showed that during the 1939-40 school year the district receipts were $67,999.45 and expenses were $63,771.49, leaving a balance on hand at the close of school in June of $4, 227.96. Included in the receipts was the money derived from the $6,200 athletic park bond issue and $5,000 in borrowed money, it was pointed out. The borrowed funds were repaid.

Miss Edith Ingersoll, librarian, in her annual report, showed that 12,969 books were issued at the library during the year and of that number 58 per cent were fiction. The library has 1,422 borrowers, an increase of 162 over the previous year. There are 10,240 books available to readers, she pointed out.

The board meeting lasted for a little more than a hour and the only issue that required a ballot was on the proposed sale of the athletic park bond issue and $5,000 in borrowed money, it was pointed out. The borrowed funds were repaid.

Two In Hospital Here As Result Of Accident

Mrs. Edith Shaw, 23, and William Prevost, both of Detroit, are patients at Tecumseh hospital for injuries received in an automobile accident about 4 o'clock Thursday morning. The accident happened on US-112 near Wolf Lake when the roadster driven west by Mrs. Shaw sideswiped an east bound truck and trailer and crashed into the car of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dietmeyer of Chicago who were driving east. The Shaw car was overturned.

Mrs. Shaw suffered serious scalp lacerations and face wounds, also possible fractures, but her condition is so critical that no X-rays have as yet been taken. She was unconscious for some time after entering the hospital. Mr. Prevost suffered head injuries but is improving slowly. Mrs. Dietmeyer suffered severe chest injuries and was able to leave the hospital Sunday and return to her home in Chicago. Her husband was uninjured.

NEW PLAYHOUSE IN IRISH HILLS

PROFESSIONAL PLAYERS, ON VACATION, ARE NOTICED SCHEDULE FOR THE SUMMER

The Irish Hills Playhouse, one of the district's newest summer theatres, opened its 1940 season last week Thursday evening with a lively performance of "George and Margaret," Gerald Savory's amusing comedy of English domestic life.

The playhouse, located at Twin Towers on US-112, is a reconditioned dance hall and shows the results of a great deal of hard work by this enterprising group of actors. Unlike many similar theatres, the acoustics are exceptionally good.

"George and Margaret" ran through Sunday, July 7, with nightly performances at 8:30, and a Sunday matinee at 2:30.

The next production will be the recent Broadway success, "On Borrowed Time," which will run from July 11-14 inclusive.

The playhouse is a new co-operative venture toward a permanent summer theatre.

Among the plays already selected are "The Romantic Age," by A. A. Milne. "Stranger at Home" by Charles Devine and "Pygmalion and Galatea" by Gilbert. In all, nine plays will be presented.

Miss Florence Chambers of Oswego Normal College, New York State, will direct the first plays of the theatre and Blake Scott, director of Eva LaGallien's "Peter Pan," will come to direct the last plays after his season with the Cincinnati Playhouse is closed.

Composed of professional people who are members of the little theatre and stock companies in the winter, the players will run the project on a non-profit basis with royalties and expenses for scenery being paid from ticket receipts. Members of the company pay their own living expenses and construct all scenery used for the plays.

All have had professional experience with such groups as the Cleveland Playhouse, the Pasadena Playhouse, the Clare Tree Major Children's Broadcast, Summer Theatre and the Minneapolis Stock Company.

Membership tickets are now being sold by the Young Business Women's Club of Jackson. The Jackson club has arranged to support the playhouse as a summer project.

STATE TOURISTS SPEND MILLIONS

BUSINESS IN 1940 WILL AMOUNT TO OVER $411,000,000 REPORT SHOWS

LANSING, July 11—A new analysis of tourist habits and desires was made available this week by the state highway department in replies to questionnaires sent to out-of-state tourists.

Tabulations of 739 replies to 3,800 questionnaires mailed out indicate that Michigan's tourist business for 1940 will total $411,950,000. The total number of persons to enter Michigan during the season will be 11,770,000. These figures are based on reports of the American Automobile Association, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the tourist associations as adjusted by results of the questionnaire.

The average tourist will be one of a party of four. He will spend 15½ days in Michigan and drive a total of 1,154 miles. He and the other members of his party will spend a total between them of $140 of which $26.60 will go for lodging and $16.80 for gasoline.

Of the total number replying to the questionnaires, 22 per cent made their first trip to Michigan last year while 78 per cent were on a return trip.

Highways were rated as the number one tourist attraction in Michigan by 31.4 per cent of the tourists while the Great Lakes were rated first by 25 per cent and inland lakes or streams by 22.5 per cent. Swimming and boating were listed as number one diversions by 44 per cent closely followed by fishing with 32.3 per cent. Social entertainment, hunting, and winter sports were given lower ratings.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said that the questionnaire was mailed to a cross-section of persons stopping at the department's tourist information lodges on US-21 at New Buffalo and on US-41 at Menominee.

"The purpose of this questionnaire is to provide information on which the department can base future highway programs for tourist benefit," the commissioner said. "It will also provide an indication of tourist trends that has never been available before.

"It is especially significant that highways are listed as a number one attraction for tourists and that sports connected with water facilities are listed as number one diversions. This is an indication that the program of shore road development in Michigan is in the right direction so far as tourist promotion is concerned."

Of the total amounts to be spent by out-of-state tourists $78,270,000 will go for lodging, $49,434,000 for gasoline, $65,120,000 for food, $131,824,000 to retail merchants, and $87,302,000 will be spent for entertainment and miscellaneous items.

In connection with these expenditures, the state of Michigan will benefit by $7,416,000 in gasoline tax collections and $8,527,000 in sales tax collections.

County Committee Named On Subversive Activities

Fred P. Wood, president of the Simplex Paper Corporation of Adrian, was elected chairman of a citizens' committee of Lenawee county at a meeting of representatives from county towns and villages in the Lenawee hotel Tuesday evening.

The group, which will check on subversive activities in the county, also elected Joseph T. Carpenter of Blissfield, as vice chairman, A. D. Billings of Adrian, secretary, and Perrin Lautzenheiser of Hudson treasurer.

Roy McPhail, president of the Adrian Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting until after the election.

The officers of the organization will meet next week to determine a name for the committee and to draft a program of objectives. Their proposals will be submitted to men who attended last night's meeting and to others who may be invited to serve on the committee later.

According to plans the committee will register reports of subversive activities in the county with proper governmental agencies.

The election of officers was held after the group agreed that there is a need for such a committee.

Those who attended the meeting represented both business and professional vocations and several sections of the county.

HOME FROM TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy returned the last of the week from an extended trip from Andover, N. Y., where they visited his son H. D. Hardy and family to El Paso, Texas, where they visited another son Captain C. W. Hardy. They also visited the Indian ruins in Mexico and with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. CLINTON BUYS ATHLETIC PARK

ALSO VOTES 10 PER CENT RAISE TO TEACHERS AT ANNUAL SCHOOL MEET

CLINTON, July 11—It will cost approximately $1,700 more to operate the schools here during the coming year, A. J. C. Foreman, president of the board of education, declared voters at the annual school meeting held, Monday evening. The increase, he said, is due to a 10 per cent raise in teachers' salaries. The anticipated tax rate will be $10.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

School costs in Clinton last year, according to F. K. Allen, who read the financial report, amounted to $27,848.67, and the receipts were $26,381.79, leaving a balance on hand of $7,535.12.

L. L. Latham was elected to trustee to succeed Dr. W. B. Hornsby and Dr. Foreman was re-elected.

Acting on the board's recommendation, the voters approved the purchase of about three acres of land from J. T. Clark for $1,500. Previously this land has been rented by the district and used as an athletic park.

Walter Schroeder, new agricultural teacher, outlined the work in his department for the coming year, including a new farm shop course. It was voted to purchase new stoves for the home economics department, and board members were reimbursed for expenses while in attendance at necessary educational meetings.

The salary of the board's secretary was increased from $125 to $135 a year, and the treasurer's from $75 to $80.

LIGHTNING HITS BLISSFIELD BARN

ADRIAN BOY STUNNED BY LIGTHNING; COUNTY SWEPT BY STORM ON MONDAY

An Adrian boy was stunned by lightning, a Blissfield barn was destroyed by fire, and trees and crops were badly damaged in some sections of the county, Monday evening, during one of the most severe wind, rain, hail and electrical storms of the summer.

Ralph Webster, 11, of Adrian, was the youth stunned by the lightning that struck a tree near his home on Palmer avenue. The child was not injured, although he was knocked to the floor of the porch on which he was standing.

A small barn on the Harry Reed farm, about six miles southwest of Blissfield, was destroyed by fire about 10:30 Monday night, after it had been hit by lightning. All of the stock in the barn was removed to safety and a larger barn, within 10 feet of the razed building, was saved. The loss was estimated at $650, covered by insurance.

Lightning also struck a pole at Birdsall, carrying a 23,000 volt high line feeder to Tecumseh, owned by Consumers Power Company. Two of the same company's transformers were damaged by lightning, in Adrian.

At Clinton, the storm was accompanied by high wind and trees and crops in that vicinity were damaged. Hail also was reported at both Clinton and Macon, and electrical service was disrupted until about 11 o'clock.

On the lakes fishermen reported that it was most impossible to handle small craft on the lakes because of the wind. Several fishermen beached their boats on the nearest shore and waited until the storm had spent its energy.

The storm in Tecumseh did little or no damage, it was said. Once or twice there was a slight interruption of electrical current, but these lasted only a matter of seconds.

John McColl Is Named Beekeepers President

John McColl of Tecumseh was elected president, Guy Hoover of Macon, vice president and John Keller of Fairfield, secretary and treasurer of the Lenawee County Beekeepers Association recently organized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barnes in Fairfield.

The purposes of the association are to furnish a medium for exchanging views on the problems of the industry, study new methods of bee culture and marketing of honey and to work for the general welfare of the business, including state inspection of bees for diseases and an appropriation by the board of supervisors to further this inspection.

The state furnishes funds for inspection in each county equal to the sum received from registration fees and the appropriation made by the county.

Lenawee is one of the most important honey producing counties in Michigan.

CLINTON MILLS RUN DAY-NIGHT

FACTORY IS UNUSUALLY BUSY, ACCORDING TO C. L. KIMBALL, SECRETARY

The Clinton Woolen Mills, established in 1864 and one of the oldest industries of its kind in the middle-west, is enjoying a prosperous business, operating on a 24-hour schedule, according to C. L. Kimball, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Kimball was the guest speaker at the regular noon-day meeting of the Rotary club here, Tuesday at the Boston Cafe.

The Clinton mill, according to the speaker, is one of the five mills in the United States from which the government purchases woolen materials dyed with indigo. The shop now has a 60,000-yard government order, and is working almost full time on automotive upholstering cloth.

Mr. Kimball told the club that the factory had anticipated a brief let-up in business during the summer, due to the changing of models in the automotive field. However, he said, the 1939-40 season had extended a month longer than usual, and the 1940-41 season was opening a month earlier, doing away with the "slack spell." Housing in Clinton, he said, is a problem, and new homes for rental purposes are needed. He declared that his company could employ more help if it were possible to find houses in which families might live.

Tuesday's meeting was the first that the club's new president, E. M. Campbell, has presided. The program was in charge of William Bruce, who read a letter from his sister, in England. Two of Mr. Bruce's brothers are now in the English services, and the sister's letter declared that beyond doubt, "England would win the war."

HOSPITAL BOARD READY TO BUILD

BONDS ARE SOLD TO TOLEDO FIRM; ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION TO START SOON

Actual construction work on the $25,000 addition to Tecumseh Hospital will begin within another ten days, and will be completed on schedule, sometime in October, Ray W. Herrick, president of the board of that institution declared today.

Sale of the bonds, guaranteeing the hospital addition, was completed by the village council on Monday evening, the $25,000 issue going to a Toledo concern. The bonds carry an interest rate of 2¼ per cent, and the Toledo house paid a premium of $137 on the issue. The bonds mature at the rate of $1,000 annually.

Next week, the hospital board is preparing to ask for bids from contractors for the hospital construction, and Mr. Herrick declared that the work would be awarded to the lowest bidder, immediately. He said that he hoped that work might begin within 10 days, and he said that it was the board's intent to have the addition open for public inspection about October 1.

The new hospital addition nearly doubles the size of the present plant, provides for more private rooms, a new delivery ward and enlarged wards for both men and women. The kitchen, now in the basement of the building, will be moved to the first floor, and a new nurses' dining room is included in the plan.

The hospital, originally intended to accomodate about 18 or 20 patients, has been crowded beyond its capacity for many months, and at times it has been necessary to erect beds in the corridors to care for emergency cases. Over the Fourth of July holiday nearly 30 patients were reported, and yesterday there were 24 in the hospital.

"We need the addition badly," Mr. Herrick said in discussing the improvement. "We have, several times, turned patients away because we did not have room for them, and we have been forced to turn Emma, to Joseph Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Russell of Tecumseh, which occurred Saturday, June 15, at Bryan, O. Mrs. Russell, who has taught in Detroit schools for several years, completed the school year June 28 and returned to the Lowe Lodge at Wamplers Lake where they will spend the summer.

Several showers have been given for the newlyweds including a turkey dinner June 17, by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider; Sunday June 23, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. NO MONEY, THEN WHAT?

There are many priceless things beyond the reach of money. A symphony cannot be purchased. A great essay, a poem, a song, a literary heart appeal cannot be bought. Honesty and trustworthiness are not products of the market-place. Trust in God and faith in fellowman cannot be bought. If we do not have all that we want, we can develop a contentment so that we shall want what we have.

Men who are honest, who will not buy or sell their vote, are wanted. Men who can be trusted, whose word is as good as their note, are wanted. The quality of being agreeable and courteous, good-natured and polite — money cannot buy any of these requisites for a happy, useful, indispensable way of living.

The capacity to do, the willingness to work, the fondness for service are all treasures of the mind and spirit. They are not purchasable with money, and he is rich who knows that he loses only what he keeps and keeps only what he gives away. The real benefactor of mankind always counts his store in what is spent, not in what is saved.

MORALE

We Americans use the word "morale" without clear definition of it meaning. For instance, we speak of the morale of nations embroiled in war.

So using the word, we refer to confidence, courage, and determination. But there is another and more important element in the meaning of the word—sense and responsibility, of which we lose sight.

And in our own case during the years of depression we lacked a sense of responsibility to our country and to ourselves which compelled our government to assume responsibilities it never should have assumed in the first place.

Individually, we should have discharged these responsibilities and avoided the confusion of ideas of government that now exists.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, July 11 — "The 1940 issues have already been handmade for us.

"We do not intend to personally criticize Governor Dickinson. It will be a clean campaign, based on important public issues."

These words from G. Donald Kennedy, business manager of the state highway department and deputy highway commissioner, give a clue to the policy which Murray D. Van Wagoner will pursue if he wins the Democratic nomination for governor.

As Mr. Kennedy is campaign manager for Van Wagoner, the reference to Michigan's octogenarian executive, nationally known or his religious utterances and condemnation of "high life," may be considered significant.

It could be an intimation that the Van Wagoner forces anticipate the Republican nomination of Dickinson for governor. Also within the range of probability is an interpretation that Van Wagoner will avoid the thin ice of a personal, frontal attack on Mr. Dickinson lest it be resented by temperance-loving, church-going citizens.

From an interview with the Democratic vote-getter, however, we did get a definite impression that Van Wagoner would have something to say about "boss control" in the Republican party. That would be meant for the Grand Rapids leader, Frank McKay, whose selection as Republican national committeeman from Michigan has placed him out in the open, either for praise or condemnation.

Survey Of Issues —

With exacting care, Messrs. Van Wagoner and Kennedy have been making a survey of 1940, issues, months in advance of their leader's announcement of candidacy.

In the first phase of the campaign, Van Wagoner and Kennedy traveled throughout the state to ascertain the views of local politicos. Thus, possible issues have been determined on the basis of county recommendations.

"A primary contest would be a healthy thing for the Democratic party this year," said Mr. Kennedy. "It would concentrate attention on the candidates. And it might keep Democrats from going over the party fence to participate in the Republican's primary."

National Defense

Just as Van Wagoner has capitalized on the dollars-and-cents benefit to Michigan in having a Democratic highway commissioner at Lansing while a Democratic president was at Washington, so he is expected to stress the value of a Democratic governor during these days of national defense preparations.

"Our need in handling national defense is to be in sympathy with the national administration in order that Michigan may receive full advantage of actions taken by a strong federal government," said Kennedy.

"It is pathetic what we have not done in other fields—such as agriculture. National-state activity with regard to social welfare, resettlement, rehabilitation work, civilian conservation camps and national parks also lie within the possibility of greater benefits to Michigan.

"In the field of national defense, the state program should be one of backing up the federal defense program both with egard to industrial production and use of the national guard."

State Finances —

In the Van Wagoner declaration of candidacy are found some other "straws in the wind" as to his conception of issues for the fall campaign.

"Crippled state finances and muddled state purchasing must be among the first evils tackled by the next governor of Michigan," he said, referring to a state deficit of $31,500,000.

Warning that the national defense program would "necessarily" impose additional federal taxes, the highway comissioner declared: "We must indulge in Michigan a wise and thrifty state government. Home-spun economy and rigid business management must prevail."

Rather than pre-suppose what the public is thinking, the Van Wagoner formula is to "go directly to them (the people) for opinions; giving them a chance to be heard — and heeding what they say."

With forthright frankness he is expected to condemn administrative practices without condemning Governor Dickinson. At least, such is his intention in mid-July.

National Issues

National issues — such as the administration's unofficial intervention in the European war — are to play a major role in Michigan's ballot drama.

"Michigan faces other issues which have a deeper significance even than political trends," said Van Wagoner at a Pontiac homecoming. "A war is threatening our American democracies. Our nation faces a critical period. The American people have watched and approved President Roosevelt's stalwart leadership in meeting the world crisis of the past months and endorse his now proven foresight of the past years in urging more adequate national defense for our country."

This came from a man who has never worshipped blindly at the altar of F.D.R. as has Frank Murphy. Van Wagoner has been more of a middle-of-the-road Democrat than an avowed New Dealer. His thinking has been that of a practical engineer; not a social planner.

This open endorsement of Roosevelt is another indirect result of the current war crisis. It reflects the lengthening shadows of national issues over Michigan's state election in November.

Editor's Note: The Michigan Mirror, a non-partisan state news letter, presented the Republican viewpoint in a series of interviews two months ago with James Thompson, then chairman of Republican State Central committee.

Obituary

Mrs Henry Karcher

Mrs Anna G. Herold Karcher was born in Germany, May 24, 1859. She came to this country in 1881 and was married the same year to Henry Karcher. This marriage was blest with three children.

After a brief illness she passed away Friday morning, June 28, 1940, at the age of 81 years, one month and four days. She is survived by her husband Henry Karcher, one son Theodore of Los Angeles, Calif., and two daughters, Mrs Emma Bach of Britton and Mrs R. O. Schwede of Detroit, eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

This is the first loss suffered in the Karcher family by death. That is most remarkable.

Mrs Karcher was a simple Christian lady who put her trust and hope in Jesus alone, the one and only Saviour. Asleep in Jesus! Blessed sleep!

The funeral was held June 30 in the home and later at the Immanuel Church on the Ridge, Rev. F. W. Schwede officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

Suggestive of Aladdin's lamp is a newly developed fuel so powerful that a pocket-sized can of it will emit a strong flare and at the same time, supply heat for cooking during an 8-hour period. When the flame is extinguished the compound gives off a smudge which banishes mosquitos and flying insects. Designed for out-door use, the chemically treated compound resembles sawdust in weight and texture. A slightly raised steel plate fits over the container, forming a platform for cooking utensils.

Individual Freedom

FREEDOM BELONGS to the individual, and no system that denies this can possibly win and retain the support of enlightened thinkers. Intelligence vetoes slavery, which always results from obscuring that eternal freedom which is vital and real. Stephen and Paul did not hesitate before adverse popular opinion or misguided human authority when there was an urgent need to voice the truth. In the Christian Science textboook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 224): "Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the Soul-inspired motto, 'Slavery is abolished.' The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love."

It is an old argument of error that tyranny is justified because it works to bring about good for the majority, that it will procure orderliness and peace, and warring factions, fulfill all practical needs, weld into unity elements that appear discordant and erratic. Such a belief, manifesting itself in a form of government which denies individual freedom of thought, speech, and action, may appear for a time to improve material conditions by checking license and other abuses which prey on individual rights. But the core of tyranny is its seeming power to produce a semblance of obedience through fear, instead of through intelligent self-discipline, and the basis upon which it rests cannot be made sound by over-zealous eloquence. Tyranny rejects spiritual values, without which existence is a meaningless dream. Devoid of reality, lacking the divine attributes which ensure the continuity of all right ideas, its pretense to power falls before the law of God.

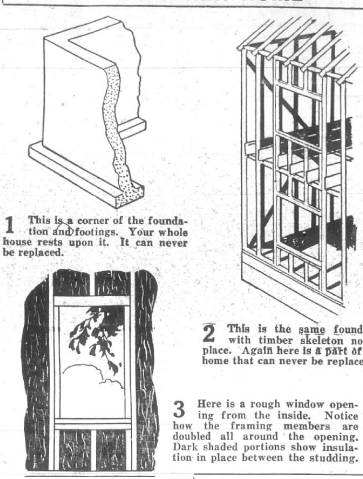
God is omnipotent, omnipresent, omniscient, and omnactive, governing all His children through spiritual law. This divine law can be understood and demonstrated by all, for their mutual good. There is nothing in mortal belief that can intervene between God and His creation, including man made in His likeness, who is wholly good.

Even though this truth may be obscured for a time, it will stand in spite of all efforts of evil to erase it. Man cannot be separated from God, the cause of his being, the source of all real existence. Soon or late, every mortal will awake from the dream of separation from God, good, to hear and respond to the call of Love. Then will Principle and its reflection be understood as existing in everlasting harmony; and Love's likeness will be seen as eternally loving. Truth will "sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place" (Isaiah 28:17). . . .

Let us, therefore, seek and maintain the true sense of government that manifests the unalterable relationship existing between God and man; and let us not violate it by interposing a command to worship the idols of human will. Individuals must be free to offer their sole allegiance to God. The dawn of His day appears; the "bright and morning star" (Revelation 22:16) is seen as the coming of the Christ, Truth. The effect of this spiritual dawning on human thought, bringing hope and healing to men, is shown in the life and works of Christ Jesus. . . .

Right thinking individuals are united in the prayerful effort to see true freedom and law as divine attributes, and to claim their benefits for all. Mankind must gain a fuller understanding of the First Commandment, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:3), for obedience to it brings about the destruction of all evil. Then, like John the Revelator, all the people shall hear "a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God." —The Christian Science Monitor

DON'T NEGLECT FUNDAMENTALS IN YOUR NEW HOME



1 This is a corner of the foundation and footings. Your whole house rests upon it. It can never be replaced.

2 This is the same foundation with timber skeleton now in place. Again here is a part of your home that can never be replaced.

Glitter of Gadgets Often Distracts Builder From Quality Where It's Needed Most

Are you building a house for the first time? Then chances are you are in kind of a daze. There are so many things to decide, so many things to buy, so many more things you want and can't buy because there is just so much money. Now there's nothing less glamorous than the concrete footings and foundation. One doesn't show them off to one's friends, but if you skimp on either, you'll be busy for years to come trying to cover up cracked walls that all your friends will see.

Don't Skimp On Framework

Likewise the timber skeleton or frame of your house is going to be all covered up, but if you skimp on it you'll have sagging floors that squeak at every step.

And how about those great big holes in the wall, the rough window openings. You can buy windows and window frames to fill these holes pretty cheap. And you'll pay for them for years to come in heat lost, drafty floors and wet walls. Or, you can buy carefully designed, precision built and factory fitted windows and window frames complete with weatherstrip that will be a joy and a comfort every year that you live in your house. Yes, and you'll find that the extra cost was money well spent because of heat bills, repair bills and redecorating bills saved.

Can't Replace Windows

Good windows are a permanent part of your walls. They protect your investment in insulation and quality construction. Any home without weathertight windows is only one-half insulated. So when you build, get down to fundamentals. Always remember—you can add the gadgets any time, but you can't replace footings or timbers or windows. They've got to be good right from the start.

The filter is of that metal with a stainless steel spring. No. 3 illustrates a combined broiler, cooker and toaster designed to operate right at the table. "Smoking dollar cigars!
Must have started advertising in The Herald"

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consider a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness—through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

Learn To Fly---Free

Butler Will Tell You How--

The FLYING LEAGUE OF AMERICA has just been organized throughout the State of Michigan to enable anyone between the ages of 16 and 65 to LEARN TO FLY, FREE, under the guidance of licensed pilots at the principal air ports throughout the State of Michigan.

Due to the Preparedness Program now in effect throughout the United States, there are thousands who naturally want to learn to fly airplanes. The Flying League of America has been established for this purpose and it is being sponsored by various organizations in the State of Michigan, and the exclusive rights have been obtained for Hi-Speed Stations and dealers and no other organizations engaged in the sale of gas, oil, or tires can participate.

What is the Flying League?

The Flying League of America is a non-profit organization sponsored by leading industrialists and merchants to provide the opportunity for free flying lessons. It is a patriotic and practical means of helping to make Michigan the No. 1 aviation state in America. The goal — 50,000 aviation enthusiasts with actual "in the air" flying experience within the next 12 months.

The official blue and black Flying League Stamps are given free with every purchase by the cooperating merchants. These Flying League Stamps provide the means of obtaining FREE actual "in the air" flying lessons.

Who Can Fly?---Who Gives the Lessons?

Everyone, man or woman, young or old, from 16 to 65, can learn to fly with Flying League Stamps. Anyone who can drive a car can learn to fly. Furthermore, there is no limit to the number of lessons anyone can have. Every official Flying League Stamp Book when filled with official League stamps entitles the holder to a lesson. Friends may help to save the stamps.

Flying League flying lessons providing individual "in the air" instruction, are given in approved planes by licensed pilot instructors. Through special arrangements with the Flying League of America, these sessons are available at all licensed airports in Michigan.

SNODGRASS IS FREE ON PAROLE

WAS INNOCENT OF CHARGES DESPITE COURT CONVICTION, STATE POLICE SAY

TOLEDO, O., July 18— If one should read in fiction the story which was unfolded last week Friday to Gov. John W. Bricker, he probably would say that it couldn't happen in real life.

But it did happen to Jore Snodgrass, former Toledo drugstore proprietor, now employed as a salesman for a Toledo oil company, and it was told to Governor Bricker to enlist his aid in obtaining a pardon for Mr. Snodgrass from Gov. Luren Dickinson of Michigan.

Had it not been for the fact that Mr. Snodgrass owned a drugstore at Monroe and Bancroft Streets a number of years ago—a fact that had nothing to do with the crime with which he was strangely convicted—he probably never would have been connected with the case and would have pursued his life as a salesman for the company by which he again is employed.

In the calm security of his former home in DeVeaux Park early last January he received a call from a neighbor who happened to be a Toledo city detective, which started a chain of amazing circumstances leading to his conviction and sentence to the Michigan Penitentiary for a crime of which even the Michigan authorities now are convinced he could not have been guilty.

Since that passed a number of spurious checks in southern Michigan towns, and the complaint was received by the Toledo Police Department. Among other things, the man said that he had been employed in the drugstore at Bancroft and Monroe.

The Toledo city detective, knowing that Mr. Snodgrass formerly had owned the store, called on his neighbor in a routine way to ask whether he knew anything of the man. Mr. Snodgrass replied he did not, The detective was accompanied by a Blissfield resident, one of the complainants in the case.

Mr. Snodgrass, said that he noticed the Blissfield man eyeing him strangely. Two days later detective returned, accompanied by a brother of the first visitor, who also studied Snodgrass closely, and said something aside to the detective.

The detective then astonished Mr. Snodgrass by turning to him and saying: "They say you are the man."

It was a case of mistaken identity, but later eight different persons who had been victimized by the man whom Mr. Snodgrass evidently resembled, positively identified Mr. Snodgrass in court.

At the detective's suggestion Mr. Snodgrass went voluntarily to Blissfield to cooperate with the Michigan state police, thinking that the strange situation would be readily cleared up, but the several witnesses were sure he was the man, and he was arrested Feb. 13 and placed in jail. Later he was sentenced to three to 14 years in the Michigan state prison at Jackson, where he was admitted May 25.

A letter from Gerald F. Bush, member of the Michigan parole board, to the refining company recommending Mr. Snodgrass' reemployment prior to his release on parole May 7 of this year, was submitted to Governor Bricker, says:

"Subsequent to Mr. Snodgrass' arrest and conviction and sentence more checks, seemingly of identical nature, came to the attention of the authorities. These continued to be laid down even though Mr. Snodgrass was in prison. Further investigation on the part of the state police led them to the definite conclusion that in the arrest and conviction of Mr. Snodgrass there had occurred a serious miscarriage of justice. Another is really guilty of the offence for which Mr. Snodgrass has been serving time.

"On this representation being made to us by the Michigan state police we have undertaken the immediate release of Mr. Snodgrass. The state police have satisfied us that Snodgrass was not and could not have been the man who passed the bogus checks."

Sidelights of the Democratic Convention at Chicago

In the Stevens Hotel, H e a d quarters of the National Democratic Convention: Room clerk vainly trying to straighten rooms with so many demanding service he looks like a wild man: Bell hops calmly going about their duties, the only same ones in the lobby. Buttons of all kinds making their appearance on the coat lapels of the convention visitors. Senator Tydings of Maryland delegates wearing the biggest ones, about six inches in diameter. Not a happy crowd, everyone seems tired and harassed. Maybe all conventions are that way.

Miller

At the Palmer House, Chicago's Central Headquarters: Here everyone is trying to secure tickets for the convention. People wait two, three, as many as six hours for one ticket, and then maybe turned away. Must have letters and plenty of pull. Its a hand-picked crowd, must be for Roosevelt or you don't get a ticket. Mayor Kelly of Chicago (Kelly-Nash Machine) spent some of the money of Chicago's Taxpayers for a 'Just Roosevelt' pin, and you wear it, or else. From 15 to 30 people waiting in a room meant for about eight. Once in a while a smiling Negress, gets immediate attention, and walks out with a block of 16 tickets. Must be for some Negro Alderman, Man at my left says to nobody in particular, I've been here five hours waiting for one ticket and she walks in and gets 16, and they call this a Democratic Party." Headlines of a Democratic Newspaper on table, 'It's Just F. D. as Democratic Convention meets here,' Headline in Republican paper, 'Discord over F. D. R.' It's all the way you want to read it.

Night clubs, revues, shows and Clip joints jammed at night, Crowds are quiet and unenthusiastic, Most of Ceremonies trying his best to liven up crowd. Cigarette girl explains that out-of-town delegates are not used to such a display of flesh, kind of scares them to death. They will go home and tell about the naughty show they saw in the wicked city of Chicago.

In front of stadium opening day: Never saw so many cops in my life outside of a Police Field Day or a Mack Sennett comedy. Counted 38 in one block on one side of the street. Sidewalks packed with people, either one step a card or circular shoved in your hand. Here is what one said, 'Women constitute one half of the world's population and should they go on strike against child-birth that would be the end of man—therefore an appeasement is in order and it's high time a woman is elected President somewhere in this crazy world of man's making. It would electrify a world and be historic. Nominate and elect Eleanor Roosevelt for President.' Another circular suggests you go to the races and place a few bets and let the bookies pay your convention expenses. O, hum, where have I heard that before?

Inside of stadium, opening day, 12 o'clock noon: Stadium a mass of flags and banners. In one end of hall a small picture of Garner, like other end a large portrait of Roosevelt. On each side of the speakers platform are about 600 reporters with their typewriters. Flashlights of notables are being taken every few minutes. Genial Jim Farley (but not looking genial) opens program promptly on time. Not over 10% of the delegates are in their seats and not many spectators except in the second gallery. Can't understand a word as too much echo. What's the difference, will read it in the newspapers tonight. Mayor Kelly's address mentions third term for the first time of the convention. Not much applause, not enough people there yet, Afternoon program very short, everybody glad. Delegates and alternates looking very important with their ribboned badges on. Outside of stadium a cowboy band plays while eight or ten cowboys and cowgirls in high heels, chaps and gayly colored shirts climb on white horses to start a parade. Real Texans, and they carry the lone star flag together with a huge portrait of Garner. These Texans are a bitter lot. In fact all thru the South is a strong undercurrent against the Third Term. No one seems to want to break out in the open, however.

And now the Delegates: In the first place they feel that Roosevelt is the only man in the Democratic Party that has a chance to win against Willkie. Some have almost a hatred for Roosevelt for putting them on the spot. They say Roosevelt has 'smacked down' anyone who showed promise of being able to carry out his policies and with the power to win

COST OF CARELESSNESS

When it is understood that last year's forest fires burned over an area of 42,000,000 acres and caused a financial loss of $50,000,000, the average Tecumseh citizen can understand the necessity for extreme care when in the woods or fields at this season. Some 2,000,000 persons enjoy those woods during each vacation season. What the ultimate result will be unless there is a decrease in forest fires is a matter for serious consideration, especially when government reports show that nine out of every ten forest fires are caused by human carelessness. That is a terrible indictment of our wastefulness. The dry summer season is at hand, with its increase in fire hazards. Everyone should keep that in mind and use the utmost care in keeping intact the stately green mansions that are our forests.

JUST A HINT

Some years ago a tourist complained to a man who ran a restaurant in a small southern town that he couldn't get service while the waitress danced with local patrons. "Those people come here all the time; I may never see you again," the proprietor replied. And he never did. While there are some business men who argue that the restaurant man was right a majority will doubtless agree that there is much more to be said in favor or treating all customers alike whether they live in one's town or are merely passing through it. The tourist trade has now come to be of great importance to practically every section of this country. And those business places which are profiting most from their trade are those whose purveyors to tourists have learned that impartial courtesy and attention to townspeople and visitors alike pays the largest dividends in the end.

votes. So if the Democrats are going to win the election in November they must vote for Roosevelt. If he should refuse it would be the biggest political bombshell ever exploded, but no one expects him to. The Draft Roosevelt movement originated with Roosevelt, it has fooled no one. The only fear the 3rd termers have is that Farley, Garner and Wheeler will go against Roosevelt after the convention and the greatest kind of pressure is being placed on these men to keep them in line. If they can be kept in their places Roosevelt will win is their belief.

No matter what happens at this convention we are going to have a rip roaring time until election in November. My advice to you is to buy a pound of cotton and start putting it in your ears, you will need it these next few months.

Pharmacist's License Needed To Sell Aspirin

MONROE, Mich., July 15 — A general store cannot legally sell aspirin and epsom salts without a pharmacist's license, a jury of six men decided last week Wednesday in municipal court here.

The Packers' Outlet grocery and meat market was defendant in a suit brought by the state for illegal sale of drugs. In an all-day court session testimony was given by an inspector for the state board of pharmacy, a chemist of the state department of agriculture, and H. H. Worm, store manager. The jury reached its decision in 20 minutes.

Judge George S. Wright fined the company $10 and costs of $16.55. Since the defense attorney indicated an appeal might be considered after a conference with the company's officials in Detroit, the judge allowed the company until Saturday to pay or appeal. The company paid the fine and costs last Friday.

A directly contradictory court decision, permitting the sale of aspirin without a pharmacist's license, was given the company in Detroit about a year ago, its attorneys say.

The complaint was made by a state drug inspector under a state law prohibiting the sale of aspirin and similar drugs by stores that do not have a pharmacist's license. The law has been indifferently enforced for a number of years, aspirin being sold commonly at filling stations, restaurants and cigar counters.

WM. HENRY INJURED

ADRIAN — William Henry, a passenger in a car driven by William Hagadorn, all of Tecumseh, was cut about the face Sunday evening when the Hagadorn car collided with one driven by A. E. Miller, here. He was treated at Bixby hospital and released. Police gave Miller a summons for failing to observe a stop sign and in court on Monday he drew a $2 fine and costs.

BLISSFIELD — George Wells, Adrian, drew a fine of $8.75 here last week when he pleaded guilty before Justice Hensel to a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

POLICE ON LOOKOUT FOR NEW RACKETEERS

Residents of this vicinity are warned about a new racket that is being worked both by men and women, and only recently in the city of Detroit.

According to information received by Guy E. Belding, local funeral director, it is the custom of the racketeers to visit a home in which a death has occurred, on the day of the funeral. They arrive too late for the funeral, if it is at a funeral home, or after the relatives leave for the cemetery, if the funeral is in the home. To friends who usually remain in the home, the racketeers represent themselves as relatives, express surprise at their lateness, and request that they be allowed to use the house to change clothing, or clean up after driving.

Once the racketeers have gained admission, the house is ransacked and they leave, telling those at the house they intend to go to the funeral or to the cemetery.

This racket recently was worked in Detroit and $280 was stolen, according to a report to police.

He who sits down on the road to success and awaits a free ride is sure to be left, for nothing permanent is gained unless it is earned.

ARRAIGNED IN CLINTON

Bristow of Brooklyn drew $2 fine and costs of failing to observe a stop sign.

Annual School Meeting Dist. No. 7 Tecumseh, Mich.

JULY 8th, 1940

The meeting was called to order by President P. C. Satterthwaite at 7:30 o'clock P. M.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

The secretary's and also the treasurer's financial reports for the year were presented and were each on motion approved.

The librarian's annual report also was read and ordered placed on file.

The president called on Trustee Larsen, Chairman of Athletic Field activities to explain the general plan of our new athletic grounds and to give some of the objectives the board has in mind for its development.

Supt. Seelbach gave his annual report, covering many new accomplishments during the past year.

The meeting then proceeded to ballot on the question of authorizing the Board of Education to sell any or all of the buildings located on the athletic site recently purchased by the district.

The president appointed John Thompson and Earl Wickwire as tellers. Ballots were passed and a vote was taken with the following result:

Yes: 78
No: 4

The president declared the authorization carried.

The term of office of Trustee Ned Baldwin having expired the president called for nominations to fill the vacancy. The name of Mr. Ned Baldwin was placed in nomination for the office. On Mr. Baldwin's declining to accept office for another term the name of Arthur H. Brown was placed in nomination. There being no further nominations a motion was made and carried instructing the tellers to cast the unanimous ballot of the electors for Arthur H. Brown as trustee of the district for the ensuing 3 years. The president declared Dr. Arthur H. Brown duly elected trustee of the district.

Meeting adjourned.

C. F. Patterson, Sec'y.

ANNUAL REPORT
Tecumseh Public Library

July 1, 1939 to June 30, 1940

The circulation of the Tecumseh Public Library for last year, that is, the number of books issued for home use, was 12,969. This figure shows a falling off from the circulation of the previous year of over 500 books, but this is accounted for by the fact that the high school library began to function last year, supplying many books which otherwise would have been drawn by students from the public library.

Of the 12,969 books mentioned, 7466, or 58%, were fiction, 2400, or 19%, juvenile, and 3103, or 23%, non-fiction, or solid reading. The number of periodicals issued for home use was 1624.

During the year cards were issued to 132 new borrowers, while 93 cards were discontinued, leaving 1422 cards now in force, a net gain of 39 over last year's number of borrowers. As has been mentioned in previous reports, the number of cards in force does not indicate the total number of persons borrowing books from the library, since in many cases, one card serves two or more members of one family.

The book collection was increased by the addition of 162 volumes, while 50 volumes were discarded, leaving a gain of 112 volumes, which leaves the total number of books now owned by the library 10,240. As usual, the greatest gain was in the fiction department, 101 of the new books belonging to this class, while 28 were juvenile books and 33 were non-fiction. Of the 162 new volumes added, 119 were purchased and 43 were gifts. Fines and rentals taken in at the desk provided $72.31 of the price of the 119 books purchased, $22.41 came from pay collection receipts and $15.00 for a new edition of Granger's Index to Poetry, an indispensible reference volume in any library, was paid by the Board of Education.

Thirty-five periodicals are regularly received. Twenty-one of these are regular subscriptions paid for from library funds, and 14 are gifts, Thirty-three of the publications are for adults while only two are for the children; perhaps not quite a fair proportion. Several periodicals were discontinued last year because of financial stringency.

Money received and disbursed was as follows:

"He doesn't have time for breakfast since he began advertising in The Herald"

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness — through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

DIES IN ACCIDENT

ANN ARBOR—Roy Cheever, 54, Jackson, was burned to death and four others were seriously injured in a traffic accident on US-12, Saturday. Others hurt included Cheever's wife, his daughter and two sons. U. M. BAND CLINIC

Ann Arbor—More than 135 high school students from nine states are enrolled in the fifth annual High School Band Clinic at the University of Michigan, and presented their first concert Sunday at Hill Auditorium.

During the three week session the high school students will present two concerts in Hill Auditorium, two half-hour radio broadcasts, and a solo and ensemble recital, and will take part in the "grand concert" Friday evening, July 26, at Ferry Field with the University Summer Session Band.

SAND LAKE DRAIN

SAND LAKE—County officials and cottagers here last week discussed the location of the proposed Sand Lake drain. Opinion favored the running of the drain through a large hill on the south side of US-12, if the state highway department will cut away the hill. This, it was argued, will improve the vision of motorists on US-12. The state will consider the proposal, and if approved contracts for the work will be awarded and work begun this summer.

The Lewises were enroute to Wisconsin to visit a daughter when he lost control of the car on a curve and it went over a 15-foot embankment into Bean Creek.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew John, recently married, was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boyd. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tilley and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Van Valkenburg were assistant hosts and hostesses. The time was spent socially and potluck refreshments were served.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, July 18—The "I told you so" prophets are still busy. Way back before the Republican party convened at Philadelphia, a few observers of public opinion were daring to raise their voices in advocacy of Wendell L. Willkie for the Republican nomination for president. They did so on the basis of several interesting assumptions. These include the following:

1. The war crisis demanded a man of mature judgment and practical experience who had demonstrated ability to get things done.

The party desperately needed a man with personality who could match the famous Roosevelt fireside magnetism.

3. The public was fed up on political ballyhoo and bosses. Old guardism would invite defeat.

4. If the voter was willing to cross party lines, the party should be willing to cross them for its nominee.

Willkie, a life-long Democrat until four years ago, is proof to these prophets that political changes of a revolutionary kind are taking place in the United States.

Do they point the way to similar changes in Michigan? Let us examine the arguments.

Phenomenon

In these fast-moving blitzkrieg days, the nomination of Willkie has been widely proclaimed to be a phenomenon of first magnitude. Out of the unknown the Hoosier comet suddenly appeared crossing our political skies.

To the amazement of old-timers, the Willkie candidacy was in utter contradiction and defiance of most established rules of politics.

The utility president declined to accept contributions, mailing back checks to donors. He spent only around $4,000 of his own funds. His hotel reservations for a headquarters was for two rooms. He declined to make deals with party bosses. He spoke frankly in favor of aiding the Allies with supplies at a time when Republican non-interventionists were labeling the Democrats as having a "war party."

Where some campaign promoters deemed it to be traditionally expedient to tempt delegates with free liquor at lavishly equipped bars, the Willkie technique scorned the device.

Was the Willkie abandon and disregard for conventional customs an astute analysis of the 1940 public mind? Here is what happened:

One by one the favorite sons—Dewey, Taft and Vandenberg—fell by the wayside before this strange combination of social forces. The alliterative Wendell L. Willkie, a college radical in his Indiana youth, and a New Dealer from 1932 to 1936, became the 1940 nominee of the Republican party! Little wonder that commentators and writers have written profusely since the convention.

Parallel in Michigan?

That a parallel exists in Michigan public opinion is a contention advanced by many independent-thinking Republicans today.

We present it solely as speculation in keeping with our policy of non-partisan writing.

Whether the parallel is true or untrue is for history to decide.

The national and state situations are not exactly the same. In the first place, a Democrat occupies the White House; a Republican is in Michigan's capitol executive office. Secondly, war responsibility is largely national. Wars are fought from Washington, not from Lansing.

Then where does the "parallel" begin?

The argument goes like this: The Willkie disregard for state bosses and ballot ballyhoo is a sign that Michigan voters want leaders who are "free" and "independent" from alliances and commitments.

In these days of labels, few voters will disagree with "free" and "independent" as being desirable qualifications for any public official. The difference arises when we try to define what we say.

Independents

Among the present Republican candidates in Michigan who are definitely known to be "anti-boss" independents are Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, running for lieutenant governor; O. L. Smith of Detroit, candidate for governor, and James Thompson of Jackson, aspirant for lieutenant governor.

The other candidates may be entitled also to this label, but so far they have not openly spurned assistance which Michigan's new national party committeeman, Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids, might be able to give them. Hence their position is not a matter of record. Such is our distinctions.

In this latter classification are such candidates as Arthur Vandenberg, Luren D. Dickinson, Miller Dunckel and Felix Flinn. They are party organization leaders in the accepted sense.

To jump to the conclusion that Willkie's nomination is proof of new trend in Michigan politics and hence that Michigan voters are going to upset the proverbial applecart at the September primary are comforting thoughts, of course, to the supporters of Messrs. Eaton, Smith and Thomson.

Reminders

But then as you think you have everything nicely figured out, several disturbing reminders arise. You recall it was the Michigan delegation, officially led by McKay, which spectacularly accelerated the Willkie landslide in the sixth ballot.

However, despite what prophets may say and what analysists may deduce on paper, the only answer will come from the primary and convention in September. We do not venture even a surmise as to the outcome.

DESSERT BRIDGE

MORE MONEY NEEDED

ADRIAN—The Lenawee county fund for the Red Cross is still some $500 under its quota, according to A. V. Riddle, chairman. The county quota for war relief was $3,960. Red Cross sewing clubs are at work in many sections of the county, and all this work must be completed by August 1, it was said.

PAYS FINE, COSTS

ADRIAN—Otto S. Beaubien, 38, Tecumseh, paid a fine of $1 and costs of a similar amount in Justice Russell's court here, after he pleaded guilty to parking on the pavement of a highway. He was arrested on Saturday by state police.

CLINTON — F. K. Brady was elected to succeed Dr. J. R. Foreman as president of the board of education here, at an organization meeting on Tuesday. Dr. Foreman was elected secretary and F. K. Allen, treasurer. Other members are Norman Haas and L. L. Latham.

LENAWEE BURNS UNDER HEAT WAVE

WEATHER MAN SEES LITTLE RELIEF, EXCEPT FOR A FEW SCATTERED SHOWERS

Tecumseh, Lenawee county and the entire middle-west continued today to swelter under the hottest weather of the summer as the mercury in official government weather instruments continued to climb near the 100 degree mark, and the weather man forecast no immediate relief.

While Wednesday's official reading showed the thermometer at the 98 mark—the warmest of the five days of intense heat that started on Saturday—official forecasters in Detroit said that except for scattered thunderstorms in some sections, there was no general relief to be reported.

Although the hot spell has hung up a record-breaking temperature for the summer, it was declared throughout the county today that there is still plenty of water in the creeks, and that in only a few instances are crops suffering from a lack of rainfall. The rains of June and early July, it was said, soaked into the ground sufficiently to hold crop moisture through the last five extremely hot days, but it was pointed out that a continuation of the hot weather, and lack of rainfall would soon become noticable. In some areas, it was said, corn is affected by the heat.

Over the nation, it was said that more than 100 deaths have resulted from the hot weather, due to accidents at lakes, resorts and heat exhaustion. The Upper Peninsula of Michigan, noted for its cool weather, also is feeling the effects of the heat-wave with temperatures at Munising on Tuesday of 96. Other spots in the north also reported temperatures in the 90,s.

Mr. Prindle's death occurred in 1906 and for about 20 years Mrs. Prindle had lived in Ridgeway. She was a member of the Britton Christian church.

Hospital Bids To Be Opened Next Monday

Bids for the construction of the $25,000 addition to Tecumseh Hospital will be opened by the village council, in special session, next Monday evening. The council authorized the advertisement for bids 10 days ago, and it is expected that several interested companies will submit figures.

If the council approves one of the bids received next Monday, it is expected that work will be started almost immediately, and that the new addition will be opened to the public in October. Such is the plan that has been announced by R. W. Herrick, president of the board.

The council, in special session last Monday night, approved the form of the bonds that will be issued. They will be in $1,000 denominations, with interest at the rate of 2 1-4 per cent. They will be payable at the rate of $1,000 and interest, annually, at the offices of the Detroit Trust Company, Detroit.

26 PEDESTRIANS DIE IN TRAFFIC

100 KILLED IN STATE DURING JUNE, ACCORDING TO STATE POLICE

One-quarter of all the persons killed in traffic accidents in Michigan, during June, were pedestrians, Preliminary figures show that over 100 persons were killed in traffic during the past month. 26 of them were pedestrians. The ages of the victims ranged from 2 years to 79 years. These figures were released by the Michigan State Safety Committee this week.

The committee is composed of State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander, Superintendent of Public Instruction Eugene B. Elliot, Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly and State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Pointing to the large percentage of pedestrian accidents, the committee declared that preventative action could be effective in this field. Three-quarters of all fatal pedestrian accidents occur during one-third of the day—the hours of dusk and darkness—from 5 p. m. to 1 a. m. By concentrating upon the factors known to contribute to such night fatalities it should be possible to reduce the death toll. Blame for pedestrian accidents is shared by both the motorist and the pedestrian.

A common explanation advanced by motorists involved in pedestrian accidents is that the glaring lights of approaching automobiles blinded them. The committee believes that such an accident cause could be eliminated. When blinded by approaching headlights motorists must slow down. There is no excuse for maintaining speed when visibility is seriously reduced.

Pedestrians share the accident blame when they fail to walk upon the left side of the highway, facing approaching traffic. The state law requires pedestrians to walk to the left. Violators are subject to arrest.

It's A Lot Of Fun To Catch Pan Fish If You Don't Lose 'em

Its a lot of work to catch a mess of fish this year, but it requires a great deal more self control to catch the fish and then lose them—and not at the same time lose your good disposition.

If you don't believe it, ask F. C. (Nifty) Hanna or Ed Berry, who, off the record, profess to be two of Tecumseh's "better" anglers.

It seems that Messrs Hanna and Berry set out early Sunday morning on a fishing trip to one of the nearby lakes. Before 11 o'clock they congratulated each other on their fine catch and decided it was time to raise the sack, tied to the boat, and count the fish. (Mr. Hanna claimed there was no better live net than a cloth sack fastened securely to the side of the boat.)

Berry raised the sack and Hanna raised his eyebrows. Not more than a dozen fish could be found. An investigation, however, showed a hole in one corner of the bag through which the fish escaped.

They settled down to a few more hours of fishing and did return with a fine catch. But in the future, it is expected a pail will replace the fish sack.

Gillespie Agency Is Bought By F. C. Hanna

F. C. Hanna, owner of the Hanna Insurance Agency, Bidwell block, announced today that he had purchased the Gillespie Insurance Agency, and would take possession of the business on August 1. Mr. Hanna has been in the insurance and real estate business here for about 10 years, writing all types of insurance and dealing in sale and rental real estate properties. He said that the Gillespie agency would be merged with his own and that all business would be transacted through his office in the future.

The Gillespie Agency is one of the oldest insurance agencies in Tecumseh and was operated by Mrs. Franc S. Gillespie prior to her appointment as postmistress some years ago. At that time she turned the agency over to her daughter, Mrs. Bert Osterhout, and its offices have been located in the Flower Shop.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Miller

In times of emergencies such as the present it is essential that we use more than ordinary care not to let hysteria get the better of us. It is so easy to let fear rule our emotions and in the grip of this to do things that we will regret later.

The Bill of Rights in our Constitution gives every man, woman and child freedom of speech. We Americans, who have always been accustomed to saying what we think, are unable to realize that in most parts of the world people do not have this privilege. They must say what their ruler tells said or run the risk of severe punishment. Because freedom of speech has always been with us we are apt to forget that it is the basis of democracy; without it we would cease to be a republic.

When we read in the newspapers or hear over the radio of the Bund and Communist activities we are likely to say 'there ought to be a law agin that.' When the Civil Liberites league uses its money to protect those who announce this government we think they should be stopped. When some spokesman for a Youth's Movement endorses the action of Russia and Germany in subjugating helpless nations it is our belief that these upstarts should be shut up. These can be done, and very easily. But in doing so we are apt to take away our own freedom, that freedom over which many wars have been fought, many lives have been given and the courses of history changed many times the last few generations.

But we do not have to stand idly by and let the few deliver our nation into the hands of the dictators. We are ably protected by the supreme court without sacrificing our own liberties. In ordinary times a person can talk very freely about changing the form of our government as long as advocates and practices Constitutional changes. Such has been the Socialist Party under Norman Thomas. It is felt that ample time for discussion and thinking by the mass of the people will show the fallacies of such changes in our constitution and nothing in the way of freedom will be sacrificed. However, in a decision of the Supreme Court written by Justice Brandeis he said that where ample time for adequate discussion was not available (meaning years), or in times of emergencies where loose talk may cause immediate danger to the state, freedom of speech is denied to those who would advocate Unamerican activities. That ruling is broad enough to cover practically any situation. So let's not sacrifice our freedom in order to keep others quiet. It is not necessary.

The democratic convention held last week is now history. President Roosevelt, master puppeteer, deftly pulled the strings and his puppets blindly went thru their acts. The average American is an independent individual and this subjection to one man rankled in the hearts of more than one delegate. I believe this is the reason for the shameful booing of Carter Glass while nominating Jim Farley for the presidency. Two greater democrats you will never find. But the delegates were so mad at themselves for being merely puppets in the greatest "show on earth" that they just had to take it out on somebody. The somebodies happened to be these two fine men. That the delegates regretted it later was amply shown. Carter Glass and Jim Farley both are good students of human nature and realized what was behind the demonstration. The delegates need have no regrets, they are forgiven.

Two definitions of Roosevelt heard in a hotel lobby: 1. Roosevelt is a great statesman. 2. Roosevelt is an egotistical hypocrite. Take your choice or split the difference. At least we still have freedom of speech.

THAT AUTO HORN

The horn on an automobile is a very useful gadget in an emergency, but it's an infernal nuisance in the hands of a driver who seems to think all occasions on the road are emergencies. It's a nuisance when the boy friend stops in front of the house where the girl friend lives and honks and honks to invite her out for a ride. It's a nuisance when the impatient driver thinks he can move a long string of cars massed before him simply by blasting away on his horn.

Observe the most careful drivers and you will find that they seldom feel it necessary to resort to the horn. They do not look upon it as the motive power of the car, although there are many drivers who seem to think that it is. They do not use it as an instrument for "shuffling" other drivers into conceding them right-of-way, and they are too courteous to use it when there is danger of confusing another driver, and, as quite often happens, cause him to place himself and those about him in danger.

One lesson for the new driver to learn, and there are a lot of older drivers who do not seem to have learned it yet, is that the noisy, continued blowing of an automobile horn is an abomination to the ears of most people and that he who uses the horn except in an emergency cannot be rated as a competent driver. It was put on the car for but one purpose, and that purpose is it's use only when danger lingers near and a warning signal is necessary.

1941 LICENSES TO BE MAROON AND WHITE

Names of counties will not appear on the 1941 maroon and white Michigan license plates, Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, announces.

This decision was reached following tests which showed that the name of the county would fill up the plate and therefore, reduces the visibility.

"There is no need for the county name on a plate, anyway," said Mr. Kelly, "because the serial letters tell law enforcement officers or any one else who is interested enough to enquire, what county and branch office the plates came from."

Mr. Kelly has been appointed chairman of a committee of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators to continue experiments as to what license plate sizes and colors are most readily visible. Michigan received this honor because it is the first state to adopt a uniform licensing system under which special plates are not issued, even to the highest officials or most prominent and influential citizens.

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 28.

The Golden Text (Ps. 103:1, 4) is: "O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise, even with my glory . . . For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 33:1, 4): "Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright. For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 287): "Truth cannot be contaminated by error. The statement that Truth is real necessarily includes the correlated statement, that error, Truth's unlikeness, is unreal."

LOOK lady! with JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

For the American homemaker this certainly is a country of trends. First came fruits and vegetables in cans. We hacked them open as best we could with the handiest tool sharp enough to cut through the tin. Then came that revolutionary little gadget—the can opener!

Now we have a new game. The game of "reading the labels" on cans. Although originated and enforced by Uncle Sam, the manufacturers supply the labels needed for playing this game.

All are constructive trends but each requires knowledge of its purpose and how it should be used for happier living.

"Reading the label" is a fascinating game. No longer are we left to our own speculations about the contents of brightly labeled cans. Instead, we simply read the label and know.

Looking behind these new labels for details, we came upon canned corn and found many interesting facts to make our culinary arts more entertaining, successful and, in the end, more economical.

For example: one can of corn had these words printed neatly on the label—"cream style—standard."

Know what that means? Neither did I until I asked.

Here's what I learned. Corn, like dresses, comes in styles. Three of them—cream style, whole grain and corn-on-the-cob.

Cream style corn results from cutting off only the tops of the kernels and scraping the remainder from the cob to give the creamy consistency.

To get whole grain corn, also called whole kernel, the kernels are cut off at the cob, thus most of the juices remain inside the whole kernels. Corn-on-the-cob is exactly what its name implies.

There are three grades of cream style and whole grain corn—fancy, extra standard and standard.

Here's how we save money by knowing all this. Whole grain or cream style of corn (in the fancy grade) costs a little more than standard or extra-standard but it has more eye-appeal when corn is to be served as a side dish.

However, standard corn, the least expensive of all, has just as much flavor and nutritive value for cooking dishes such as soups or puddings.

Extra-standard corn is in between these other two grades in price. It is the most suitable type for casserole recipes, omelets, fritters, and similar dishes.

Now—with this bit of information—join your neighbors and begin playing the "read the label" game. It's the latest trend in happier living and good eating.

KID CARNIVAL

HUDSON—Children in Hudson, ranging from tiny tots to 14 years of age, staged a real carnival here Friday and Saturday evenings. The proceeds will be turned over to the American Red Cross. It was the third time that the children have staged carnivals over a similar number of years.

PAYS FINE, COSTS

BLISSFIELD — Charged with failure to report an accident, Clyde Renner, jr., of Adrian, drew a fine of $5 and costs of $5 when he was arraigned before a justice here. The accident happened in Adrian.

RECRUITERS BUSY

ADRIAN—Major S. G. Kindall, Second Infantry, Camp Custer, is in Adrian on recruiting service. He is accompanied by six soldiers, and announced that anyone interested in joining Uncle Sam's forces should report to the post-office. The government is seeking to increase the army's strength by 280,000 by August 31.

ADRIAN — According to H. I. Bournes, postmaster, it is expected soon that all aliens in this vicinity must register and be fingerprinted at the postoffice here. The office already has been advised of the government's intent, and instructions as to procedure will be forwarded.

---"That store gets customers from all over since they began advertising in The Herald"

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness—through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, July 25—Let the word "lawyer" be mentioned to the average Michigan citizen a generation ago, and his mental reaction would probably form a picture along one or more of the following lines:

A "trouble specialist" who was summoned in an emergency, usually when someone became entangled with the law.

A fee-minded expert with a costly vocabulary.

A professional man who meddled in everybody else's business and never did anything about his own.

A man who drafted bills and helped to run legislatures.

A man who was hired by criminals to defeat justice.

These were yesterday's misconceived ideas about the attorney-at-law, the professional man at the bar—ideas which for years past plagued one of the most important and influential groups in American life.

Michigan State Bar

For the purpose of effectively raising the standards of the legal profession and of cooperating with the courts to improve the administration of justice, the State Bar of Michigan was created by act of the 1935 legislature and rules of the Michigan Supreme court.

Headquarters office is located at Lansing in charge of Henry L. Woolfenden, Jr., executive secretary, with a branch office in Detroit.

Every lawyer in active practice in the state—approximately 6300 in all—must pay annual dues of $5 to maintain his membership in the organization.

What has the State Bar done to meet the public's distorted notions?

Its record of achievements is noteworthy.

Free Legal Aid

The State Bar of Michigan accepts reference of every request for legal aid from both the attorney general's office and the governor's office. In addition, it receives numerous requests for legal aid direct from indigent citizens.

Since its creation, every request for legal aid from any place in the state of Michigan has been carefully investigated and every beritorious request has been granted. This has been done without any cost to state or local welfare agencies.

The State Bar has been working with the state board of law examiners (which gives the examinations) to insure that applicants for admission to the bar are morally as well as mentally qualified to become lawyers. Character examinations have been given to every applicant from the city of Detroit for several years, and arrangements are now being completed to have the State Bar of Michigan give thorough character examinations to every bar applicant from every part of the state.

Self-Discipline

The grievance committees of the State Bar are now vested with authority to hear complaints against lawyers and recommend discipline to the courts. Grievance committees have the power of subpoena and indirectly the power to punish for contempt. These powers enable them effectively to investigate charges of professional misconduct.

Since the State Bar was created, fifty persons have been removed from the roll of attorneys either by orders of disbarment or by resignation pursuant to grievance committee action.

The bar is now effectively "cleaning its own house."

Grievance committee work is all handled voluntarily by lawyers, without any compensation whatever, and the witness fees, stenographic fees, etc. are all paid out of State Bar funds.

State Government

The Supreme Court rules creating the State Bar of Michigan provide that the government, the Supreme court, the legislature, or the judicial council may call upon the State Bar for assistance in any matter relating to Michigan courts, practice and procedure therein, or the administration of justice.

Every governor who has held office since the organization was created has called upon the State Bar for assistance under this provision of the rules, and the State Bar has also received requests for assistance from the Supreme court, both houses of the legislature, and the Judicial Council. In every instance the State Bar was able to give the assistance requested, to the complete satisfaction of the governmental official or body who made the request.

The governing board of the State Bar of Michigan is a commission of twenty-one members. These commissioners are busy lawyers, at the peak of their professional careers, yet during the past year they contributed an aggregate of over one year's working time to the profession without one cent of compensation.

In addition to this governing board, over three hundred lawyers on twenty general committees and over one hundred fifty lawyers on seventeen grievance committees contributed time and services of inestimable value to the profession and to the cause of justice in this state, all without any compensation whatever.

This brief summary does not by any means include all of the work being done by the State Bar, but the examples mentioned indicate the potentialities of a self-governing professional organization.

Few professional groups, if any, have worked as vigorously and intelligently—and effectively—toward raising standards as has the State Bar of Michigan during the past five years.

There is something strongly akin to Elysian grandeur in growing vegetation. Grass that springs up under stimulus of moisture and sunshine, and trees that put on draperies of green take one aloof from human conflict and lift tired spirits to catch the breath of eternity. Nothing thrills like the miracle of spring — the richly green landscape, the returning foliage and flowers.

COUNCIL PASSES GARBAGE CODE

PROVIDES FOR COLLECTION UNDER PENALTY; HOSPITAL BIDS ARE REJECTED

The village council, in adjourned session, Monday evening, enacted an ordinance regulating the collection and disposal of garbage, rejected all of the bids submitted for the building of an addition to Tecumseh Hospital, and extended the time for payment of local taxes, without penalty, until September 6.

The garbage ordinance, which carries a penalty of a fine of $10 or a 10-day jail sentence for violation, provides that, hereafter, all garbage in the business district must be disposed of at least three times a week, and in the residential district, twice weekly. The law also says that garbage must be kept in fly-tight cans, properly fitted with cover, of capacity not exceeding 10 gallons, and in such a location as they may be easily cared for by collectors. It is a violation, hereafter, to throw any garbage into a stream of water within the village limits, or to keep garbage on any premises except in a sanitary manner.

The village did not designate any garbage collection system or recommend any system to residents, that they may comply with the law. Wade L. Jones, clerk, said that residents may contact any persons who at this time are collecting garbage, and thus dispose of the refuse in a satisfactory manner. The ordinance in its entirety is printed in another page of this newspaper.

Four bids for the construction of a $25,000 addition to Tecumseh Hospital were rejected by the council, Two of the bids were not accompanied by the required certified check, the third contained a clause that made it illegal and the fourth exceeded the specified amount.

Karl M. Schneider, village president, said yesterday that in all probability the council would consider the proposed hospital addition at its regular meeting next Monday, and that it might award a contract for its construction at that time.

The proposed hospital addition will nearly double the size of the institution and plans call for the completion of the addition early in October.

ENGLAND READY FOR INVASION

STORY OF WAR TOLD IN INTERESTING LETTER TO THE REV. EDWARD ESCOLME

Declaring that a majority of the English people prefer to go down fighting rather than survive as slaves under the despotic rule of Nazism, William Dockery, an uncle of the Rev. Edward Escolme of Tecumseh, writes an interesting letter concerning conditions as they are found today on the British Isles.

Mr. Dockery, a former school teacher and a resident of Yealand Corners, Cranforth, Lancashire, wrote the letter on July 9.

WARM WEATHER WILL CONTINUE

MORE THAN 4,000 DEAD IN NATION, OVER 600 IN MICHIGAN FROM HEAT

The nation's heat wave, which has held most of the country in its grip for more than two weeks, is not yet due to break, according to government forecasters in Detroit. Although scattered showers and thunderstorms may give relief in some localities, the return to normal temperatures may be days away.

Tecumseh sweltered all this week under the second heat wave of the past 14 days, feeling its first relief on Tuesday evening when the mercury during the night dipped to 67 degrees. Yesterday's temperatures were in the late 80's, but were "bearable," and there was considerable more activity in the downtown district than on Monday when the thermometer registered near the 100 mark.

Last week's heat wave broke with a thunderstorm that struck Tecumseh about midnight Friday and continued for more than an hour. The shower came from the northwest and apparently spent its fury in Adrian, where two houses were struck by lightning.

Early Friday evening, thermometers showed a temperature in the high nineties but the storm sent the mercury tumbling more than 15 degrees. Saturday's temperature remained in the 70's and Saturday night was the most comfortable in the past two weeks, the mercury dipping in the 60's. There were two showers here last Saturday afternoon.

Lightning hit the R. C. Edwards house, Dennis street, Adrian, about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, doing considerable damage. Fortunately, the Edwards family was at their cottage at Evans Lake.

Another bolt of lightning struck the C. E. Shattuck house on Cross street, Adrian, knocking plaster off the interior walls.

From the Consumers Power Company came a report that the Saturday night storm struck a line on Bent Oak Avenue, Adrian, another in the vicinity of the Michigan Girls Training School, and a third between Palmyra and Madison Center.

In the vicinity of Morenci there was a windstorm, doing some damage to crops and trees. Approximately half an inch of rain fell during the storm.

He was born on a farm northwest of Tecumseh, August 7, 1897, and was a son of Jacob and Minnie Rentschler. Most of his life was spent in this vicinity except for about 12 years in Pontiac when he was engaged n the laundry business with his brother Neil, who died in 1925. He graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1917.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home in North Adrian and the burial will be in Napoleon cemetery.

Nearly Half A Million Need Full Year Licenses

Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, calls attention to the fact that there are still close to a half million motorists in Michigan operating with half year auto license plates which expire at midnight, August 31.

"Full year plates have been on sale at half prices in all our offices since July 10th," said Mr. Kelly, "but there has been little demand for them, outside of from purchasers of new cars. The law does not permit me to extend the time for the use of first half tags, so all cars on the road September 1st, must have full year 1940 tags. I would like to urge all owners who can possibly do so to get their tags now and avoid the inconvenience of lining up in crowds of the last few days."

Mr. Kelly also reiterated a warning that purchasers of new plates must destroy the first half tags to prevent the possibility of them falling into improper hands and being used illegally on other cars.

Locates Old Farm Home By Name Carved In Tree

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pratt of Grangeville, Idaho, are spending the week in this vicinity. Mr. Pratt is a son of the late Edwin and Ida Baker Pratt, and this is his first visit here in 50 years. He left the community when 12 years of age and on his return this week could find no one who knew the location of his grandfather, Stephen Pratt's farm in Raisin township. So on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Pratt made a tour of that area and finally he discovered the old home, proving its identity by a tree in the woods behind the house. When a child he had carved his name in the tree trunk where it still remains. The farm house, a 14-room home, built by his grandfather, is now occupied by Storer & Son, who recently moved there from Manitou Beach.

Summer Schedule For St. Peter's Announced

Beginning Sunday, August 4, and continuing thereafter every Sunday in August, the Rev. Frank Ireland will conduct services at St. Peter's Episcopal church, beginning at 9:30 a. m. There will be no services at 8 a. m. nor at 11:15 a. m.

Having this one service every Sunday during August while the rector is away on vacation is a departure from the practice of completely suspending services which has prevailed in the parish for many years.

The Rev. Mr. Ireland is rector of "All Saints' Church, Brooklyn, and he is also in charge of St. Michael and All Angels' Church at Cambridge Junction which was recently opened under his direction.

Those desiring the offices of the church for baptisms, weddings, funerals et cetera, may communicate with Senior Warden Lester Rogers.

Green will conduct services in that church during August. He also plans to do some studying in the library of the seminary and Northwestern University. During his student seminary days, was on the staff of St. Matthew's church.

DAWN PATROL HERE SUNDAY

30 TO 60 SHIPS TO ARRIVE AT 7:30; BREAKFAST AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Dawn Patrol, an organization of airplane pilots of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana who each Sunday during the summer months, visit an airport in a city or town in one of these states, next Sunday will visit Tecumseh. The first of the ships will arrive here at 7:30 and it is expected that between 30 and 60 ships will have landed here before 9 a. m.

Dr. H. H. Hammel, who is in charge of arrangements for the Patrol, said today that a breakfast for the visiting aviators would be served at the high school at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. This will be followed by a short, speaking program. The pilots then will return to the airport, many of them remaining in Tecumseh throughout the day.

"We will be able to accomodate 150 persons at the breakfast," Dr. Hammel said, and about one-half that number will be out-of-town guests. Some 75 tickets will be offered for sale locally. They may be purchased at the office of Tecumseh Airport, at The Herald office, or at my office. Tickets sell at 50 cents each."

The Dawn Patrol paid its first visit to Tecumseh Airport about a year ago and attracted thousands of people to the port. It is believed that the Patrol this year will attract an even larger crowd, many persons being interested in seeing some of the ships now under construction at the Meyers Airplane Company's plant here, and which will be on exhibition, Sunday.

It is expected that a large passenger ship will be here throughout Sunday to accomodate those who care to "see Tecumseh from the air."

TEN NEW HOMES UNDER CONTRACT

SOME NEARING COMPLETION, OTHERS WILL BE FINISHED BEFORE THE WINTER

Ten new homes, six of them in Indian Acres, are under contract for construction, and will be ready for occupancy during the early fall, a survey disclosed today.

The new home of F. C. Hanna in the Turner subdivision is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy probably in September. The Leo Jacobs home, also in the Turner subdivision, is rapidly taking shape and this will be finished during the early fall.

The M. W. Wilson home on East Logan street, is more than half completed, as is the Reinhold Schmidt house on East Pottawatamie street at Wyandotte.

In the Indian Acres Subdivision, new homes will be completed before fall by Oscar Schonscheck, Wayne Lusk, Charles Mensing, Fred Bryan, Garth Hall and Sam Shervino. The Indian Acres plot is one of the most rapidly growing subdivisions in Tecumseh, although it was opened only a year ago.

With the completion of the 10 new homes here this fall, and with three or four more that may be started during the next three or four weeks, it was estimated today that Tecumseh will spend well over the $100,000 mark in new home construction in 1940. During the past three years, more than 40 new houses were built here, at an estimated cost of more than $200,000.

Dozens of homes throughout the village are being repaired, remodeled or repainted, contractors declaring that Tecumseh is experiencing one of the busiest building seasons in the past decade. Practically every carpenter is employed, as are painters and decorators.

TRAVEL CANADA WITHOUT FEAR

AMERICANS DO NOT REQUIRE PASSPORTS TO VISIT CANADA; NO NEW RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL

Whilst after July 1 residents of countries adjacent to the United States require to be in possession of passports as a condition of entry to that country, there has been no change in the Canadian Immigration regulations. American tourists and visitors are cordially welcomed to Canada and do not require passports to enter the Dominion. Citizens of the United States still retain their pre-war freedom to enter and travel in Canada without any new restrictions.

In order to facilitate crossing the international boundary in both directions, citizens of the United States by naturalization should be prepared to present their naturalization certificates, and citizens of other countries should be prepared to establish their legal admission to the United States either by record of admission or certificate of reentry. Citizens of enemy countries will, naturally, be subject to restrictions but these will not affect the movement of tourists from friendly or neutral countries, who will continue to be welcomed as they have been in the past.

The United States Department of State advises that, "The new (United States) regulations impose no additional requirements on United States citizens and they may, as heretofore, proceed to Canada and return to the United States without any specified documentation. They need have only as a matter of convenience the documentary evidence customarily carried in the past."

Bona fide American citizens should have no difficulty through answers to questions and otherwise in satisfying the examining immigration officer. In case they are asked to show papers to establish their identity and place of residence, the possession of personal papers or other identifying documents would be helpful; for example, old passport, birth or baptismal certificate, voter's certificate, tax bills, letter of identification from a bank manager or responsible municipal official, personal letters, car license, driver's license or similar papers.

It is suggested that naturalized citizens carry with them their naturalization certificates.

Citizens of other countries, including Canadian citizens, who are permanent legal residents of the United States should secure a reentry permit from the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service before departing from the United States. Application for a reentry permit should be made approximately 30 days before departure. The fee for a permit is $3.00 and a separate application must be made for each person. A reentry permit is valid for only one year and may be used for only one entry to the United States. Should such a citizen leave the United States without a reentry permit, a new immigration visa, involving fees and documents, must be secured from the United States Consular Authorities before he can reenter the United States.

Persons who visit Canada frequently should apply to the nearest office of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service for a border identification card.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Miller

Many people believe that Germany can defeat Great Britain almost as easily as she has over-run the other countries she has defeated. To subdue the English is a vastly different problem, and as this column likes to put itself on the spot, we will say here and now that Germany will never win the war with Great Britain. This does not mean, however, that Germany will be defeated. Some form of truce or understanding will eventually take effect leaving Germany in control of Europe and Great Britain's Empire practically intact.

Events in Spain have shown that wars cannot be won by aerial bombardment alone. The theory of aerial bombardment is to destroy military objectives and lower the morale of the people. It did not ruin military objectives nor lower the morale of the people of Spain. It will not lower the morale of the people of England. If anything, it will make them more determined.

For Germany to put an army on the British Isles and keep them supplied is practically impossible. The Norwegian campaign, which the British lost rather ingloriously, showed the impossibility of landing troops, guns, tanks and supplies without the facilities necessary to handle the huge amount of tonnage necessary to keep an army on the field. And Great Britain will see that the German Army has no such facilities available. If Germany does take over the British Isles they will accomplish the impossible. Then, I say we should have a real fear of invasion of the United States.

It makes no difference who wins the war, this world is going to be a much different place in which to live a few years hence. There will be a new world order, with a new world economy and a different social structure. Sound financial systems as we know them may go, and individualism, American style, may be a thing of the past.

The Democracies are at a disadvantage with the controlled, planned economy of Hitler. In Germany, production of nessessities has reached an efficiency far in excess of that in the United States or the other Democracies. Such planned economy is not our ideal or can be had in a true democracy, but it is what we are fighting and sometimes we have to fight fire with fire.

We must realize that we are not just fighting Hitler. Getting rid of Hitler would not end the war or solve our problems. Hitler is the result of the political, economic and social instability of Germany. To a lesser extent we have that same instability here.

Fine talk and pretty phrases must be banished. As long as we know the true state of affairs of this country and work to better ourselves internally as well as in world affairs, we have no cause for fear. We all love our Country enough to give and sacrifice all that is necessary, but we must not be misled by the false optimism of politicians striving to better themselves or the defeatist pessimism of social mis-fits who wish to undermine our form of government.

If given intelligent leadership, not emotional, intelligent co-operation by every individual will follow. Changes are inevitable, we must learn to adapt ourselves to new situations as they appear, and tried institutions may disappear before our eyes but if we look foreward with the foresight and intelligent underhanding our forefathers had when they founded this country, democracy will never die, but once again sow its roots throughout the world.

IT DOESN'T PAY

The average young man who is seized with wanderlust and a desire to wander and roam about the country most generally finds that such a life doesn't pay, and that he is far worse off when his spell of wanderlust wears off than he would have been had he remained at home. Roaming from one point to another costs him not only all the money he earns, but robs him of the permanent place he could have had in the society of his own people. It stamps him an instable, and lessens his ability to secure a steady job. In industry he is rated as little better than a journeyman tramp. While efforts to better one's condition is laudable, change is warranted only when a young man has mastered the job he has and is confident of his ability to do the next job better than it has been done. Only on this basis is one exempt from wanderlust. That familiar old saying that "a rolling stone gathers no moss" is just as true today as it was the day it was first spoken.

ENGLAND READY

it was received by his nephew here this week.

The letter, except for some personal paragraphs follows:

You will no doubt be wondering how we are all faring during these dreadful days.

So far as health is concerned, we are all wonderfully well. Of course, this dreadful war, with its worries and uncertainties, has thrown everything out-of-gear and it is very difficult for people to settle down to anything.

But it is a great honour to know and to feel that the whole future of the world is now resting upon the shoulders of Old England, and I fully believe that the vast majority of our people would rather go down fighting than survive as slaves (or worse) under the despotic rule of Nazism.

Everyone knows that Hitler, when he does attack England, will have the toughest fight in his career and I don't think many men in his forces will much relish the task thrust upon them.

Now that we are alone in the struggle, we know where we are and are determined to go on to the end, feeling quite certain that, with brave hearts and a just cause, victory will be ours.

We have had so far a most wonderful summer which in normal times would have made everybody happy and contented. But of course, such things as holidays are now out of the question.

Billy, (a nephew) is back with his boat, which has done yeoman service since the war commenced — first carrying men and munitions over to France and bringing back wounded, and then helping to evacuate from Dunkirk and France and finally the evacuation of civilians from Jersey and Guernsey.

We are very grateful for your offer to accomodate any refugees who might desire to cross the ocean for purposes of safety. In Yealand people are affording refuge to many children from the big towns and even adults (mainly from the south) have come north. You see Yealand is regarded as a safe zone.

But in any case the risks are very remote (mainly from the air) as I don't think an actual invasion is much to be feared.

So we will not take advantage of your kind offer, much as we appreciate it.

No one would imagine from the peaceful surroundings of Yealand, that there is a war on, altho, of course, many young fellows are taking part in it—in one capacity or another.

You remember Shakespeare's words in "King John"—

"Come all the world in arms and we shall shoke them:-
"Naught can make us rue
"If Engand to herself do rest but true."

Last Sunday Mr. Nye preached a beautiful sermon from the text, "The Eternal God is Thy Refuge." It is on promises like these that we have to rely.

Our Bank Has Sympathetic Understanding

To be able to properly interpret the needs of its customers; to guide them in the proper direction at times of financial difficulty are some of the problems of a bank.

Every day we have these problems to face, and they must be met with sympathetic understanding. We are always happy and willing to make loans where such a practice is justified, but there are times when we must refrain.

In the latter instances we are always careful to explain our reasons to the customer's satisfaction. Loans, poorly made, are a detriment both to the bank and to the customer.

The next time you receive your electric service statement make a guess at how much this twenty-four-hour-a-day service actually costs you . . . per day. Then divide the net amount of your bill by thirty to give you the actual daily cost. You will be surprised when you see how little it is. Then just for fun add up the number of services that electricity performs for you such as lights, fans, radio, washer, ironer, refrigerator, range, water heater, etc. Divide this number into the daily cost figure and you will have a better picture of how little your electric services really cost.

My patients like to read the ads in The Herald"

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness—through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, August 1—The 1940 campaign strategy of the Republican state central committee has centered to a major degree on Arthur H. Vandenberg.

First, committee leaders hoped the national ticket would be headed by the United States senator from Michigan. In this objective the committee had synthetic support from Vandenberg himself. The senator declined to campaign actively for the nomination and said that while he was available for duty he was not an open candidate for the office.

A national ticket headed by Vandenberg would put Michigan safely into the Republican column next November, so the thesis went. Michigan could be depended upon, they argued, to support a native son for the White House.

Second, the committee counted on Vandenberg, if the national convention did not nominate him for the presidency, to head the Michigan ticket for re-election. Indirectly it was an indication by state party chieftains that one of their sources of popular strength in November would be Vandenberg.

In either reckoning—national or state ticket—Vandenberg was to set the pace.

Vandenberg Career

It was twelve years ago that Woodbridge N. Ferris, a former Democratic governor and member of the United States senate, died suddenly.

As editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, Vandenberg had been one of the first to declare for Fred Green as Republican candidate for governor against Groesbeck. Although there was some talk about giving a temporary appointment to Joseph Fordney of Saginaw, who for many years was chairman of the ways and means committee of the House, Governor Green gave the appointment to Vandenberg.

Vandenberg thus in the year 1928 came to Washington straight over the heads of county and state officials. While Vandenberg had traveled, had spoke and had written for the Republican state committee, he had never enthused over the state legislature or had mixed much with the county chairmen and with the boys who control the votes in the wards. A gifted man, he was not a state politician.

Vandenberg was born 56 years ago in Grand Rapids of Dutch and English blood. His father was a harness maker in Grand Rapids, and the family was poor. When the youth went to the University of Michigan to study in the law class of 1904, he worked his own way but for reasons of health had to retire at the end of his first year.

He is fond of saying frankly that the best thing the college gave him was a wife.

A Statesman

From just another enterprising editor in an American small city, Vandenberg rose rapidly in favor in the Senate which has been termed a seminar of statesmanship, and today he is a valued member of two of its leading committees — Foreign relations and finance.

Working hard at the job, he has a solemn rule never to leave Washington while Congress is in session. Even during the delegate primary campaigns in western states this spring, he consistently declined to leave the capital for political speech-making trips.

The Philadelphia Record on June 23, 1937 drew this picture of the Michigan senator:

"Tall, sparse-haired, Vandenberg swapped tortoise shell glasses for rimless ones to 'look less bookish.' Likes to match pennies, bowl, play bridge, billiards. He carries a pedometer, stops his regular morning walk when it shows four miles.

"Finger pointer and desk pounder in the Senate, he smokes heavily, likes dark suits, always double breasted, watches that his 180 pounds don't go up. Inflation fears constantly assail him; he carries German marks printed with 100,000,000 signs to give colleagues visual warning of its danger."

Oratorical Ability

A lone wolf in Michigan politics (he is not a part of any faction and is inclined to leave state politics to the governor), Vandenberg's chief asset is his oratorical ability.

Those who heard his oration on "The Spirit of Mackinac" at the governors' conference at Mackinac Island when Fred Green was host to other state executives will profuse wildly at the memory. Vandenberg can speak!

One of Vandenberg's qualities is tolerance for others. This trait, combined with courage, has made him an outstanding figure at Washington.

No one will accuse him of compromising issues with President Roosevelt, yet when the president spoke at Indianapolis in the 1936 presidential campaign, the latter said that he and Vandenberg were such good friends that if the Republicans had nominated the Grand Rapids senator the two candidates could have stumped the country from the same platform!

This prestige of oratory has helped Vandenberg in the past to remain in the voters' good graces. There has been a tendency to say that Vandenberg at Washington is an asset to Michigan. "He does the state credit."

Expert at Compromise

Called a genius at the art of offering reasonable compromises, Vandenberg is also respected for his unyielding opposition to things which he deems inimical to national interests. He led the fight on the Passamaquoddy project. He blocked the Florida ship canal. He assailed the multi-billion reserve fund created by the Social Security Act. He was the author of the amendment to the 1932 banking act which created insurance for bank deposits.

In foreign affairs he has been an isolationist, maintaining that America entered the World war only because Wall Street wanted to save its neck.

What Michigan will do to his career is for the voters to decide next fall. In any event, Vandenberg will give the campaign a dash of prestige which the state committee openly welcomes. He is a national figure.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETIETH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-FIVE. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 8, 1940. FIVE CENTS PER COPY

PARKING CODE TO BE CHANGED

PARALLEL PARKING ON CHICAGO BOULEVARD WILL BE ORDERED WITHIN A WEEK

Parallel parking of automobiles on Chicago boulevard, in the downtown district, will be ordered within the next few days by local police, the result of a request from the State Highway Department, asking that Tecumseh conform to the law requiring parallel parking on all trunk line routes within villages and cities in Michigan.

The law requiring the parallel parking of cars was passed by the legislature in 1939 but it was not until this year that it was generally enforced throughout the state. Last spring, the village council believed it might be possible for Tecumseh to escape the law because of the extra width of Chicago boulevard, (M-50) and requested that the state make a survey to determine if diagonal parking should be abandoned. At the same time the village ordered parallel parking on Evans street, M-52, in observance of the state law, and because Evans street is approximately half the width of the boulevard.

A letter from the state department, read to the village council last Monday evening, requested that parallel parking on the boulevard be ordered as quickly as possible. The letter declared that the law is now being observed in all but four cities and villages in Michigan.

Wade L. Jones, village clerk, said today that the council believed it should respect the state's wishes and for that reason had ordered the police to enforce the law here within a week. However, before it is enforced, new parking lines will be painted on the pavement, indicating areas where cars may be parked and restricted areas.

The new restriction will somewhat reduce the number of cars that may be parked in the downtown district, and increase the use of the parking lot at the rear of the Strand theatre and Butler Motor Sales.

Tecumseh Is In The Market For A More Modern Jail

WANTED — A jail suitable for a town of 3,000 population. Bunks must be hard, floor must be cement. Price must be in keeping with requirements. Address all communications to Karl M. Schneider, president, Village of Tecumseh, Michigan.

While the above advertisement was not inserted with the consent of the Village Council, nor was it paid for by the Village, it is known that Mayor Schneider is badly in need of a jail if his police department is to continue to function smoothly, and the prisoners they detain are to be confined within the corporation limits.

It appears from the records that at one time Tecumseh owned a modern jail—as modern as most jails in towns the size of Tecumseh. But because the jail is seldom used—except for free lodgings—it has been allowed to go without repair and today it would do credit to Henry Ford's Greenfield Village Museum. It has a padlock, but the key has been lost. The floor has been badly burned (an over-night lodger started a fire on the floor with the aid of newspapers) and there are many, many other things about the place that do not belong to the twentieth century.

Last week, it appears, Tecumseh had an opportunity to use the jail to advantage, but because of its delapidated condition it was necessary to send two prisoners to the county jail for an over-night stay. As the result, $80 assessed in fines went to the county instead of the village; and $80 would have gone a long way in defraying the expense of remodeling.

"We're going to have a jail here," Mayor Schneider said yesterday, "I don't know how we're going to get it, but we're going to have it. We're going to remodel the old lock-up, give it the 'bullpen' appearance, put a new lock on the door and make it secure. The beds will be wooden benches, and maybe the food will be bread and water, but we're not going to turn over any more prisoners to the county and lose the fines."

In all probability some carpenters will get a job over the week-end remodeling the jail. And by the time the council meets, August 19, there will be a repair bill to pay—unless someone answers the above advertisement and sells Mayor Schneider a jail that is suitable for his needs.

THEATRE GUILD SEEKS TALENT IN TECUMSEH

The Tecumseh Theatre Guild is formulating plans for its next play, which it is planned, will be produced in the early fall. Any persons interested in becoming a member of the group, may submit his or her name by letter to the secretary-treasurer of the group, Miss Jean Collins. It is important that Miss Collins receive the applications by August 16, and applicants will receive notification a week from that date concerning acceptance.

Turkish Student Talks To Tecumseh Rotarians

A. Bati of Istanbul, son of the under-secretary of state of Turkey and a student of engineering at the University of Michigan was the guest speaker at the regular noon-day luncheon meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary club, Tuesday at the Boston Cafe. Mr. Bati was the guest of Perry C. Satterthwaite.

Declaring that Turkey, economically, has gone a long way in the past 17 years, and that she is doing everything possible to avoid entanglements in the present European war, Mr. Bati predicted a bright future for his native country. Turkey, like no other nation, realizes that education will do more to save the country from destruction than any other thing, the speaker declared, and he pointed out that annually nearly 1,000 college youths are studying engineering, chemistry, science and medicine in other lands.

Mr. Bati speaks English fluently. His father, before accepting his present government post, was ambassador to Belgium.

Cool Evening Fishing Is Reported Successful

LANSING—Fishermen who feel the hot weather as much as any one else and still are reluctant to pass up good fishing conditions are reported turning their attention to cooler night fishing, with good success.

Trout, bass, walleyes and northern pike are reported taken after dark in waters which in daytime yield fewer fish. Surface baits that raise a fuss on the water are favored.

Visitors to Michigan need not fear wartime conditions will deprive them of an anticipated trip across the international border. Canadian officials point out no passports or visas are necessary and while there are no restrictions, United States currency is now worth ten per cent more.

Shavaller, all of Tecumseh.

Sand Lake Cottagers have raised $2,000 toward the cost while Franklin and Cambridge townships have appropriated $500 each. The remainder of the cost $1,300 for the construction and additional money for the survey and other details will be paid by the county.

VILLAGE SEEKS WATER SUPPLY

NEW WELL DRILLED IN WESTERN SECTION OF TECUMSEH; MAY DRILL SECOND

In an effort to keep pace with Tecumseh's rapidly increasing population, the village council is seeking a new source of water supply that there may be no shortage in the event of emergency.

Acting under the council's order, the water department has completed the drilling of a test well on the site of the present "west well" near Athletic Park. Water has been discovered in abundance, and it is possible, acting on the state's recommendation, that a second well will be drilled nearby. The state believes that such an act at this time would be good insurance against any future shortage, and also would be less expensive than to delay the operation to some future date.

The "west well," built about eight years ago, is badly in need of repairs and the state has refused to permit these unless the village changes the type of construction. The well is of the "open" type and the state requires that it be closed. For this reason, the council is of the opinion that it will be cheaper to drill a new well, or two wells if necessary, than it would to rebuild the old one to conform to the state's requirements.

During the recent hot spell the water supply from the "east wells" were not sufficient to meet the needs of the village and for a short time it was necessary to "cut in" the west well as an auxiliary.

Just how quickly the new well will be completed is problematical, the council also is expected to decide soon whether another test well will be drilled. The council also is anticipating the installation of larger mains in the western section of the village to carry the newly found water supply into the Chicago boulevard main.

An effort to find a new source of water at the east wells has failed, it was said. Drilling operations for a distance of nearly 80 feet failed to produce a new vein of water.

Annual Mission Festival Planned By Lutherans

On Sunday, August 11, the Grace Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate its annual mission festival, also the commemoration of its second anniversary as a Tecumseh church organization. Special services will be held at St. John's Episcopal church in Clinton where regular church services have been held since the recent fire.

The morning service at 10:30 will be conducted by the Rev. R. Gensmer, and Rev. K. Wertz of Detroit will have charge of the afternoon service at 3 o'clock.

ROADSIDE PARKS ARE OBJECTS OF INSPECTION

LANSING — Highway officials of the Federal government and three mid-western states are traveling Michigan highways this week on a four-day inspection trip of roadside development projects.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner conferred with the group but did not accompany them on their trip.

The inspection itinerary is along the west side of Michigan to the Straits of Mackinac, into the Upper Peninsula a short distance, and down the eastern side of the state.

C. A. R. ENTERTAINING

At the meeting of the Charles Mickley chapter, C. A. R., held Saturday in Adrian, Misses Alice Louise and Helen Claus and Herbert Fisher entertained for Miss Bernita Coy of Jasper, whose marriage to Henry Ragless of Sand Creek takes place today. Miss Coy was presented with a gift of silver.

Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and son Bob and Mary Wright, Mrs. W. C. Kelly and son Herbert, and the Misses Claus attended from this vicinity.

GUESTS FROM HOMER

A group of young people from the Homer Presbyterian church surprised the Rev. and Mrs. E. M. McGehee Sunday by attending the morning service in a body, later enjoying a potluck dinner on the manse lawn. The group included Misses Ruth Penoyar, Dorothy Reed and Dothea Hamilton, Dwayne Ballentine, Fred Harris and Ronald Buskirk, members of the Tuxis Society of the Homer church where Mr. McGehee was minister for four years previous to coming to Tecumseh.

PAST CHIEFS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters' Past Chiefs club was held at the home of Mrs. Ira Manwaring with Mrs. C. H. Kemp assisting hostess. Nineteen members of the Tipton Past Chiefs club attended. Potluck supper was followed by a business meeting and social hour.

Historical Society In Mid-Summer Meeting

The midsummer meeting and picnic of the Lenawee County Historical Society is being held today at the home of Mrs. S. L. Wyman on South Union street. A picnic dinner at noon will be followed by the program which will include a talk by Henry R. Brown, research director at the University of Michigan. There will also be a talk by James Hewitt of Cambridge Junction.

All persons attending are to bring table service, sandwiches and a dish of food to pass.

KEMPF AWARDED HOSPITAL JOB

GROUND MAY BE BROKEN ON FRIDAY FOR ADDITION TO TECUMSEH'S HOSPITAL

The village council, in regular session Monday evening, awarded the contract for the construction of an addition to Tecumseh Hospital to Raymond C. Kempf, of Tecumseh, at a cost of $21,686. The council also employed a firm of architects to confer with the builder during the construction period, and it was indicated today that ground for the new addition would be broken on Friday or Saturday of this week.

"We intend to complete the job as quickly as possible," Ray W. Herrick, president of the hospital board, declared. "We hope to get going on the construction this week, and it will take approximately three months to complete the task. There has been some slight delay in getting started, but we have set mid-November as the time for completion."

Voters of Tecumseh recently approved a $25,000 bond issue for the building of the hospital addition that will nearly double the size of the institution, now crowded beyond capacity. Tecumseh Hospital, although only two years old., has made an enviable record for itself, it being one of the very few hospitals in the middle-west to operate on a profit basis. During the past year the hospital showed a profit of nearly $150 a month, and last month's profit was approximately $385.

Those interested in the hospital construction declared today that it would take only a few weeks to build the building necessary to complete the addition. The real task, it was pointed out, comes in the installation of the plumbing and heating equipment. When the addition is opened, it will be completely furnished and ready for occupancy, affording several more private rooms, a new maternity ward, and a new kitchen and dining room for the nurses.

The present hospital was built to accomodate 18 adults and six children. On many occasions it has housed more than 30 patients, nearly twice the number for which it was intended.

FOREST FIRES INCREASE

LANSING — Increased dryness of the pine plains, coupled with increased numbers of vacationers in the north woods, raised the weekly forest fire toll to 184 acres in the fifteenth week of the season. In the preceding weeks the loss was 144, 92, 32, 8 and 12 acres.

Because of the growing hazard, conservation department forest fire fighters are asking tourists and campers to use extra care to prevent fires from starting. To date this season 716 fires have burned-over 11,806 acres.

Damage done by forest fires last season is estimated at $268,500. The 48,000 acres burned, however, amount to less than three-tenths of one per cent of the seventeen and a half million acres of state and private forest land now protected from fire.

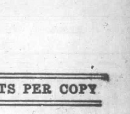
This and That

Gerald K. Miller



These next few years will tell the story of the continuation or decline of our great democracy. The chance of a small warfare is small. Hitler will have too much respect for our military forces to risk war but we do face an economic war, more terrible to combat and more fategul in effect because it is unseen.

Miller

Whether Great Britain stands or falls, the Totalitarian States will attempt to secure the commerce of the whole world. Right now they control virtually all Europe, the richest market in the world, and by barter, force and slave labor of the conquered nations, can easily compete with the United States in our own backyard.

Another stumbling block to the United States securing South American trade is our high standard of living. Being way above other countries, our prices are higher. As air exceptional example Germany, shortly before the war began, shipped munitions and farm machinery to South America to the value of $60,000,000. The same merchandise from the United States would have cost the South American country $200,000,000. For us to compete with this foreign trade this price difference must be reduced.

Therefore we must decide if we wish to export or not to export. If we decide not to, we must prepare to take care of additional millions of workers and their families who will be thrown out of work by our loss of trade. Supporting these millions more of unemployed will take billions more of money; thus, lowering our standard of living and leaving us worse off than before.

If we wish to export in competition to the Totalitarian States, we must either subsidize the exporting firms or lower wages. Subsidizing lower wages means the same thing to you or me. It takes our money from us. But subsidizing exports will not put additional men to work, merely keep us at the level we are now, and it will take billions of dollars yearly in taxes.

Too long have we attempted to survive by "getting something for nothing." The world or the United States, "owes," no man a living. The quicker we rid ourselves of these false philosophies, the quicker we can face the facts. The only way we can save Democracy is by hard work and sacrifice. If Democracy is not worth saving, we may as well turn our government over to Hitler now. If it is worth while, we must do the following:—First, lower wages so we can compete with other countries; second, increase working hours to 48 a week; Third, increase income and excess profits taxes so those not on salaries shall be reduced the same as those on salaries; fourth, reduce public and private debts in same ratio as wages are reduced. Then, and only then, will we be able to compete with Totalitarian Governments and by increased production, put our millions of unemployed back to work.

Can we do it? The Totalitarian Governments believe that we are too soft. If we try they are all ready by means of their control of large groups of labor and by fifth column activities to start a revolution that will put the United States in their hands without them firing a shot.

Can we do it? We can if we believe everything our forefathers fought and died for, everything we have lived for and everything we have hoped for our children was worthwhile.

OUR SOLEMN OBLIGATION

It is not too early to sound the call to all citizens that they are soon to exercise the most valuable right and solemn duty imposed on Americans by virtue of their citizenship. That is to select which individuals and which party are to govern us for the next four years.

To have to appeal to a man or woman to cast their votes is fundamentally wrong and abhorrent to our system of government. An appeal implies a free choice of action. Casting your vote for choice of government is a non-transferable personal obligation. It is a serious responsibility that each voter owes to the United States and all of its citizens and only physical or mental incapacity excuses anyone from discharging it.

The duty is more than to visit a polling booth and mark crosses on a piece of paper. Each voter is obligated to seriously study what each party stands for and to evaluate the ability of each candidate from the viewpoint of which will be best for all of the people of the United States and the country as a whole. Sectional differences, passion, prejudice or selfishness should never be allowed to interfere in the selection of our government.

When election day comes in November, having arrived at a firm conviction, each voter guarding our national interests as he or she would their own, then steps forward and expresses his or her opinion.

To do less than this simple duty is to stand convicted of a moral crime against our own United States, its citizens, neighbors and friends, family and the individual.

The good book tells us to love our enemies, but it would help a lot if it would explain an easy way of doing it.

FATAL HOME ACCIDENTS MATCH AUTO DEATHS

In the first six months of 1940, there have been almost as many fatal accidents in the home as on the highway. The Michigan Department of Health figures for accidental deaths from January through June show 689 motor vehicle fatalities on the highways and 673 fatal accidents in the home.

A study made for the National Safety Council shows that of the 673 fatal home accidents, falls and burns account for four out of five of the deaths.

"Eighty per cent of the fatal falls in homes were accidents happening to persons over 65," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "Undoubtedly most of these falls were due to the infirmities of age, rather than actual hazardous conditions in the home. It will be difficult to reduce the number of these accidents, for the actual cause of them lies in the physical condition of elderly people."

For the first six months of the year, the three leading causes of accidental deaths in the home were: falls 404; burns and scalds 142; suffocation 34. About a quarter of the victims of burns and scalds were babies and children under five, and another quarter were persons over 65.

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

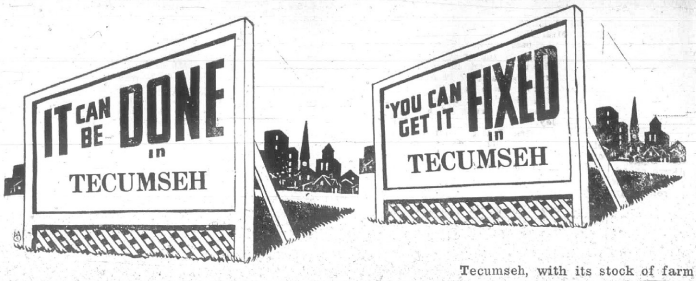
Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness — through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.



You can BUY it — in TECUMSEH

Tecumseh, with its stock of farm merchandise larger than ever before in its history, especially invites the FARM SHOPPER to trade here. Careful buying, small margins of profit, and credit terms if necessary make Tecumseh an attractive place in which to do business.

The next time you need anything for the farm—tools, machinery, repairing, welding, feeds, seeds, fertilizer and the dozen and one other items so necessary to progressive farm operation, TRY TECUMSEH FIRST.

Tecumseh merchants will treat you fairly — they want your patronage, day after week after month after year.

BLITZKRIEG TIME TABLE

Sept. 1—Germany invades Poland.

Sept. 3—Britain and France declare war.

Sept. 10—Canada enters war.

Sept. 27—Devastated Warsaw falls, ending Polish campaign.

April 9—Denmark occupied; Norway invaded by Germans.

May 2—British admit defeat in southern and central Norway.

May 10—Invasion of Low Countries begins.

May 14—Netherlands capitulates.

May 14—Germans break through at Sedan.

May 28—Belgian Army surrenders.

May 29—Dunkerque evacuation starts.

June 3—254 killed in air raid on Paris.

June 10—Italy enters war.

June 14—Paris falls.

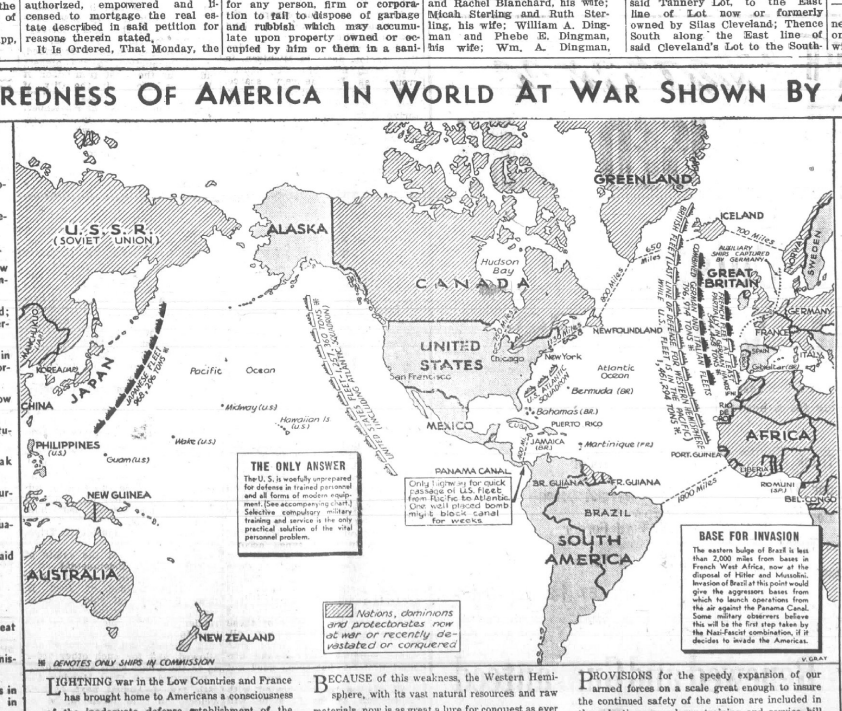
June 17—Petain admits defeat of France.

June 22—France signs armistice.

June 24—Fighting ceases in France with Germans in complete control.

Next—Assault by sea, land and air on British Isles.

NOW—The United States cannot afford to gamble on what might happen to British seapower. WE MUST PREPARE FOR DEFENSE NOW!



THE ONLY ANSWER

The U. S. is woefully unprepared for defense in trained personnel and all forms of modern equipment. (See accompanying chart.) Selective compulsory military training and service is the only practical solution of the vital personnel problem.

Only route for quick passage of U.S. fleet from Pacific to Atlantic. One well placed bomb might block canal for weeks.

BASE FOR INVASION

The eastern bulge of Brazil is less than 2,000 miles from bases in French West Africa, now at the disposal of Hitler and Mussolini. Invasion of Brazil at this point would give the aggressors bases from which to launch operations from the air against the Panama Canal. Some military observers believe this will be the first step taken by the Nazi-Fascist combination, if it decides to invade the Americas.

Germany and Italy have more than 30,000,000 fully-trained and equipped soldiers. Counting reserves, Russia has from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 troops.

The combined regular armies of the 20 Latin American republics is approximately 400,000, with partially-equipped reserves totaling 1,750,000.

LIGHTNING war in the Low Countries and France has brought home to Americans a consciousness of the inadequate defense establishment of the United States. While 30,000,000 men are under arms in Europe, Africa and Asia, there are less than 750,000 regular troops in the twenty-one republics of the entire Western Hemisphere. Counting reserves and U.S. National Guard, these nations could put into the field approximately 2,500,000 trained men—less than the number recently called to the colors in Rumania alone.

BECAUSE of this weakness, the Western Hemisphere, with its vast natural resources and raw materials, now is as great a lure for conquest as ever existed. With our Navy in the Pacific, the British Fleet is our first line of defense in the Atlantic. Our second is our regular army of 264,000 men and a National Guard of 242,300, ill-equipped for mechanical warfare. How long can we continue to depend on the supremacy of the British Navy in the Atlantic?

PROVISIONS for the speedy expansion of our armed forces on a scale great enough to insure the continued safety of the nation are included in the selective compulsory training and service bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Edward R. Burke, Democrat, of Nebraska, and in the House by Representative James W. Wadsworth, Republican, of New York. Under this measure, sponsored by the National Emergency Committee of the Military Training Camps Association, a gigantic reservoir of manpower would be trained and be on call for service in emergencies, in numbers determined by the President and the Secretaries of War and Navy.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, Aug. 8—Thar's gold in a snappy sizzling heat wave!

And no one knows it better than the Michigan tourist promoter.

This individual is legion. He has a collective fortune invested in properties, equipment and land, while his payroll is big business itself.

Say what you will about wilting, withering, sultry, torrid weather in July or August, it's worth a cool million, believe it or not, to Michigan's second industry—the vacation business.

A cool summer means a loss of millions.

Contrary-wise, a hot one is worth a gold mine to the tourist people.

To put it briefly, Michigan's healthful and stimulating summer climate is appreciated most effectively when the temperature elsewhere skyrockets into the numbing nineties. Thanks to Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron and St. Clair, Michigan's tourist sections enjoy an envious summer climate.

To appreciate fully what we have, just travel elsewhere!

"Roof Garden De Luxe"

For several seasons this column has proclaimed enthusiastically the many merits of the Upper Peninsula, "roof garden de luxe" of the Middle West.

North Michigan resort boosters, instead of being envious or resentful, have welcomed our words of praise. The reason is unique, and it is largely geographical. Michigan is not one peninsula; it is two. The tourist must travel through the lower peninsula before he gets to the upper peninsula; thus a good word for one inevitably benefits both!

The cool and charming land of Hiawatha, once a center for mining and lumbering, has been having a steady comeback economically due largely to several factors: More automobiles, more roads, more leisure time for vacations, and more facilities to accommodate the American gypsies.

Another reason is relief from heat: The average temperature in this north country is 65 degrees, no matter how hot it is elsewhere.

If you had only two weeks' time for a vacation, how much of the Upper Peninsula could you visit?

George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau at Marquette sends us these suggestions: See the "Seven Wonders" of Hiawatha land!

When you glance at the map, the eighth wonder will be that it is possible for a traveler to cover so much territory. For after all, you'll need a few days—preferably more—to enjoy the wonders of the North Michigan country too! But here they are, and woe be to the person who forbts them.

At St. Ignace the visitor should climb Castle Rock for a fine view of the Straits. Next, visit nearby Evergreen Lodge and its log architecture. See Marquette's grave and the outlines of old Fort De Baude on the the hill behind the park.

A visit to Michigan's "summer capital," Mackinac Island, will include old Fort Mackinac, Fort Holmes, Arch Rock, Sugar Loaf Rock, the Grand Hotel, and of course the Mackinac Summer Theatre and the Mackinac Summer School of Art.

En route north, you may go to the Les Cheneaux points—Hessel, Cedarville, DeTour and Old Port Drummond on Drummond Island where the last British flag on American soil was hauled down in 1828.

Soo Ship Locks

Wonder No. 1 is the great ship locks in downtown Sault Ste. Marie, open daily and Sundays without charge from 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. until Sept. 15.

For variety, skate on artificial ice at the Pullar Stadium; watch an afternoon military parade at Fort Brady. And don't forget, if you wish to visit Canada, there will be NO trouble about your re-entry at the border.

Westward on Highway M-28, you next visit Tahquamenon Falls, Wonder No. 2 — a leisurely trip down Hiawatha's winding river. (If time permits, drive around through Newberry to the Lower Falls and the Bodi Pines, 1,700 acres of virgin timber.)

Pictured Rocks near Munising are Wonder No. 3. Other scenic lures are Grand Marais, Grand Sable Falls, the Nagow Woodioo sand dunes, Miner's Falls, Lake Au Train and Grand Island. Nearby are the Marquette iron range cities—Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette.

Wonder No. 4 is the marvelous Keweenaw copper range with Brockway mountain drive, Fort Wilkins, Eagle Harbor, the Knights of Pythias foundation shrine and the miles of copper mine workings and reduction plants in the vicinity of Houghton.

New National Park

Isle Royale, Michigan's new national park, is the 5th Wonder. It is reached by swift cabin cruises from Copper Harbor or Eagle Harbor.

At least a day can be profitably devoted to the Porcupine mountains and the Lake of the Clouds (Wonder No. 6) at Ontonagon. With a little mountain climbing, a jaunt to the Victoria blow-off and dam and perhaps to Agate Falls climaxed by one of the famous Ontonagon whitefish dinners, it will be a big day, crowded with thrills.

Lake Gogebic, largest inland lake of the Peninsula, lies amid the Gogebic iron range, the capital of which is Ironwood and its towering Mount Zion park. If time permits, visit King's Gateway, Michigan's own "Sun Valley" resort of lavish appointments and variety of recreation.

From Watersmeet to Iron River, Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain down to Menominee, you enjoy a constant vista of scenic beauty.

Highway M-35 along the bay shore to Escanaba and Gladstone brings you to US-2 to the astonishing Kitch-iti-ki-pi Spring, last of the Seven Wonders.

Lack of space does not permit a complete listing of other points of interest during the above swing around the "Roof Garden." This rather hurried itinerary leaves out such grand sights as the Huron peninsula and the Huron mountains; the Sturgeon river gorge; the charming Big Bay region; Gwinn, the spotless town of Hiawatha land; gem-like Witch lake; Little Girl's Point, farther away from Detroit than in New York City; and many other things worth seeing.

It will be important to remember that the vast Lake Superior, extending 492 miles along Michigan's northern boundary, is the equalizer of the Upper Peninsula's summer climate. Hence take along your wraps! The evenings are always cool.

Editor's Note:

Michigan Leads Nation In Natural Wild Life

In its list of vanished species, and of species in danger and species restored or on the way back, no state has a record more interesting than Michigan's.

Michigan was the great nesting center of the passenger pigeon. William B. Mershon, of Saginaw, has assembled in his book on this extinct bird some of the most valuable data relating to its final history.

The Michigan grayling was world famous. More than a quarter of a century after grayling became extinct in lower peninsula streams, the fish was reported from the Otter river in the Upper Peninsula. A four-mile stretch of water containing grayling was closed to all fishing, but a recent survey failed to produce a single grayling. The Montana grayling has been introduced, but has not established itself in any numbers.

Michigan had native elk, perhaps within the memory of men still living. Elk were exterminated, and twelve years ago two small herds were brought in and released in the lower peninsula. They have increased, but we have no assurance that the elk will take its place among our game animals.

In early times, there were caribou in the Lake Superior country and a few bison on the southern prairies of the state. Strangest enough, there is no reliable record of the wolverine, which gave its nickname to the state.

Moose have been reported, in very small numbers, in the upper peninsula for years and now the herd made up of specimens trapped on Isle Royale and transported to the mainland seems to be doing well.

Among the fur-bearers, the lynx, fisher and marten are almost extinct in Michigan.

The sand-hill crane, a borderline species, nests in Michigan, in very small numbers. The spruce grouse has become very scarce. It has been brought into Wilderness Park and we hope it will thrive there.

Both the prairie chicken and sharp-tail grouse hold their own, in certain restricted areas. Our sturgeon of the Great Lakes is almost gone.

It is being pointed out that all species of wild-life are endangered by the increasing pressure of civilization.

SANITARY RESORTS TO BE MARKED

Tourists looking for sanitary resorts in Michigan's vacation land will have an easier time of it starting this week when the first of the new black and white roadside signs will be posted at approved resorts by state and local health departments.

In the sanitary inspection of cabin camps, trailer camps, resorts and other summer recreation centers in Michigan is rapidly being completed, according to John M. Hepler, engineering director for the State Health Department. The camps and resorts meeting the safe sanitary requirements outlined by the state will now be marked by a large black and white roadside sign reading "Sanitation Approved" in order that visitors will know where sanitary accommodations are available.

The various resorts are being classified in three types according to the quality of the sanitary facilities offered. Type 1 resorts include those having complete modern facilities, including hot and cold running water, flush toilets, electric lights, etc. Type 2 resorts may have some of these modern facilities, but not all. Type 3 resorts will have safe water supplies and sewage disposal systems, but these need not be of the most modern type.

All of the resorts posted with "Sanitation Approved" signs will be safe from a health standpoint, Mr. Hepler declares. Resorts which do not meet sanitary requirements will not be given an approval sign. Resort owners have been most cooperative in making improvements to comply with sanitary standards. A directory of approved resorts will be compiled later and made available to the public.

MORE PARKING SPACE SOUGHT

PARALLEL PARKING ON CHICAGO BOULEVARD CAUSES PROBLEM IN BUSINESS AREA

Parallel parking of automobiles on Chicago Boulevard, (M-50-52), in the downtown district, in keeping with an order from the Michigan State Highway Department, has greatly reduced the number of parking spaces in the business district and has caused the council to seek added parking lot facilities. The parallel parking order became effective last Sunday morning, and it is estimated that the new program has reduced by nearly 50 per cent the number of available parking spots on the boulevard.

Acting to increase parking space in the business district, the council is preparing to lease the ground at the rear of stores on the south side of the boulevard, as far west from Evans street as the Witherell building. Wade L. Jones, clerk, said that he expected that the leases for this ground would be approved by the council at its meeting next Monday evening, and that the village would then immediately prepare the ground for a new parking lot. It will be lighted, he said, and will be policed. Entrances will be from Evans street, at the rear of the Bidwell Block, and from the boulevard, at the Witherell building.

"The new lot," Mr. Jones said, "is within easy distance from all downtown stores, and it is estimated that 60 or more cars may be parked there without congestion."

Tecumseh's first parking lot, at the rear of the Strand Theatre and the The Tecumseh Herald has been one of the most popular spots in the village since the new order became effective. Because of its crowded condition on Saturday evening, the council believes that the second lot is necessary to accommodate the ever-increasing number of shoppers.

Parallel parking of cars also has been ordered on North and South Evans street, and on Pearl street. All of these streets are narrow and angle parking results in considerable congestion, especially in the event of fire or accident.

Francis Savage Killed In Toledo Accident

Francis Savage, aged 18 years, son of Bernard Savage of Tecumseh was killed instantly early Saturday morning in an automobile accident near Toledo. Mr. Savage was thrown from the car and and suffered a broken neck and other injuries. The driver was unhurt.

Besides his father Mr. Savage leaves his mother Mrs. Emma Savage of Delta, O., a brother Robert of Adrian; three sisters Irene and Hazel of Adrian and Velda of Chicago.

The funeral was held Monday morning in Swanton, O., with burial in St. Mary's parish cemetery in Adrian.

C. Hanna's court, last Saturday afternoon. The jail sentence was suspended by the justice on condition that Tressler return to his family.

STATE WILL AID COUNTY'S ROADS

FOUR PROJECTS TO COST ABOUT $200,000, ACCORDING TO LANSING ANNOUNCEMENT

LANSING, Aug. 15—A resurfacing project for 31.5 miles of state highways in Lenawee county was announced this week by Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner.

The work will cost around $10,000 and will start after Labor Day to avoid interference with summer traffic. Bids were opened yesterday in Lansing, and work will be completed about Oct. 1.

Roads involved are M-52, 11.5 miles from Adrian south to the State line; M-34, 10 miles from Hudson east to Cadmus, and M-156, 10 miles from M-34 south to Morenci.

A non-skid bituminous surface treatment will be placed over the existing road base, which is in need of repairs because of subgrade failure at certain points. A mixture of hard chips then is rolled into the surface.

"Concrete roads for these stretches would cost over $930,000 more than to total for this project," Van Wagoner said. "We have found that bituminous surfacing saves $400 a year per mile over the cost of maintaining gravel roads, and that hard-surfaced roads can be repaired at intervals at comparatively low cost.

"The highway department testing laboratory has recommended this method to enable us to spread highway improvement dollars over a larger section without impairing the service given by the roadway."

To avoid detouring traffic during the projects, one entire side of the road will be resurfaced before work starts on the other side, said Van Wagoner.

Replacement of existing concrete pavement on US-223 south-east of Blissfield and widening of the road surface will get under way about Sept. 1, Van Wagoner said today.

Bids were opened in Lansing yesterday on the 4.5-mile stretch, of which 3.245 miles are in Lenawee county and 1.257 miles in Monroe county.

The work will cost about $190,000, said Van Wagoner. It consist of grading the road, constructing necessary drainage structures and replacing the present 16-foot-wide concrete pavement with new reinforced concrete 22 feet wide.

The project is part of the highway department's annual program of eliminating faulty pavement along important State and Federal trunklines, said Van Wagoner.

Dr. Marsh Is Promoted To Major Of Michigan N. G.

Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, captain in the Medical Regiment, Michigan National Guard, last Thursday afternoon was notified of his promotion to major, commanding the First Battalion, Michigan National Guard, with headquarters at Wyandotte, Michigan.

Major Marsh has been a member of the Guard for the past 19 years and this is the third promotion he has won during that period. He was made a captain on November 7, 1932.

Major Marsh left on Sunday for Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, where he will spend 21 days in training with his regiment.

GROUND BROKEN FOR HOSPITAL

BOARD HOPES TO FINISH ADDITION BY NOV. 1; PRESENT HOSPITAL CROWDED

Ground was broken on Saturday for the one-story brick addition to Tecumseh Hospital, to be completed if possibly by November 1 at a cost not to exceed $25,000.

"The contractor is building the frame work for the foundation, and this will be poured, probably next week," Ray W. Herrick president of the hospital board, said today. "As soon as the foundation is finished we will rush the construction program, hoping to complete it in a little more than two months.

"Tecumseh needs this hospital addition badly," Mr. Herrick continued, "if we are continue to serve the community as we have in the past. Only one day last week we had 38 patients in the hospital, and a list of from 30 to 32 is not at all unusual. When you consider that the present hospital was built to accommodate only 18 adults, you may know that it is crowded to capacity."

The proposed addition will nearly double the capacity of the hospital, which was opened a little more than two years ago. The original hospital was built entirely through public subscription, the site having been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford. It was turned over to the village, debt free, and since that time has operated at a profit.

Because of the hospital's popularity it has been crowded to overflowing during the past year and early in the summer the electors of Tecumseh, in special election, approved a $25,000 bond issue, making the expansion program possible. The bonds, bearing a low interest rate and extending over a 20-year period, have been sold to a Toledo concern.

House and Straw Stack Scene Of Rural Blazes

Two farm fires, one in Raisin township, the other northeast of Tipton, did considerable damage, last Saturday.

The Tipton fire Saturday afternoon, was at the Earl Allen farm, about two miles northeast of that village, and started from combustion in a grain separator during threshing. The blaze spread to a straw stack east of the Allen barns, and the wind was blowing from the east.

The Tecumseh fire department responded to the alarm and aided by farmers who hauled water in milk cans, succeeded in confining the flames to the stack. The barns were scorched slightly, but the loss was reduced to a minimum. The Adrian department also answered the alarm and stood by to aid should the buildings ignite.

The other fire occurred about 11:30 Saturday night in the house on the B. F. Anderson farm in Raisin township, occupied by the Glen Daley family. The blaze started from a short circuit in the wiring in an upstairs bedroom and did damage estimated at $300.

The Adrian department responded to this alarm and succeeded in confining the blaze to the one room.

Wilson was blinded by sun on the windshield and collided with the two parked cars in an attempt to avoid a head on collision with two others approaching from the north. No one else was injured and the Wilson car was the only one damaged. Mr. Wilson was treated at Tecumseh hospital.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Miller

Reading history is one form of using your leisure that is never boring. In The Forum magazine published in February, 1897, is an article which brought to my mind that old saying that "History repeats itself." It was written by David Bennett Hill and entitled "The Future of the Democratic Party." Written after the defeat of the Democrats in November, 1896, his article brought out so many parallels to the present day I am going to quote directly from it.

"The course pursued by the Chicago Convention not only offended thousands of veteran Democrats who had grown gray in the service of the party, but was especially obnoxious to this class of thoughtful citizens. While democratic usages were ignored at the outset there soon followed the repudiation of old and well established Democratic principles and the substitution of new and dangerous populistic doctrines."

Then Mr. Hill goes on to talk of the "unwise provisions" incorporated in the Democratic Platform.

"First. The Income Tax. Never before in Democratic Platforms and never tolerated by the country, except in times of war.

"Second. The attack on the Supreme Court. The platform criticizes the decision of that Court declaring the Income Tax unconstitutional and declares it to be the duty of Congress to use all the constitutional power that remains after that decision to effect the imposition of the tax. A reckless Congress and a corrupt, ambitious executive unrestrained can "pack" the Court and force an acceptable decision."

Later Mr. Hill says "The Democratic party must disavow the numerous doctrines which were promulgated under its auspices. It is neither good politics nor is it honest to teach the people to expect Government to furnish a living for them; nor to lead them to believe that all the ills to which the body politic is naturally subject can be cured by legislation; nor to attack vested rights, to inspire disrespect for courts, to rail at those in authority, to openly or covertly resist established laws; nor to encourage a warfare upon chartered capital; nor to array classes against classes, and endeavor to sow the seeds of discontent everywhere."

There are pages more but the above will give you a very good outline of his thoughts. If I were a campaign manager for Mr. Wilkie I certainly would study very carefully the whole history of the 1896 campaign. It might help to win an election 44 years later.

Jehovah's Witnesses are becoming the latest thorn in our national flesh. Banned in Canada, listed as conscientious objectors in England, placed in concentration camps in Germany, the Order thrives on trouble.

Trouble has arisen here because of two main factors. First, their religion does not permit them to salute our flag. Second, as a part of their religion they must distribute the booklets furnished them. And then to make things interesting the United States Supreme Court rendered two decisions this year, one favoring the Witnesses, one against them, which has been like adding oil to a fire.

On May 20, 1940 the Supreme Court affirmed by unanimous vote the constitutional right of the Witnesses to distribute their propaganda and to play their phonograph records. On June 3, 1940, another decision of the Supreme Court gave school officials the right to force children to salute the flag. The latter decision, coming at the height of the fifth-column scare, made the Witnesses obvious targets for persecution.

But the Witnesses thrive on trouble, going out of their way to find it, but always in the interest of their belief. Let us hope that our Democratic ideals will not be "thrown overboard" in removing our latest thorn.

U. S. IN WAR

Keep your feet on the ground when talking about or listening to someone else talk about the war abroad. It is said we can be driven into the conflict in less than 24 hours time (when it becomes necessary) so we had sure better be very careful this does not actually happen.

It is well to keep this question always before you, "Can we serve the cause of democracy by engaging in this war?"

The cost of the last war raised the per capita debt of every U. S. citizen twenty times. It was $12 per capita before the war and $250 per capita after it. Since then the national debt has raised the per capita rate to almost twice the $250. Is it possible to multiply that approximate $500 per person debt twenty times again for another war?

Can democracy survive the penalties which such indebtedness alone would impose upon our people?

When we talk about "saving democracy," if we really mean what we say, war is the greatest risk we could take!

EXERCISE

It is strangely out of line with health needs to be eternally on the alert to avoid physical work and to steer away from everything that suggests leg exercise. Muscles were made to use, and if they are not used, they become soft and athropied. Inventors and self-appointed human caretakers have been so resourceful and active in wiping out toil and providing uninterrupted leisure that the average fellow doesn't get enough muscle action to keep his physique properly robust. Increasing use of motorized equipment in going and coming is fixing people so they cannot pedal along with the sprightliness intended by nature. More walking is important. All forms of physical endeavor help keep the human anatomy satisfactorily balanced and energized.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

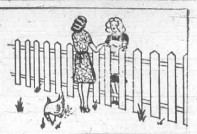
BY SUSAN THAYER



There are certain responsibilities that go with being an American. For one thing, it's up to us —you and me and our neighbor across the street—to make up our own minds about the various questions that harass the world and those that face us as a nation today.

Nobody gives us the answers, ready-made with no "if's" or "but's" dangling on them, as they do in so many of the countries of Europe. Nobody says: "Just do what you're told and everything will be just dandy."

Instead we're shown the difficulties and uncertainties in every proposition that comes along. We are shown quite clearly that there are two sides to every question. Sometimes three or four sides! Those who believe in it say: "This is a thing we ought to do and it will work because . . ." And then they give us their reasons. And those who are against it say; "This is a bad thing; a very bad thing!" And then they tell us in no uncertain terms how awful the results will be if we go for it.

Usually the truth lies somewhere in between these two extreme opinions and we, the people, see to it, somehow or other, that we take the middle way.

But listening to all of these arguments on the radio—reading about them in the papers—discussing them ourselves with our friends and neighbors and families takes time and trouble and makes us worry. Undoubtedly we worry a lot more than the people in the countries run by one man.

But isn't it worth any amount of worry and disillusionment and unpleasant facing the facts to know what's actually going on in the world and to have a part, even if a very small one, in determining what America shall do in this critical time?

Free speech, and a free press are two of the cardinal principles of a democracy—as vital to this type of government as is the privilege of electing the people who govern us or having that right of a free people to found and run a business for legitimate profit without interference from the government.

It's a sobering thought these days to realize that only in this country is the press free. Only here are we treated as adult human beings and permitted to know all sides of a question.

Only here do newsboys calling an "extra" on the street cry: "Read ALL about it," and I'm sure no matter what happens we all of us want to continue to be able to READ ALL ABOUT IT!

The methods employed in the conduct of our business are as thorough and complete as we know how to make them.

MAN RUNS CAR WITHOUT MOTOR OIL

You know that running a car without oil will ruin the motor —yet many people don't realize that putting off needed shoe repairs ruins shoes and feet. The sole and heel of a shoe hold it in shape. When they wear out, if repairs are not made immediately, the shoe "breaks down," often causing foot ailments. Have your shoes repaired at the first sign of wear. Heels and soles of quality material are inexpensive.

"We can afford REAL vacations since Henry's been advertising in The Herald."

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment:

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

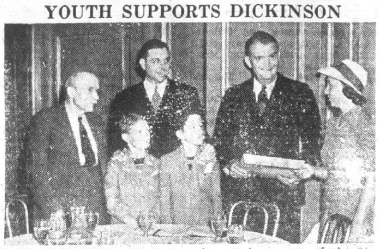
Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness—through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

YOUTH SUPPORTS DICKINSON



Seventy young people, representing nearly seventy of the 83 counties in Michigan, filed nominating petitions from their respective counties for Governor Luren D. Dickinson last week. Some of them will cast their first ballot for him this fall. Pictured above is Miss Jean Henley of Rogers City presenting Secretary of State Harry Kelly with the petitions from Presque Isle county. At the left is Governor Dickinson and next to the right is William Bishop of Alpena, President of the Young Republicans of Michigan. The real young Republicans are Harry F., Jr. and Brian, twin sons of the secretary of state.

Entries, mounted on white board not larger than 16 x 20 inches, should be mailed to Camera Contest, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, no later than Saturday, August 3.

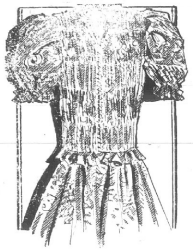
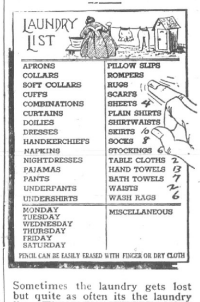
Neither good eyes nor bright lights are now required to thread a needle. A threader gadget does it. The needle is inserted in the threader, point up, and after the plunger is pressed in, the thread is looped over the hook as shown in sketch No. 1. When the plunger is released the threaded needle may be withdrawn, sketch No. 2, and upon pushing the plunger in again the thread is freed.



Here's a "bask-ette" worthy of a lot of "tisketing and tasketing." The prim basque dress of the 90's has been streamlined and zippered for the gals of 1940. The dress is highly adaptable too, since it is peplumed and corded, with the skirts coming in varying lengths.

Ordinarily ladies' outfits are short on pockets but 1940 styles in sportswear are definitely long on that commodity. Pictured above is a denim jacket with ample pockets that button-on and are removable at the weather's option.



Sometimes the laundry gets lost but quite as often its the laundry list. The gadget pictured above was designed to forestall the later mishap. The various items are printed on a slick surfaced wooden plaque and the numbers opposite them may be penciled or crayoned in, checked upon the laundry's return and erased with finger or cloth.

The element of security and convenience is added to that of comfort in this easy chair. Because the chair incorporates a closet section large enough to keep personal belongings within easy reach. Shown at a recent furniture market in the Merchandise Mart, Chicago, the chair is of birch and oak, finished a la rustic.

The Golden Text (Ps. 66:16) is: "Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 62:5-6): "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He is only my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 477): "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit. Man is the expression of Soul."

QUITS ROAD JOB

LANSING—State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner this week resigned his position as Consulting Highway Specialist in the Public Roads Administration.

His letter of resignation to Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of the public roads administration, indicated that provisions of recently adopted amendments to the Hatch Act made it impossible for him to continue in the office. The commissioner was first appointed to the consulting post in 1937.

Speaking of absent-mindedness, how about the young physician who in courting a girl forgot and charged her two dollars a visit.

STRAITS BRIDGE APPROVAL ASKED

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT ASKED TO O. K. PLANS FOR $26,000,000 BRIDGE

LANSING, Aug. 15 — G. Donald Kennedy, chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, this week took preliminary steps toward formal negotiations with the U. S. War Department to obtain approval of recently announced plans for a Straits Bridge.

These negotiations with the War Department previously had been delayed by failure of Congress to pass the necessary permissive legislation. Within a few days of the announcement of the report of the consulting engineers retained by the Authority, however, the U. S. House of Representatives acted favorably. A companion bill had already passed the Senate.

Measures which would permit negotiations with the war department have been before Congress for eight years. Action was obtained in this case when Speaker William B. Bankhead agreed to a suspension of the rules which removed the bill from the unanimous consent calendar of the House. The vote on the bill was 98 to 4.

The original measures granting permission for construction of the bridge were introduced by Senator Prentiss M. Brown while a member of the House of Representatives. He has kept the legislation alive through each of the succeeding sessions and handled its passage by the Senate substantially in advance of action by the House of Representatives.

Engineers reports recommend construction of a bridge across the Straits over the most direct route from a point southwest of St. Ignace on the north shore to a point near Fort Michilimackinac near Mackinaw City. The structure would include the longest clear span in the world, 4,600 feet, and is estimated to cost a total of $26,740,000 including interest while the project is under construction.

The Authority joined with the consulting engineers in recommending immediate construction of a causway from the north shore to extend 5,470 feet over shallow water into the Straits. This causway would eventually become a part of the bridge but would immediately benefit the state ferry service by shortening the route of the state boats from nine to three miles. This would step up capacity by 50 per cent. Cost of the causway is estimated at $965,000 and is included in total cost of the structure.

A 352-foot fill on the south approach to the proposed bridge would connect with steel girder spans extending 884 feet into the Straits. The main spans would be of the suspension type with the south span 5,180 feet long from anchorage to anchorage and the north span (which includes the 4,600-foot clear span) 7,952 feet.

The roadway would then be carried over 2,755 feet of steel girder spans to the causway from the north shore. Buildings and toll facilities would be built on the north approach. The bridge would be 150 feet above the water at the center and would have a three-lane roadway, 33 feet wide.

Operating costs of the bridge are estimated at $160,000 including administration, insurance and overhead. Estimated revenue based on opening of the bridge in 1947 would be $925,000 annually which would leave $765,00 for bond service.

Possibility of including railroad facilities on the bridge were considered but rejected because of an estimated $16,000,000 additional original cost and necessity for special operating equipment. A tunnel crossing was also considered but rejected by the engineers as too expensive both in original cost and in operation.

The three traffic lanes on the bridge would have a capacity of 1,200 vehicles per hour for each lane. Peak capacity would be 2,000 vehicles per hour in any one direction with one lane left to handle traffic in the opposite direction.

AIRPLANE SHOP TO DOUBLE SIZE

HEAVY DEMAND FOR SHIPS BUILT IN TECUMSEH; PAY-ROLL WILL INCREASE

An expansion program at the Meyers Aircraft Company, more than doubling the size of the factory and enabling the production of at least 10 planes monthly, was announced here today.

Meyers Aircraft, Tecumseh's newest industry, began operations here last fall in its building at Tecumseh airport, just north of the village. Already it has outgrown its original building, 40 by 100 feet, and the construction program now under way call for an addition equal in size to the original building, and a paint shop, 16 by 40 feet. All of the building operations will be completed about October 1.

The aircraft company at this time is employing about 30 men and as soon as the new buildings are completed this number will be stepped up to between 60 and 100, it was said. At present, about one plane is turned out weekly, and this number will be increased to at least 10 a month.

The Meyers ships are used entirely as training planes and the local craft is one of four built in the United States that has the federal government's approval. The demand for the Meyers planes is far greater than the production, and it was indicated that another building program during the winter or early spring seemed entirely probable.

At the present time, four planes are under construction at the Meyers plant, and three ships will be delivered this week. The ships sell for $6,500 each.

RAG WEED WAR IS ENDED HERE

298 BUSHELS DESTROYED BY CHILDREN IN GARDEN CLUB CAMPAIGN

The Tecumseh Garden Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. C. Heseen on South Union street, with Mrs. Wade L. Jones, Mrs. Thomas Elliott and Mrs. L. B. Lindbert the assisting hostesses.

During the business session Mrs. Neil Pearson gave a report of the drive for the eradication of rag weed. Twenty-five children took part in the campaign and pull 298 bushels of the weed, for which the club paid five cents per bushel. Gordon Pearson received an additional $1.00 from the club for pulling the greatest amount, 60 bushels. Jane Clark pulled 35 bushels, Darwin Creger, 31; Lester Frost, 31; Jeanine Clark, 22; Martha Jane Kempt, 20; and others lesser amounts.

Mrs. Lewis Lent reported on the garden projects of the Junior Garden Club. She said that because of the drought, it was the opinion of the committee that the exhibit planned to be held at the first meeting of the Tecumseh Parent - Teacher Association should be omitted and that the gardens should be judged by their general condition with points for excellence earlier in the season and that a larger number of prizes should be given than had at first been planned. Her report was accepted by the club and it was decided that these gardens should be visited within the next two weeks. Mrs. Ralph Helzerman reported on the presentation of one dozen vases for Tecumseh hospital and the club voted to purchase a dozen pottery vases in addition, for larger fall flowers.

The program included a round table discussion of "A Garden Center" led by Mrs. Leon Rosacrans. Mrs. F. C. Dickinson, Mrs. Glenn VanDenbergh and Mrs. J. M. Munyan participated in the discussion and explanation of the nature of the work and its origin. Names of native Michigan trees were mentioned in response to roll call and Mrs. Frank Buck read a poem on trees. Mrs. Ralph T. Lee of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Bruce Hoffman, formerly of New York, Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. George E. Wilson and Miss Margaret Van Denbergh were guests and each gave a brief talk. Refreshments of punch, cake and wafers, were then served by the hostesses.

PLAN ORGANIZATION

The Methodist Ladies Aid Society met Friday evening at the church when plans were made to unite with other societies in the organization of "The Women's Society of Christian Service." Rev. R. E. Books More Powerful Than Guns In Defense of American Liberty

LANSING, Aug 22—To Dictators Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin who dream of world control, the answer of Michigan public schools is this:

"Defend democracy through education!"

While news headlines stress America's feverish race against time for armament, Michigan educators quietly push plans for a long-range defense of democracy through an intensive program of citizenship training in every Michigan community. And as history goes, they are probably justified in assuming that books are more powerful than bullets. It just depends on the way you look at things.

The little red schoolhouse of "Country Schoolmaster" literary lore has been replaced in some parts of the state by the modern consolidated school. Yet as a symbol of free education it remains the American bulwark against the new flood of European ideologies.

It is a startling realization of how far-reaching Mr. Hitler's march of events has extended. Here is the reasoning behind the Michigan school movement.

On March 14, 1936, the German Fuehrer declared: "I do not believe there can be peace among the nations until they all have the same law and system of law. That is why I hope that national socialism will some day extend over the world. That is no fantastic dream, but an achievable object."

To the American people the prospect of national socialism, another phrase for totalitarian government by dictatorship, has not been inviting.

Since the adoption of our constitution, we have enjoyed for a longer period than any other nation on earth the benefits of democracy — officially a representative government under a republic in which citizens permit themselves to be ruled through chosen representatives.

Against the national socialism formula for collective security democracy stands out in sharp conflict. Concerned over the outcome of this clash of democracy with dictatorship, a congress on Education for Democracy was held in August, 1939, at Teachers college of Columbia university, New York City. The pressing question was this: What is the responsibility of education for the defense and advance of democracy? The answer came in a consensus of educators that the ideals of democracy can be realized only as democracy is seen and proved to be a way of living.

The educator believes with utmost sincerity that the survival

DEERFIELD OIL WELL PRODUCING

NATURAL FLOW OF 240 BARRELS A DAY AT THE GLOYD ROE FARM

The oil well on the Gloyd Roe farm, northeast of Deerfield, recently drilled by a Toledo company, began a natural flow Saturday at midnight with an estimated 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas and a flow of 10 barrels of oil an hour which has since increased to 14 barrels per hour. The flow started unexpectedly at a depth of 2083 feet and oil is being hauled away in tank trucks. Tubing was placed in the well Tuesday and the flow will be shut down to about 100 barrels per day.

A well on the Gilbert Lavoy farm north of Deerfield, which was shot August 10 is showing oil and will probably be shot again.

There now are 15 producing wells in the field and eight more are being drilled. The Montry well is the largest producer so far with a natural flow of 80 barrels a day for nearly seven months. The average daily run in July was 320 barrels for the 15 producing wells.

State Police Searching For Two Holdup Men

State police have been searching the past week for two men, riding in a car bearing Oregon license plates, who held up Marshall Lloyd Harris of Dundee, last Wednesday evening, relieving him of his gun and billfold. The hold up took place in the Coffee Cup restaurant in Dundee when the marshall accused them of being the men who held up a gas station at Jackson early Wednesday morning. He had heard the report over the radio. The men marched the marshall and the cook from the restaurant to the park where they entered their car and drove away.

Shortly after midnight Wednesday morning, a filling station attendant at Jackson was held up and left bound and gagged in a boiler room by two men who fled with $35. Another station attendant reported an attempt to break into his station just before the first hold up, but were frightened away.

Thursday morning an abandoned automobile with Oregon plates was found near Dundee.

TALKS TO ROTARY

Leslie Brown, plant manager of the Magnesium Fabricators, Inc., of Adrian, and a member of the Rotary club in that city, was the guest-speaker at the regular noonday luncheon of the Tecumseh Rotary, Tuesday at the Boston Cafe.

Mr. Brown gave a very interesting talk on the magnesium industry, declaring that the Adrian plant will play an important role in the defense program of the nation. He said that already the plant is planning to increase its output, the company studying plans to produce ten times as many castings as at the present time.

Guests at the meeting included Judge G. A. Rathbun and A. J. Walper of Adrian.

IMPROVE RIDGE ROAD

Nearly seven miles of the Ridge Road, from Ridgeway north, is being coated with a tar preparation over which a hard surface will be applied in a few days. A new 32-foot concrete and steel bridge is also to be built over Macon creek four miles north of Britton. The road work is being done by the county workers and bids were taken for the bridge construction.

FINED AS DRUNK

Thomas Boyd, R. F. D., Tecumseh, was arrested on Sunday by Tecumseh police, charged with drunkenness. In Justice Clyde Barber's court, Monday, he drew a fine of $10 and costs of $3.75.

GRANGE PICNIC

Tecumseh Grange is holding a picnic today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Parrett on the Ternes farm north-west of town.

TWO ARE KILLED IN ROAD MISHAP

ACCIDENT ON US-112 COSTS LIVES OF DETROIT, HIGHLAND PARK YOUTHS

Two men were killed and a Macon woman was injured in three traffic accidents in this vicinity during the past week.

Robert Prall, 21, of Detroit, and James Oates, 21, of Highland Park, suffered fatal injuries early Saturday morning in an automobile accident on US-112, when their car collided with a truck owned by the Standard Freight Lines of Chicago and driven by George Cunningham of Detroit, who was only slightly injured. The young men were on their way to visit the former's parents in Elwood, Ill., and the driver lost control of the machine on a curve, crashing into the truck.

Mr. Prall suffered a fractured pelvic bone and many lacerations. Mrs. Oates suffered a broken leg and internal injuries. They were brought to Tecumseh hospital where Mr. Prall's death occurred at 10 o'clock that morning. Mr. Oates died at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The former's body was taken to Elwood and the latter's to Tawas City.

A car driven by C. O. Bailey of Macon and another driven by residents of Hamtramck whose names were not learned, collided at a road intersection southwest of Macon Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mrs. Bailey suffered from bruises and shock and is still confined to her bed. No one else was injured. Both cars were badly damaged.

Miss Anna Schoenholtz of Tecumseh and Elmer Bryan of Springville, narrowly escaped injury, Sunday evening, about 7 o'clock, when his car skidded and overturned on M-50, near Billington's Corners. Neither person was injured but the car was damaged.

Negro Tenor Will Sing At M. E. Church, Sunday

On Sunday morning, Aug. 25, at the Methodist church special music will be given by an outstanding Negro tenor, Pruth McFarlin.

Mr. McFarlin is on the faculty of the Piney Woods School at Piney Woods, Mississippi, using his talent to help educate those of the race "who have not had the advantages he has.

A graduate of Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., and Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. Mr. McFarlin is known as the "artist with the million dollar personality." The Rochester Democrat & Chronicle says "Mr. McFarlin gets the most out of his songs by singing slowly and with careful attention to his words." A. J. Warner of the Rochester Times-Union states: "In the calmness with which he sang there was something almost hypnotic. His is a beautiful voice. Mr. McFarlin imbues whatever he interprets with sincerity and an inward light."

Mr. McFarlin's accompanist and traveling companion is his very attractive wife, Hazel McFarlin, who is an artist on her own account. No admission charge is made but an offering will be received. The hour is set for 10:30 a. m.

30-DAY JAIL TERM IMPOSED ON TRESSLER

Paul Tressler, 30, former traffic officer in Tecumseh, was taken to the county jail at Adrian, Monday, to begin a 30-day jail sentence imposed by Justice F. C. Hanna.

Tressler was arrested on August 10 by officers on complaint of his wife. In Justice Hanna's court he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to support his family, and drew a sentence of 30 days in jail and was ordered to pay costs of $3.35. The justice suspended the jail term on condition that he care for his family.

Deputies on Monday of this week again took Tressler into custody at his wife's request and he was again taken before the justice. The court ruled that he had violated the terms of his sentence of August 10 and ordered that he be taken to the county jail at Adrian to serve the 30-day term.

PAY FINE, COSTS

After they had pleaded guilty this week before Justice L. J. Van Dusen of Clinton, to charges of fishing with more than the legal number of lines, Elmer Wilt, Britton, and Bernard Tucker, Tecumseh, each paid a fine of $5 and costs of $6.85. The arrests were made by Leslie Olmstead, state conservation officer.

DR. W. J. BALMER TAKEN BY DEATH

FORMER METHODIST MINISTER HERE DIES AFTER ILLNESS IN PORT HURON

Dr. W. J. Balmer, aged 85 years, retired Methodist minister and former Tecumseh resident died Saturday morning at his home in Port Huron after several months illness.

Dr. Balmer was born June 7, 1855, in Kingston, Ont., where he attended the city schools. He also served a printer apprenticeship in Toronto and attended the Collegiate Institute. For the next four years he was a circuit minister at Jarvis, Orford Center and Salford, Ont., making the trips on horseback. He then attended Victoria College at Cobourg, Ont. and Wesleyan University at Bloomington, Ill., graduating with the degree bachelor of philosophy and master's degree. He later received his doctor of divinity degree from Albion College.

In June 1880 he was ordained at Brantford, Ont., and in the same year became a member of the Detroit conference of Methodist Episcopal churches. His first charge was Tecumseh where he was for two years at Tawas City. He also served at Monroe, Wyandotte, Morenci, Hancock and Ironwood churches and in 1909 became superintendent of the Port Huron district. He held this office until 1915 when he became pastor of the Burns Avenue M. E. church in Detroit, which later burned and was replaced with the present St. Mark's church. He also served a year as pastor of the Tecumseh church and in 1920 was chosen for evangelistical field work in various states.

He was retired by the conference in 1922 but remained active and was associate pastor of the First Methodist church of Port Huron in 1926-27. For the next seven years he served as superintendent of the Methodist Old Peoples' Home in Chelsea. After his retirement he returned to Port Huron and until his recent illness was assistant pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Balmer was a member of Tecumseh Lodge, F. & A. M., and of Huron chapter, R. A. M. and the Port Huron Knights Templar.

Survivors are the widow, three daughters Mrs. Charles S. Lauron of Port Huron, Mrs. Thos. B. Gillian of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Bertram J. Updyke of Tecumseh; one sister Mrs. Katherine Liddy of London, Ont., six grandchildren, among them Miss Janet Colegrove of Tecumseh; and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the church in Port Huron, Rev. Frank Bloomfield and Rev. John E. Mealley officiating. Members of the Ministerial Association were pall bearers and burial was in Lakeside cemetery.

INFANT DAUGHTER DIES

Susan Kay, eight months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Colson of Clinton, died Monday morning at Mercy hospital in Jackson where she had been a patient for a week.

Her parents and grandparents, Mrs. Grace Colson of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. William Jedele of Clinton survive.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Hause Funeral Home in Clinton.

MUST ENFORCE 2-HOUR PARKING

LONG-TIME PARKING OF CARS CANNOT BE PERMITTED UNDER NEW PROGRAM

More rigid enforcement of Tecumseh's two-hour parking code in the downtown district, and the opening of a second free parking lot at the rear of the stores on the south side of Chicago Boulevard, west of Evans street, was announced today at the office of Mayor Karl M. Schneider. The new parking lot, it is expected, will be ready for motorists Saturday evening.

"With parallel parking in the downtown district," Mayor Schneider said, "it is quite necessary that we enforce the two-hour parking law in an effort to give as many motorists as possible an opportunity to park their cars on the downtown streets. Parallel parking, forced upon us by the state, has reduced to approximately one-half the number of cars we formerly accommodated on Chicago boulevard under the old angle parking system. If we enforce the two hour code it will give everyone a chance to park at some time or other, and we believe will create less congestion in the business area. The enforcement of the law is for the benefit of the motoring public, and the merchants."

The two-hour parking law becomes effective on Chicago boulevard at 12 o'clock, noon, and continues until 6 o'clock in the evening. Sunday and holidays are excepted.

The parallel parking of cars on Chicago boulevard and Evans street, (M-50-52), was ordered a week ago by the state in accordance with the law passed by the 1939 legislature. Similar restrictions must be observed by all cities and villages where trunkline highways are involved. It is estimated in Tecumseh that the new parking plan has reduced by at least 50-per cent the number of cars formerly parked at an angle on the boulevard. Parallel parking also has been ordered on Pearl street and Ottawa street, both of these streets being narrow and dangerous when congested.

To accommodate the motorists who desire to park in the downtown district, and who because of the new parking plan might be unable to do so, the village has leased the ground at the rear of the stores on the south side of Chicago boulevard, west from Evans street as far as the Witherell Building. This property is being graded and rolled and made ready for the parking of automobiles. No charge will be made for parking, and the grounds will be lighted and policed. Entrances will be from both Evans street and the boulevard. It is estimated that the new lot will accommodate about 60 cars, approximately the number removed from street parking, as a result of the state's order.

The village's original free parking lot, at the rear of the Strand Theatre, is widely used and is very popular. It is within easy distance of all downtown stores, and is lighted and policed.

New Police Booth Is Installed By Village

A new police booth, for the accommodation of the public and officers on duty here both day and night, has been set up at the southeast corner of Chicago boulevard and Evans street.

The booth will be equipped with a telephone and within the next week it will serve as a headquarters for all telephone calls to the police department. A light will flash on the booth when the phone rings, and in the event the call is not immediately answered, the light will remain on and the officer will answer it as quickly as it is discovered. MEMORY OF 1884

While Alvin Brazee was repairing the roof at his home recently, he round a stick between the roof and ceiling of the porch inscribed "James G. Blain, Augusta, Maine, for our next president. Oct. 1884. Willis D. Minor, carpenter and joiner." Some here will possibly remember Mr. Minor.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Last Saturday, Elwood, for one day the center of international interest, rose manfully to the task of being host to 250,000 people. Southern hospitality was outdone by this little city of 11,000 souls, and the sincere desire of the natives to act as perfect hosts was reflected in the spirit of the visitors. In spite of the terrific heat and minor inconveniences the crowds radiated good cheer.

Restaurants and drug stores were forced to close an hour at a time to clean up and prepare more food. Automobiles were banned from the streets. Service cars, ambulances and newspaper cars were the only exceptions. Sandwich and pop-stands all over the town in store doorways; private yards and alley ways; hundreds of vendors selling souvenirs on the streets, so many that by mistake they sold souvenirs to each other; 100 police, from as far away as Chicago, 46 police towcars taking cars off the streets, loud speakers blaring out every few feet. Shipwreck Kelly standing on a two foot circular stand 75 feet in the air to advertise a national chain of grocery stores.

Through all this the tired, footsore and very hot crowd retained its good nature, and small town informality was the order of the day. Every person was a little awed and very proud that they were perhaps playing a small part in the destiny of the greatest country in the history of the world.

On the lawn in front of the school house Wendell attended I talked to "Big Six" Watkins, a school-mate of Wendell's, and now living in Kansas City, Missouri. Stories of Wilkie flowed so fast I could not write them down. However, I remember some of the things he told me.

Wendell Willkie was a contradiction. He was a rough and tumble fighter, always out to raise a little rumpus, but going out of his way to help the underdog. He loved to argue, was a good debater and the teachers were often at a loss to answer his questions. His work was not good in Arithmetic, but in History, Economics and allied subjects he knew more than many of his teachers. He read everything he could get his hands on and was regarded as a little unusual by the other students, as he not only played hard but worked and studied hard as well.

The nicknames the boys applied to the teachers were illustrative of the times. Monkey Face Meeks was the name used for Granny Cox the principal. Among other teachers were One-half ton Rodefer, Skinney Taylor and Roughhouse Neece, who used to take on the big boys when they became too troublesome for the other teachers. Roughhouse was the most highly respected teacher in the school.

I had the pleasure of meeting and talking a few minutes with Edith and Wendell Willkie after the latter's acceptance speech. I would like to give you my impressions of the Republican candidate for the President of the United States.

Friendship, kindness and sympathy are fundamental traits. When you talk with him you feel you are on bedrock, that the man personifies the fight Americans have made for and hold on Democracy. The capacity of his understanding, his honesty and sincerity can never be doubted. He is a man you would like to confide in, and you feel he could shoulder the troubles of the whole world as easily as we shoulder our own private troubles. His intelligence, his ability to lead and secure the best from men is understandable after meeting him. You feel, instinctively, you would like to help him in any way possible. He talks straight from the shoulder, is rugged and a fighter; in short, he is a real man, a man qualified to hold the greatest office in the world, the Presidency of the United States.

When I read the above it sounds schoolboyish, or as if the terrific heat had gone to my head. In reply I can only say to you, "You talk with Wendell Willkie and see what your impressions of the man are."

WHAT IS THE AMERICAN WAY?

Everybody is inclined to consider that his own opinions and prejudices about customs and institutions, principles and practices, represent the "American Way." The term is used to justify the most contradictory ideas. Nevertheless there are some principles and practices that are distinctively American and that are believed in by most Americans; especially a fundamental conception of freedom which is a part of our heritage.

We have built up our civilization here, and drawn our social pattern, on a basis of individual freedom. It includes freedom of worship, of speech and press and assembly, of residence and movement; liberty to pursue an occupation of one's own choice, to acquire and own property, and to enter into voluntary association with others in enterprise; and the right to participate in government through representatives whose arbitrary power is restricted by basic and statutory law and who are periodically accountable to the people. These rights do not constitute the whole range of American freedom, but are among the most fundamental.

It is true that these are not regarded as absolute rights. We impose limits by custom and by public authority. But we try to adhere to the pattern and we recur to it whenever it is temporarily disregarded. The conviction persists that this individual freedom must be maintained—limited only in order to preserve the maximum of it for all. For in the freest possible exercise of individual initiative and energy we see the mainspring of our past achievement and the guaranty of a greater future — the fulfillment of the promises of American life.

There is no other plan of human we know of that has produced or is producing a like result. Certainly the totalitarian systems now spreading over Europe — and not without their advocates here — bear no fruit that we crave. We believe in hard work—but in occupations of our own choice; in discipline—but self-discipline; in individual duties and group duties—but not imposed by arbitrary power; in cooperation—but of a free people.

Free institutions, however, affording the maximum of individual opportunity are not an accident of nature, like the climate—nor do they persist like the sun, moon, and stars for whose existence and movements and continuance we feel no responsibility. Generations of vigorous, industrious, and adventurous people have established these institutions. Only people of the same sort can safeguard and maintain them. A corollary of individual freedom is individual responsibility; each generation must earn again, by hard work, devotion to duty, loyal cooperation, productive achievement, its right to be free.

Through all the changed conditions that our increasing mastery of nature creates, through all the adjustments of human relations that such changes require, we are insistent on maintaining our heritage of freedom. Essentially, this ideal, interpreted in practice as well as our social experience and social intelligence permit, is the American way.

SHOE ON OTHER FOOT

Theorists in this country have from time to time taken some pretty vigorous whacks at advertising, intimating that it places an unfair burden on the consumer. And various high officials in Washington have declared publicly that they believe government should regulate advertising; that too much money is spent for advertising by manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers; and that the cost of advertising raises the price of goods or services.

It will be news to many readers, therefore, to learn that a brand new advertiser has now appeared in the paper match-cover field. The new advertiser is a branch of the Federal government itself!

Paper matches are now being distributed accompanied by this message: "KNOW YOUR MONEY. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITERS. SOUND YOUR COINS. EXAMINE YOUR BILLS.—THE U. S. SECRET SERVICE, TREASURY DEPARTMENT."

And the cost—why, that's passed along to the taxpayer!

"THE MIRAGE"

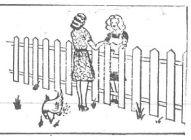
BY SUSAN THAYER



It's a far cry from the pomp and ceremony of "Schonbrunn," the great castle outside of Vienna where the Austrian emperor and his family spent the summer, to that simple white house on a New England village street where Zita, the last empress of that ill-fated country, and seven of her eight children have found refuge.

Even the small, twelfth-century castle in the Flemish village of Steenockerzeil, twelve miles from Brussels where this family of Royal exiles had been living since 1929, smacked of the elegance which used to surround the Hapsburgs wherever they went. There was a moat surrounding the castle and a drawbridge which was not lowered until a visitor's credentials had satisfied the retainer who stood guard at the medieval bridge.

But up in Royalston, Massachusetts only a low, white fence of wooden palings separates the last of the great Hapsburg families from the world. And the Empress Zita expects her younger children to attend American universities this fall! That will be better than private tutors, she believes. It is important for them to know the people of this country and how they live.

And what will the young refugees, who have lived in precarious exile all their lives, think of a country where people say what they please no matter if they are disagreed with . . . where newspapers report BOTH sides of a controversy . . . where young people follow their own inclinations in choosing a career?

Had they been born 25 years earlier, being Hapsburgs they would have had unusual privileges, honor, wealth. But never would they have had such liberty as will be theirs in America where Freedom rests on a tripod of representative democracy, civil and religious liberties and free enterprise; where the individual is more important than the state.

of democracy itself depends on education for citizenship—making democracy work and then defending it.

At a citizenship program held recently at Michigan State College, Dr. Elliott called for cooperation between the community and the local schools.

"In America we are going to fight for our idealism through the classroom and community, or both, and whatever the future may be, we must be ready for it."

This involves not only an appreciation of the benefits of democracy — individual freedom of press, speech, religion and individual opportunity for economic and political action—but a willingness to participate actively as a citizen in the affairs of government.

The ugly head of "politics" rears up inevitably, of course, but the fact remains that democratic government functions only to the degree that an intelligent citizenry votes wisely at the ballot-box of the primary and general elections.

It was Theodore Roosevelt who said: "The majority of the plain people of the United States will, day in and day out, make fewer mistakes in governing themselves than any smaller group of men will make in trying to govern themselves."

Frank Kent, political analyst, observed that good government begins at the primary election when nominees of parties are chosen. Likewise, he noted: "This is the reason machines are powerful and a sufficient explanation why so many unfit men are in public office. It can all be summed up in a single statement: The voters will not take part in the primaries."

Willard Earl Givens, executive secretary, National Education association, expressed the need of education for democracy in the following statement at the 1940 convention in Milwaukee.

"It becomes increasingly clear in the United States that the crisis throughout the world today goes to the very roots of our system of values and that it involves those personal rights, political liberties and representative institutions which we associate with the ideal of democracy. It is up to the schools to awaken the aspirations and finer impulses of the individuals who make up our democracy."

Michigan's public school system guarantees a free education for all children 5 years old to and including high school. Attendance is compulsory for youth 7 to 16 years old.

The 32,566 teachers (1937-38) received an average yearly salary of $1,525.04. Averages in other years: $1,993.58 in 1929-30; $1,328.81 in 1935-36; $1,614.10 in 1938-39.

Students total 960,410; school districts, 6,558.

The State of Michigan by legislative appropriations maintains six colleges and a university at which teachers can receive training: Central State at Mount Pleasant, Michigan State Teachers at Ypsilanti, Northern State at Marquette, Western State at Kalamazoo, all normal colleges, and Michigan State College at East Lansing and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. Wayne university, Detroit, does not receive state aid.

It's a $100,000,000 business. State appropriations totaled $48,838,177 for 1937-38, while city and county appropriations were $48,305,935.

Since the prosperity peak of 1929, the annual cost of educating a child in public and private schools has slumped materially. The national annual student cost in 1929-30 was $44.34; in 1935-36 it was $34.84.

Michigan's per student cost dropped from $56.53 in 1929-30 to $54.91 in 1935-36 and increased to $62.05 in 1938-39.

On a nationa scale education received $2,650,000 tax support during 1935-36. This was approximately one-fourth of the 1940 armament appropriations at by Congress at Washington, D. C. Elementary schools received 1,328 millions; high schools 810 millions, and colleges and universities 493 millions.

These sums, large in themselves, are dwarfed in contrast to government spending for bombing planes, warships, tanks, guns and munitions.

Yet they pay for the education of one-fourth of the entire population of the United States and the direct employment of more than 1,000,000 teachers, janitors, bus drivers and numerous others as well as the indirect employment of many in producing, selling and transporting the materials needed by the schools.

Also in the education for democracy picture is a realization by educators that public schools face more tough competition for public funds.

National defense has the right of way. Billions are being spent hurriedly.

As the birth rate declines and more oldsters await pensions, pressure for government funds is coming from new segment in American life.

Only 176 babies per thousand were born in 1938, compared with 25.1 back in 1915. That means fewer parents who are interested directly in the schools.)

Another compliating factor is the indifference of many teachers themselves to the need of acquainting the public with the modern school. Too many teachers assume that the public knows and appreciates the service of education in modern life.

The 15 mill limitation on local taxes has driven educators to Lansing for legislative relief. While state aid has gone up, home taxes have gone down.

The net result of these combined factors has been renewed activity by the Michigan Education association and the state department of public instruction to fit the schools into today's problems.

As evidence of the linking of education to democracy is the following definition of "The American Way of Life" by the National Education association:

"It is a free way, allowing one to live according to his own conscience;

"It is a peaceful way, settling differences by elections and courts;

"It is a cooperative way, emphasizing service to the common good;

"It is a democratic way, based on human brotherhood and the Golden Rule."

Such is the educator's answer to Dictators Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin.

Miss Genevieve Froelich Bride Of John Meska

Miss Genevieve Froelich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Froelich and Louis Meska, son of John Meska, were married Wednesday, August 14, at 6 o'clock at the German Lutheran church near Blissfield, by the Rev. William Weinlander. The single ring service was used and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sister Lucille Kasno was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Elizabeth Meska, sister of the groom, and Marjorie Korth, a cousin. The groom was attended by his brother August Meska and ushers were Eugene Froelich and Frederick Schultz.

The bride wore a floor length gown of brocaded organdie, with a long veil and tiara of pearls, and carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias tied with satin ribbon. The matron or honor wore rose taffeta and carried gardenias tied with blue ribbon. The bridesmaids were both in aqua blue taffeta with arm bouquets of gardenias tied with pink ribbon. Mrs. Froelich wore flowered crepe, street length.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Meska home in Ridgeway, 275 guests attending. The refreshments featured a three tiered wedding cake, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Schmidt and Mr. Meska and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Meska will begin housekeeping in newly furnished apartments at the home of the groom's father in Ridgeway.

Arthur E. Wood

Two years service in the house and 16 years in the state senate have given Arthur E. Wood, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in the fall elections, a wide reputation of faithfulness and ability among his friends in Michigan.

During these years, an all-time record for state senator service in Michigan, Mr. Wood served on many of the most important committees including finance and appropriation, labor, state affairs, elections, banks and corporations, judiciary, public utilities and state sanitariums.

Combining an extensive knowledge of government with enthusiasm for the welfare of the state, he has maintained an opposition to executive dictation and constitutional violations. He has fought the passage of worthless bills and initiated beneficial legislation dealing with the welfare of the state at large. Old age pensions, sanitariums for the tubercular, state aid for handicapped children and other humane legislation is the result of his efforts.

In addition Senator Wood provided licenses for real estate dealers and automobile drivers. He helped reduce the tax on small corporations and he drafted the Old Age Pension Act and repealed the head tax.

As lieutenant governor, he would be the presiding officer of the senate and a member of the state administrative board — a fitting office, his friends say, for a man known as "independent, fair, honest and on the job—opposing all rackets and fighting for a square deal for everyone."

Willkie Speech Of Acceptance Thrills Nation

Republican Candidate for President Outlines Policies Before Vast Audience at Elwood.

ELWOOD, IND.—Coming back to this, the town in which he was born and grew to young manhood, and before a wildly enthusiastic audience of many thousands, Wendell Willkie accepted the nomination for President on the Republican ticket.

In that acceptance Mr. Willkie promised the kind of leadership that will keep America a nation of free men, a nation of prosperous people, a nation offering opportunity for all.

He said: "An acceptance speech is a candidate's keynote, a declaration of his broad principles. It cannot possibly review the issues in detail. I shall, however, cover each of them frankly during this campaign. Here I give you an outline of the political philosophy that is in my heart. We are here today to represent a sacred cause—the preservation of American democracy.

"Obviously, I cannot lead this cause alone. I need the help of every American—Republican, Democrat or Independent—Jew, Catholic, or Protestant—people of every color, creed, and race. Party lines are down. Nothing could make that clearer than the nomination by the Republicans of a liberal Democrat who changed his party affiliation because he found democracy in the Republican party and not in the New Deal party.

Thunderous applause greeted Willkie's statement that party lines are down. When he said that times demanded the help of Americans from every walk, the cheers came wave upon wave, the vast crowd having sensed that it typified that very thought. Here were a hundred thousand Americans from every part of the United States, representing every faith, every station of life, yet carried away by a single devotion.

WENDELL WILLKIE

Mr. Willkie briefly sketched his boyhood in Elwood and told of his ancestors who, "like the ancestors of millions of Americans, lived in central Europe. They were humble people—not members of the ruling or wealthy classes. Their opportunities were restricted by discriminatory laws and class distinctions. One was exiled because of his religion; another was persecuted because he believed in the principles of the French revolution; and still another was jailed for insisting on the right of free speech. As their descendant, I have fought from boyhood against all those restrictions, discriminations and tyrannies. And I am still fighting."

Foreign Policy.

Mr. Willkie compared the peace of America with the conditions in war-torn Europe, and defined his foreign policy by saying:

"No man is so wise as to foresee what the future holds or to lay out a plan for it. No man can guarantee to maintain peace. Peace is not something that a nation can achieve by itself. It also depends on what some other country does. It is neither practical, nor desirable, to adopt a foreign program committing the United States to future action under unknown circumstances. The best that we can do is to decide what principle shall guide us.

"For me, that principle can be simply defined:

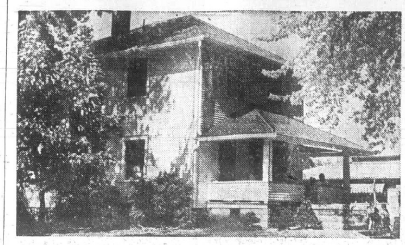
"In the foreign policy of the United States, as in its domestic policy, I would do everything to defend American democracy and I would refrain from doing anything that would injure it.

"We must not permit our emotions—our sympathies or hatreds—to move us from that fixed principle."

Again the crowd let out a deafening cheer. It was an exciting moment. A nation was waiting anxiously to hear Mr. Willkie's views on foreign relations. The enthusiastic response of the crowd reflected a nation thrilled.

National Defense.

From foreign policy Willkie turned to national defense of which he said in part:



Wendell Willkie's Birthplace at Elwood, Ind.

"We must not shirk the necessity of preparing our sons to take care of themselves in case the defense of America leads to war. I shall not undertake to analyze the legislation on this subject that is now before congress, or to examine the intentions of the administration with regard to it. I concur with many members of my party, that these intentions must be closely watched. Nevertheless, in spite of these considerations, I cannot ask the American people to put their faith in me, without recording my conviction that some form of selective service is the only democratic way in which to secure the trained and competent manpower we need for national defense."

He stated in definite terms his belief in a policy of providing to the opponents of force the material resources of this nation, and our own preparation for meeting any emergency that may arise, but criticized the President in his conduct of foreign affairs at this critical time, saying:

"There have been occasions when many of us have wondered if he is deliberately inciting us to war. I trust that I have made it plain that in the defense of America, and of our liberties, I should not hesitate to stand for war. But like a great many other Americans I saw what war was like at first hand in 1917. I know what war can do to demoralize civil liberties at home. And I believe it to be the first duty of a President to try to maintain peace.

"But Mr. Roosevelt has not done this. He has dabbled in inflammatory statements and manufactured panics. Of course, we in America like to speak our minds freely, but this does not mean that at a critical period in history our President should cause bitterness and confusion for the sake of a little political oratory. The President's attacks on foreign powers have been useless and dangerous. He has courted a war for which the country is hopelessly unprepared—and which it emphatically does not want. He has secretly meddled in the affairs of Europe, and he has even unscrupulously encouraged other countries to hope for more help than we are able to give.

"'Walk softly and carry a big stick' was the motto of Theodore Roosevelt. It is still good American doctrine for 1940. Under the present administration the country has been placed in the false position of shouting insults and not even beginning to prepare to take the consequences."

Cheers Interrupt.

Several times the speaker was compelled to stop as applause and encouraging shouts drowned out his voice. The cheers grew in volume and frequency as Mr. Willkie, citing France as a tragic example, declared in a firm voice that our foreign policy must "begin in the United States" and be dedicated to making us strong "right here in our own land."

Referring to the defeat of France, Mr. Willkie said in part:

"And in this tragedy let us find our lesson. The foreign policy of the United States begins right here in our own land. The first task of our country in its international affairs is to become strong at home. We must regain prosperity, restore the independence of our people, and protect our defensive forces. If that is not done promptly we are in constant danger. If that is done no enemy on earth dare attack us. I propose to do it.

". . . I promise, by returning to those same American principles that overcame German autocracy once before, both in business and in war, to outdistance Hitler in any contest he chooses in 1940 or after. And I promise that when we beat him, we shall beat him on our own terms, in our own American way."

A Doctrine of Growth.

For our home policy Mr. Willkie proposes to follow a doctrine of increased production, of increased growth, instead of the New Deal "doctrine of division," and said:

"We are not asked to make more for ourselves. We are asked to divide among ourselves that which we already have. The New Deal doctrine does not seek risk, it seeks safety. Let us call it the "I pass" doctrine. The New Deal dealt it, and refused to make any more bets on the American future.

"Why, that is exactly the course France followed to her destruction! Like the Blum government in France, so has our government become entangled in unfruitful political adventures. As in France, so here, we have heard talk of class distinctions and of economic groups preying upon other groups.

"As for me, I want to say here and now that there is no hate in my heart, and that there will be none in my campaign. It is my belief that there is no hate in the heart of any group of Americans for any other group—except as the New Dealers seek to put it there for political purposes. I stand for a new companionship in an industrial society.

"Because I am a business man, formerly connected with a large company, the doctrinaires of the opposition have attacked me as an opponent of liberalism. But I was a liberal before many of these men had heard the word, and I fought for many of the reforms of the elder LaFollette, Theodore Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson before another Roosevelt adopted—and distorted—liberalism.

Opposed to Monopolies.

"I believe that the forces of free enterprise must be regulated. I am opposed to business monopolies. I believe in collective bargaining, by representatives of labor's own free choice, without any interference and in full protection of those obvious rights. I believe in the maintenance of minimum standard for wages and of maximum standards for hours. I believe that such standards should constantly improve. I believe in the federal regulation of interstate utilities, of securities markets, and of banking. I believe in federal pensions, in adequate old age benefits, and in unemployment allowances.

"I believe that the federal government has a responsibility to equalize the lot of the farmer, with that of the manufacturer. If this cannot be done by parity of prices, other means must be found—with the least possible regimentation of the farmer's affairs. I believe in the encouragement of co-operative buying and selling, and in the full extension of rural electrification. But American liberalism does not consist merely in reforming things. It consists also in making things.

"And I say that we must henceforth ask certain questions of every reform, and of every law to regulate business or industry. We must ask: Has it encouraged our industries to produce? Has it created new opportunities for our youth? Will it increase our standard of living? Will it encourage us to open up a new and bigger world?"

New Deal Victims.

Mr. Willkie demanded that kind of legislation, that policy, that will encourage business to expand, to create jobs for the unemployed, saying:

"It is a statement of fact, and no longer a political accusation, that the New Deal has failed in its program of economic rehabilitation. And the victims of its failure are the very persons whose cause it professes to champion.

"The little business men are victims because their chances are more restricted than ever before.

"The farmers are victims because many of them are forced to subsist on what is virtually a dole, under centralized direction from Washington.

"The nine or ten million unemployed are victims because their chances for jobs are fewer.

"Approximately 6,000,000 families are victims because they are on relief.

"And unless we do something about it soon, 130,000,000 people—an entire nation—will become victims, because they stand in need of a defense system which this administration has so far proved itself powerless to create anywhere except on paper.

"To accomplish these results, the present administration has spent $60,000,000,000.

Mr. Willkie Accepts.

"I accept the nomination of the Republican party for President of the United States.

"I accept it in the spirit in which I know it was given at our convention in Philadelphia—the spirit of dedication. I herewith dedicate myself with all my heart, with all my mind, and with all my soul to making this nation strong.

"But I say this, too. In the pursuit of that goal I shall not lead you down the easy road. If I am chosen the leader of this democracy as I am now of the Republican party, I shall lead you down the road of sacrifice and of service to your country.

"What I am saying is a far harsher thing than I should like to say in this speech of acceptance—a far harsher thing than I would have said had the Old World not been swept by war during the past year. I am saying to you that we cannot rebuild our American democracy without hardship, without sacrifice, even without suffering. I am proposing that course to you as a candidate for election by you."

When the speaker finished, the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Hats went up in the air and shouts of "Hurrah for Willkie" came from many thousands. They left the great meeting repeating to each other the words "Willkie—the Hope of America."

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, Aug. 15 — The primary next month is Exhibit A of the American belief, prevalent since the days of Andrew Jackson, that a popular election is a certain cure for all ills of government.

Nine persons seek party nomination for governorship. Twenty others aspire for the lieutenant governor position on the ballot.

Compared with the previous record of 190 aspirants for state jobs, this year's political crop brought 240—an all-time high for Michigan. In Wayne county the primary ballots, blanket-size, will contain 509 candidates! It prompted one metropolitan daily newspaper to wonder what was worse —a boss-ridden convention in which slates were fixed in "smoke filled bank rooms" or a confusing primary ballot containing so many names that a voter was inclined to throw up his hands in utter helplessness.

It was the old-time party boss, who hand-picked the candidates for state contract reasons, that brought the party convention into ill repute and inspired the popular movement for selection of candidates by popular vote. Now, the other extreme is developing—a primary ballot of blanket size containing 509 candidates in one county alone. As the Detroit commentator walled, "we merely jumped from the frying pan over to an equally hot griddle."

Democracy will have a tough test right at home!

A Compromise

And yet Michigan's system for selecting state nominees is a compromise between the primary election for all candidates and a convention for the same purpose. Only two states, Rhode Island and Connecticut, retain the convention system of making nominations for all state offices. Utah in 1937 and New Mexico in 1938 adopted the primary plan, while both Rhode Island and Connecticut have bi-partisan state commissions which are studying the problem.

While many state primaries select all state nominees, Michigan limits its primary to the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, and members of the state legislature. Following the primary election each party holds a convention to select, officially by delegates, the nominees for secretary of state, state treasurer, auditor general, and attorney general. As the highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction are chosen at off-year elections, the 1940 primary will offer two chief state positions — governor and lieutenant governor — in addition to the United States senate nomination.

But even the lists for these positions are formidable. They place a heavy load on the intelligence of the voter, let alone an assumption that he is willing and ready to investigate the merits of each aspirant and to act accordingly.

Imagine the popular dismay if there were four more rows of candidates on the primary ballot for the remaining four positions! Yes, it could be worse.

Dickinson's Rivals

In the apparent belief that 1940 is a "Republican year" and that a popular pendulum will carry all party nominees to victory, seven Michigan men are contesting for the Republican nomination for the governorship. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, seeking re-election after six terms as lieutenant governor, is opposed by State Treasurer Miller Dunckel, Attorney-General Thomas Read, and State Tax Chairman Melville B. McPherson — all from the official family at Lansing. Others are O. L. Smith, Detroit attorney; Ernest T. Conlin, former state senator from Grand Rapids; and Charles Renaud, Detroit perfume manufacturer. Petitions of Roscoe Conklin Fitch of Ludington, a former newspaperman, have been held invalid.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, drew a last-minute opponent for the Democratic nomination for governor in Eugene I. Van Antwerp, member of the Detroit city council.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg of Grand Rapids is also practically unopposed, politically speaking. His ballot opponent for the Republican nomination is Bowen Gover, a Detroit salesman who ran three years ago for three offices, all at the same time.

Democratic candidates for the Vandenberg seat are five in number: Ralph W. Liddy, common pleas judge; Frank Fitzgerald, attorney, and Sid A. Erwin, assistant prosecutor—all from Detroit, and Michael J. Hart of Saginaw, former congressman, and Louis B. Ward of Pontiac.

Lieutenant Governor

Not in many a moon have so many people had the same idea at the same time—running for lieutenant governor. The woods are full of aspirants.

Ten Democrats and nine Republicans are among the official hopefuls.

Republicans — Horace T. Barnaby, Grand Rapids; Rep. Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth; Sen. Felix H. H. Flynn, Cadillac; the Rev. R. N. Holsaple, Cass City; Eugene C. Keyes, Dearborn; Arthur F. Moore, Metrindale; George W. Schudlich, Detroit; James Thomson, Jackson; and Arthur E. Wood, Detroit.

Democrats—Horace T. Barnaby, Grand Rapids; Frank Berka, Saginaw; Don W. Canfield, Detroit; Edward T. Kane, Algonac; Sen. David Martin, Flint; Frank Murphy and James L. Murphy, Detroit; Arthur C. E. Strom, Detroit; Charles J. Ratzenwol, Algonac and Anthony J. Wilkowski, Hamtramck.

The sudden death of Frank Fitzgerald elevated 80-year-old Luren D. Dickinson into national prominence as governor of Michigan. The large lists for this office prompted Stuart Perry, editor, Adrian Telegram, to comment approvingly at the increased interest. Perry pointed out that Governor Dickinson, if re-elected, is mathematically more likely to die in office than a younger man would be. The logic is irrefutable.

Short Ballot

One obvious remedy for the overburdened primary is an appointive system for many offices and a resultant short ballot for those to be elected.

Theodore Roosevelt, speaking at the Ohio constitutional convention in 1912, said: "You cannot get good service from the public servant if you cannot see him, and there is no more effective way of hiding him than by mixing him with a multitude of others so that they are none of them important enough to catch the eye of the average work-a-day citizen."

A form of the short ballot is the commission or city manager form for municipal government whereby fewer persons are elected and are held responsible by the voters.

Imposing evidence can be cited for the belief that the public's ability to discriminate among candidates to select wisely is in inverse ratio to the number of choices they are required to make. The longer the ballot lists, the less intelligently the public should be expected to act.

Some authorities go so far as to advocate the appointment by the governor of secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and possibly the auditor general.

Prof. Austin F. Macdonald, University of California, is of the opinion that the auditor general should be elective "for it is necessary to maintain his independence."

One immediate result of the flood of primary candidates was a movement launched by Emerson R. Boyles, following his appointment to the state supreme court, to have the State Bar of Michigan prepare amendments to the law making a felony the writing of false names on primary petitions. Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, ordered the name of Roscoe Conklin Fitch withheld from primary election ballots on the ground that petition signatures had been gathered for a previous campaign.

"Open" Primary

One of the acts of the Murphy administration was to eliminate a test of party affiliation from the fall primary.

This trend toward what is known as an "open" primary — whereby anyone can vote for a nominee regardless of his party activity—took place in Idaho, North Dakota, Utah and Michigan. In 1939 the Michigan legislature amended the law to require rotation of different party ballots so that each party ticket will be on top an equal number of times. Another amendment has made it necessary for a new party to file petitions signed by 4 per cent (formerly it was 1 per ceat) of the vote for the successful caadidate for secretary of state. (California requires 10 per cent).

The 1938 primaries in Kentucky and Missouri led News-Week magazine to declare that effective state political machines were just as successful in primary fights as they were previously in controlling conventions. The July issue of the Political Science Quarterly noted that state-wide direct primaries were gaining ground, despite criticism here and there. The other trend was toward the "open" primary, authorized here in 1937.

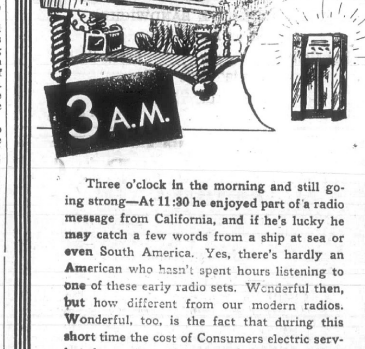
REMEMBER WHEN?



Three o'clock in the morning and still going strong—At 11:30 he enjoyed part of a radio message from California, and if he's lucky he may catch a few words from a ship at sea or even South America. Yes, there's hardly an American who hasn't spent hours listening to one of these early radio sets. Wonderful then, but how different from our modern radios. Wonderful, too, is the fact that during this short time the cost of Consumers electric service that makes this great entertainment possible has been reduced nearly 64%. And today the average domestic customer pays 25% less for Consumers electric service than the national average.

Half Million Motor Cars Need Half-Year Licenses

More than 496,000 motor car owners throughout Michigan are operating with first half year license tags which expire at midnight, August 31, according to an announcement today by Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state.

Although full year tags have been on sale at half price since July 10, Secretary Kelly reports that sales have been slow and that indications are that all offices will be crowded during the last week of the sale.

Many persons have inquired as to the possibility of an extension of the August 31st deadline and have been informed that under the law neither the secretary of state nor any other official has the right to grant more time.

"The law is clear on this point," said Mr. Kelly, "and it requires that violation tickets be given to car owners found operating without full plates on September first."

To aid last minute customers offices of the secretary of state will remain open after regular hours during the last three or four days of the sale.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETIETH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-EIGHT. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1940. FIVE CENTS PER COPY.

SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT WEDNESDAY

PROGRAM FOR NEW YEAR IS ANNOUNCED; TIME AT CENTRAL CHANGED

The new school year for Tecumseh children will commence Wednesday morning, September 4, at nine o'clock.

Following the opening session, the new time schedule given below will be observed for the school day. The morning session for all children attending at the Central building will begin at 8:15. The elementary grades in this building will be dismissed at 11:30 for the noon recess and the junior and senior high school classes will be dismissed at 11:45. The afternoon session for the same groups will begin at one o'clock and the dismissal times will be 3:30 for the elementary grades and four for the junior and senior high school classes. The school day for the children at the branch buildings will extend from 8:45 in the morning to 3:15 in the afternoon with the period from 11:15 to 12:45 for the noon recess. These changes have been approved by the board of education and are being made to provide sufficient time for the enriched school program which is being offered.

Children in grades one and two living east of Evans street and all third grade children should enroll at the East Branch building where two rooms will again be used under the direction of Miss Joan Borgards and Mrs. Ethel Truesdale.

The West Branch building will again house the kindergarten under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Updyke, a section of the first grade under the direction of Miss Mary Smith, and a section of the second grade with Miss Bertha LaPointe in charge. Parents living west of Evans street are requested to enroll their children for these grades at the West Branch building.

Children in grades four, five and six must enroll at the Central building. Teachers in charge will be Miss Elizabeth Cole, fourth grade; Mrs. Cora Ptaus, combination fourth and fifth grade; Miss Gladys Starr, fifth grade, and Mrs. Edith Smith, sixth grade. Possible increases in the anticipated enrollment may make necessary the employment of an additional staff member and certain changes in the assignments mentioned above.

Junior and senior high school students will meet in the high school assembly room to receive initial instructions regarding enrollment procedures and the classes will then be broken into groups under the direction of counsellors who will assist the students in their enrollment and program problems. Rural pupils who may desire to enroll in the high school before the opening day will have the privilege of doing so in the office of the high school principal on Friday and Saturday, mornings, August 30 and 31. Such advance enrollment is not, however, necessary.

Two new teachers have been employed for the coming school year. Miss Elizabeth Cole of Sturgis, Michigan, and Neville Hart. Miss Cole, a graduate of the Western State Teachers College, will, as stated previously teach a section of the fourth grade. Hart, who has been head of the commercial department at the high school in Menominee, Michigan for three years and has also served as assistant football coach at that institution, will have charge of the commercial work in the local high school and will also assume the duties of football coach in Tecumseh.

Chamber Of Commerce To Seek Angle Parking Here

The board of directors of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, in a special session this week, instructed Wade L. Jones, secretary, to appeal to the State Highway Department in an effort to free Tecumseh from the state's order, enforcing the parallel parking of automobiles on Chicago boulevard, (M-50-52) in the downtown district. Mr. Jones expects to prepare a statement and present it to the state next week.

Because Chicago boulevard is unusually wide, some persons locally hold that angle parking, of about 30 degrees would meet the state's requirements. The state, however, previously made an inspection and ordered parallel parking.

Under the existing program, the number of cars that can be parked on Chicago boulevard is reduced about 50 per cent, and the cause of considerable inconvenience. Several merchants have appealed to the Chamber in an effort to bring about a change.

LENAWEE YOUTH AT FARM MEETING

CAREER CONFERENCE UNDER WAY THIS WEEK AT HASTINGS CAMP

Jane Keran and William Fitter of Britton, Lester Fogelson and Victor Kneirim of Hillsefield are representing Lenawee county 4-H clubs at the first farm youth career conference being held at Clear Lake Camp near Hastings this week.

Those attending have been selected from Future Farmers of America, 4-H clubs and high school home economics organizations. Not all are high school graduates but all actually live on farms and have evidenced activity, ability and leadership in the fields of agriculture and homemaking.

The subjects for consideration and discussion at the group conferences are "Choosing a Life Partner," "Home Economics in the Professions and Government Service," "Occupations in the Manufacturing and Distribution of Commodities Essential to Farmers" and "Occupations in Agricultural Education."

The conference is under the joint auspices of the State Board of Control for Vocational Education, the 4-H Club department at Michigan State College, the American Youth Commission, the State Youth Planning Committee and the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

Opportunity for Michigan boys and girls in 4-H dairy club work to win scholarships at Michigan State College has been announced by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader.

Outstanding work in 1940 will be the basis for judging. One $100 freshman scholarship and one $50 freshman scholarship and a silver and a bronze plaque are to be awarded in the state. The National Dairy Products Corporation of New York City is furnishing the awards. A member of the state club staff, a member of the dairy extension service and a member of the college dairy department faculty will serve as a judging committee.

County agricultural agents will have charge of all entries from each county. Entries are to be submitted to the state 4-H club office at Michigan State College on or before December 1. Eligibility is to be confined to those boys or girls who are eligible to enter college as freshmen in 1941.

Scoring the entrant's dairy club project in efficient production, feeding his or her own dairy calf and keeping records in 1940 will be half of the points. Ten per cent will be scored for each of the following: low feed cost for each 100 pounds of milk; efficient use of improved pastures; efficient use of legume hay; efficient use of balanced grain ration. For the general record of the applicant another 20 per cent will be scored and the remaining 20 per cent on accuracy and completeness of the record.

More than 3,600 boys and girls in 79 counties are enrolled in dairy club work this year in Michigan.

James Woodward Jr., of Clinton, Dawn House of Macon, Donald Murphy, Florence Carothers, Granville Knitton, Lawrence Ash, Frederich Miller and John Houseman of Britton, Floyd Spence Jr., and Junior Pilbeam of Tecumseh were among those from this vicinity who went to East Lansing last week for the judging elimination tour held at Michigan State College for 4-H judging teams.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Miller

The past years have shown very clearly there is something wrong with our E f u cational System. With 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 unemployed and a lack of skilled men in essential industries, with men begging for jobs offering $15.00 to $25.00 a week, and companies looking for men who can earn and be worth $5,000 year and more, with this country offering more of everything that is worthwhile to the individual than any other nation and Communism, Fascism, and every other type of "ism" being taught in some of our schools, it is time we called a halt and give our schools a thorough going-over.

It is not the fault of educators that education is wrong, it is our own. We have paid the bills, the largest in the world for education, and then turned the schools over to men and women who have a lot of letters after their names and too much theory. They are in the rut we all fall into so easily—"they can't see the trees because of the woods."

Our schools should place more emphasis on the common things we all use every day in our lives. Our walking, talking, eating, our clothes, our personality—these simple things play a very important part in our ability to succeed and to have a satisfactory social life. We must go back to fundamentals in our educational system. We should add:

First, Teach our children to have clean and healthy bodies. Classes in health should be given every day from the day they begin school until the time they are graduated from college. Good health is the foundation of happiness and success in life.

Second. The building of character and right should be the principle objects of our school system. With these imbued in our children we need have no fear of the future. Practically all the wrongs in the world can be traced to lack of character and discipline in individuals.

Third. Patriotism. We study history, but so often it is in the abstract, full of wars, battles and dates. If all of us had a knowledge and understanding of our historical heritage the continuation of our Democracy would never be in doubt. Our schools must stress our long struggle for freedom and instill a hatred for corruption in government. We must teach that freedom is a heritage that was bought with blood and sacrifice, and perhaps must be defended the same way.

Fourth, Intelligence. Intelligence cannot be taught, it must be acquired. It is the ability to use experience—even the experience of others—for the clarification and illumination of our world. With this in mind Will Durant, several years ago, suggested that high school and college be shortened to three years each and then a two year post graduate course in technical training combined with actual work in their course in office, shop, or in the field. This would teach students to become intelligent and to step directly from college to their chosen field.

Fifth. Communism and Fascism must be purged from our schools. Plain lies and statements suggesting that we must make changes in government and in our economic systems are scattered through text-books used in many schools. Derogatory statements, and comparisons without truth are made to the detriment of the U. S. Everything possible is done to make a student doubtful concerning our country.

This fault can be traced directly to school boards. I d oubt if there is a schoolboard in the country that is communistic. I doubt if there are many schoolboards that take their job seriously enough to know the subject matter being taught in their schools. Running a school is big business, but it is not a business sense to run a school. We must have school boards who understand and make a study of education and its needs.

The above is a very brief summary of education as I see it. There is nothing new as these things are being done now in schools, but in a bit each here and there method. The problem of education cannot be put aside any longer. It is our problem, let us meet it intelligently and conscientiously. »

THE AMORTIZATION ISSUE

Currently in Washington, Congress and its committees have been considering measures that would help industry to protect the investments now being made to increase defense production capacity. "Amortization" is the term commonly applied to the operation involved.

Experts are generally agreed that for these new defense plants, five years is about the proper period during which the original investment should be redeemed. In the case of factories making peacetime products, the period is usually much longer — twenty year or more.

There is a reason for the difference between the two amortization periods. The five-year period is based upon the knowledge that, once the emergency has passed, plants making war equipment are likely to become useless. The only fair protection for the investors who have put their money in these enterprises to aid national security is to be as sure as posible that the proper reserves are established in a reasonably short time.

Though it is sometimes forgotten, funds invested in industry come from average individuals all over the country. Besides the eleven million people in America who are stockholders, there is the vastly greater number who have invested indirectly in the welfare of industry through banks, insurance companies, and instutions of that type.

The security of tens of millions of American families — and the security, too, of our entire economic structure — is involved in this question of amortization. It is no mere technical matter; it has a very direct and practical relation to the average home and the average American community.

Congress will be making a real contribution, not only to sound operation of our armament program but to the future security of American families and the savings upon which those families depend, by passing the five-year amortization measure as soon as possible.

TOBACCO TROUBLE

Can advertising be too successful? Various people in our government have flirted with this idea from time to time. Now the Department of Justice is accusing the tobacco companies of achieving "public acceptance" on too large a scale.

Here, in its own rather heavy-footed language, is what the Department has to say on the subject:

"Said defendants have by extensive and continuous nation-wide advertising and by various sales promotions schemes created and maintained such public acceptance and demands for their major brands that, the offering of such products for sale being a necessary adjunct to the conduct of numerous wholesale, retail, and service establishments, such establishments are forced to handle the product of defendants and others even on unreasonable and arbitrary terms, and at such prices."

All this might make some sense if the current level of cigarette prices had been established by tobacco companies and arbitrarily maintained there. But any smoker knows that the increase in prices in this field is the work of the government itself — the very outfit that is doing all the hollering. While advertising — which increases sales and hence aims at lowering the price per pack—takes less than a half cent for every twenty cigarettes, Federal taxes alone amount to six and a half cents, or thirteen times as much. And that takes no account of state and city levies, which frequently run two or three cents more.

It strikes us that in the present instance those who live in a glass house are throwing stones at the far more solid structure of their neighbors, in the hope perhaps that the noise that ensues will confuse the public mind!

One spring problem the old-time girl worried with that the modern one doesn't know anything about is when it's time to take off the heavy ones.

Why is it that when you tell a woman she is not looking well she will look triumphantly at her husband.

The old admonition to "love your neighbor as yourself" has been responsible for a lot of fellows landing in divorce court.

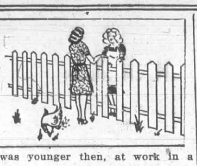
BY SUSAN THAYER



He was foreign born and old. Eighty his last birthday with great grandchildren to help celebrate the occasion. Wide-awake, little Americans who teased him sometimes about coming from a country where they boss people around and believe that machine guns are more important than automobiles.

But he loved America more than they did. Naturally. He knew what Americanism really means. Besides, he had sacrificed for this adopted country of his and sacrifice breeds love.

As the clouds gathered and it became clear that America must prepare for any eventuality he was troubled. He wanted to play a part this time as he had 23 years before when the country had prepared for that other war. But he was younger then, at work in a factory that stopped making typewriters to turn out shell cases for 75 MM guns and he had sons. Three of them went overseas with the American army and only one came back.

Now everything was different. He had been retired 10 years before and nobody thought he could do anything this time. Besides, there was the question of his nationality.

Then came the call for skilled workmen. Men who had the training and experience that enabled them to handle machine tools with the precision necessary to turn out the fine parts of an airplane. Hope stirred in the old heart.

He started out from his daughter's house one early morning to apply for a job. But would they take him? Or would they say he was too old? People said old men weren't wanted any more. And would they question his devotion to the United States because he had been born in a village in Europe eighty years ago.

He needn't have worried. He got the job. American Industry today is looking for skill and hiring it. The age of a workman isn't so important if he can do the job and hundreds of men who had retired are going back to work. Industry also recognizes the fact that today devotion to the American way of life is not a matter of nationality but of the individual's own love of freedom!

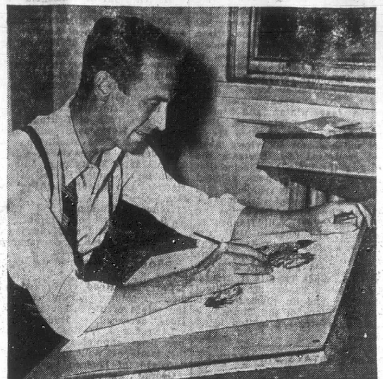
Famous Artist of "Our Democracy" Cartoons



Hubert J. Mathieu ("Mat")

Hubert J. Mathieu, who draws the "Our Democracy" cartoon series, has been nationally known for years as an illustrator of stories and serials in such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Ladies Home Journal, McCalls, Cosmopolitan.

Mr. Mathieu's first paid job was as a farm hand, and he owns and lives on a farm today. Born in Brookings, S. D., the son of the late Hubert B. Mathieu, dean of South Dakota State College at Brookings, the artist worked as a boy on nearby farms. He graduated from South Dakota State College in 1919. In his years of success he has gone back to the land. He owns and lives on 150 acres in Bucks County, Pa. The farm which this year has 20 acres in corn, 20 in wheat and 15 in oats, as well as hay and truck, is operated for Mr. Mathieu by his nearest neighbor, on shares. Mr. Mathieu says the farm pays both him and the neighbor.

The series of cartoons "Our Democracy" scheduled to appear weekly in this paper, Mr. Mathieu draws partly on his farm and partly in a studio he rents in New York, where the photograph above was taken.

Mr. Mathieu is of American Revolution stock, of French, Dutch and English ancestry. He is married and has four children.

His uncle, Oscar Mathieu, is senior agronomist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at Washington.

THEY THOUGHT HE WAS A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

This man thought he was well-dressed — but he had no idea what people said about his run-down shoes. Worn heels make you look like a "mountain climber" . . . give people the impression that you're careless about things that count. And keeping shoe heels in shape helps preserve the basic construction of your shoes. Rubber heels of extra quality are inexpensive.

similar duties for the boys. Each group will meet with their counselors two thirty minute periods each week and these group meetings will be supplemented with individual conferences when desirable. An attempt will be made in this way to assist our pupils in a systematic way in their educational, social, occupational and personal problems. The regular weekly chapel service, under the direction of the local ministers, will serve as a valuable adjunct to the program.

A second significant progressive step is the expansion of the industrial arts program to permit further basic industrial training and to provide more extensive training in such skills as are demanded by local industries. Facilities for instruction in drawing have been planned and additional metal working equipment purchased. This expansion will, it is hoped, enable our school to render a definite service both to the students and the employers in our community.

Parents are urged to enroll their children promptly in order to avoid delays which often prove costly to the child. It is also advisable that parents consult with the book dealers before purchasing texts for their children in view of the fact that a few changes in text books have been deemed necessary to provide up-to-date teaching material.

Teachers and administrative officers of the schools once more invite the same splendid cooperation on the part of parents and community which has been enjoyed in the past to insure another successful school year.

The initial teacher's meeting of the Tecumseh staff will be held in the high school building at 2 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, September 3. Policies for the coming school year and organizational matters will be discussed.

Following the regular business meeting the teachers will adjourn to the residence of Mr. Brazee at Iron Creek for a social evening with Mrs. and Mr. Berkhof as hostess and host.

quested facts. For children under 14 years of age, state the information on citizenship for either parent who has applied for citizenship by crossing out the word "I" and writing "My Father" or "My Mother" and then give the facts. If neither parent has applied, cross out the word "I" and write "Neither parent has."

Item 13. Relatives—If you have one or both parents, husband or wife, or children living in the United States, give the requested facts. For children under 14 years of age give only the information concerning parents.

Item 14. Arrest record — Enter whether you have or have not been arrested, indicted, or convicted for any offense.

Item 15. Activities for foreign government — Write "have" or "have not" according to the fact. If you write "have," state position held, length of time, nature of duties or activities, compensation received, and names of any such clubs, organizations, or societies. If you have been employed by any foreign government or subdivision thereof, the nature of the employment and the approximate dates should be stated.

Item 15 is perhaps the most important. It is necessary to fully state any possible activities in which the alien has taken part for a foreign government; this in order that the United States authorities may check on any alien who might show traces of disloyalty to this country. A fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for 6 months is prescribed by law for failure to register, for refusal to be fingerprinted, or for making egistration statements that are known to be false.

While the men felled trees, and carried logs, and built cabins, the women cooked and baked and the children carried water—and thus America grew out of the unity and cooperation of its pioneers.

COOPERATION WAS THE KEYNOTE IN HOME BUILDING BY THE EARLY AMERICAN SETTLERS

Since early settlers joined hands and hearts and worked together to build homes in a common spirit for a common welfare, America has never swerved from this principle of brotherhood—from log cabins to cottages to villages to great cities. This spirit is the cornerstone of our service: to offer advice and facilitate the building of your home.

Certainly, We Make Loans---

Loaning money is the business of any bank but loans cannot, of course, be handled indiscriminately, for the money that is loaned consists, for the most part, of funds that have been deposited with this bank by individuals who have been guaranteed safety and security.

We know the facts about the borrower, about the purpose for which the loan will be used, about the ability of the person who borrows to meet the terms of the loan.

But our requirement, on the whole, are easily met by most people and we welcome a discussion of their problems at any time.

FARM TENANTS LEASES URGED

FSA SUPERVISOR DECLARES PROGRAM IS BENEFIT TO BOTH LANDLORD AND TENANT

Now is the time of year for landlords to be thinking about who will farm their land during 1941, according to Dean Gordon, supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Lenawee county.

"There are a number of reasons why a tenant, if he has been satisfactory, should be told at this time he may continue on the farm another year or even longer," Gordon said. "Not the least reason is that if the tenant knows he will farm the same place next year it is likely he will plan for cover crops, or make other plans for next year, in time for them to be effective."

Because of the excessive cost of annual moving to both tenants and landlords, Gordon said, many landowners in Lenawee county are giving borrowers of the Farm Security Administration leases of from three to five years.

A check of the 92 families in the county on the FSA program reveals that eight of them have leases of from three to five years and that 30 families have written leases with renewal clauses. These leases are helping the tenants save as much as $50 a year each in moving costs and are providing for more stable type of land-use which benefits the landlord as well at the tenant. "Owners," added Gordon, "ought to be interested enough to see that fertility is conserved and that land doesn't erode."

"Surveys have shown," he continued, "that owners who give long-term leases have their farms in better shape and that the improvements are in good condition. We have learned that if a family knows in August or September that they will be on a farm the next year or two they will immediately take an interest in improving the house and barn and use better farming methods.

"All FSA borrowers use approved farming methods under the guidance of the county supervisor. Tenants who move each year usually mine the soil and leave it poorer than before. A short term lease doesn't encourage a tenant to build up land from which he receives sharply limited profit."

Supervisor Gordon said that he will be glad to explain the FSA's flexible farm lease to owner who are interested. In addition to suggesting early fall action on leasing matters, Gordon urged families who are eligible for rehabilitation loans to make their applications now so that work of making farm and home plans and other details may be worked out in time to begin farming early.

He was born in Tecumseh and is well known throughout the community.

Midnight Saturday Last Day For Old Licenses

Midnight this Saturday, is the deadline on first half year auto license plates, and Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, estimates that with only two days to go, there are still close to 250,000 cars without full year plates throughout the state.

All offices are prepared to handle last minute crowds and will remain open as long as there are customers to be served.

"Elimination of the trick or special favor plates, in favor of the uniform, scientifically designed 1940 plate, has enabled by offices to speed up service to plate buyers in rush periods," said Mr. Kelly. "The average waiting time we have found is four minutes per applicant. Formerly, search for special numbers slowed up the lines and caused much waiting and inconvenience to the public. Bookkeeping and all other operations have been simplified and we have strictly adhered to the rule that the applicant gets his plate from the top of the stack and in numerical order. One man as good as the other, and no favorites—that is our unbroken law. This has meant not only greater speed all the way around, but a considerably lower overhead."

The law does not permit an extension of time on the first half year plate deadline, and car owners operating with these tags after September first are subject to prosecution.

C. Mrs. Boise, who will be 87 years old in December was too ill to leave when boats came to America in July and is still awaiting her chance to return to her homeland.

The letter written, July 21, follows: "You will think it strange, my still being in Europe. Was too ill to travel when boats were leaving as my plans were to leave in July, I had hoped to get a boat. Now the boats are not coming to England to take people to the U. S. A. All boats have been sailing from Ireland. May fly to Lisbon, then fly in the Clipper to America. Have no fear as long as I can return. I love England and shall regret leaving.

There is very little I can write about conditions. You get news in all papers. Raids from German bombers visit us every few days, 2 or 3 times sometimes. The alarm sends us all into underground shelters for sometimes three hours. Was on a bus in town last week when the alarm came. We all rushed off the bus to the nearest shelter. It is a terrible feeling. Dear old England, has always been and will always be England. That terrible creature Hitler and his gangsters will never destroy the English empire.

Was very happy to hear Roosevelt is to be president again, as to change now would be a great mistake. My daughter and husband are now in Washington, D. C. My granddaughter is an English subject and is in England. Can't get any news from her but I am sure she is in good hands among friends. I seem to be perfectly fearless about danger. After all what else can you do? Have faith that you will be taken care of whatever comes that you can't avoid. The people I stay with are having some soldiers today for tea. Poor boys, so far from their dear ones. They enjoy a little home welcome.

Do not allow any Haw Haw or any German lies to affect you. Believe only the English news. They give out only the truth. This I know. You have no idea what those wicked Germans inflict upon the people under their control. Horrors upon horrors, most cruel tortures, starvation, beating helpless and sick old people, destroy hospitals. Those who try to escape from ships they shoot then set fires. They spare nothing. Destroy the weak and helpless. Plunder all homes and every spot in their reach. What a race of savages they are! I know—I was a prisoner during 1916 in Germany with my daughter.

If you do not hear from me or see me in time, remember I shall never suffer at the hands of Germans.

Your sister, Hattie.

SCHOOL OPENS; 610 ENROLLED

SUPERINTENDENT EXPECTS 30 OR 40 MORE TO REGISTER WITHIN FEW DAYS

An all-time record enrollment in the Tecumseh public schools was foreseen today by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, when he announced that at Wednesday's opening session, 610 pupils registered for classes. While this number is only one greater than the 1939 registration, Mr. Berkhof declared that it would be increased by between 30 and 40, due to late-comers. The total enrollment by the end of the month, he believes, may be 650. The 1938 enrollment was 592.

Registrations yesterday showed a senior class of 40 members and a freshman (ninth grade) class of 78. The latter number is unusually large for Tecumseh. In the kindergarten and the first six grades of the school, 300 pupils registered. In the upper six grades, registrations showed 310.

"The pupils seemed happy to return to school yesterday," Mr. Berkhof said in making the announcement, "and we ran through short class sessions during the forenoon. Today, we begin school in its regular form, the pupils going to their classes for work assignments."

The superintendent's office again called parents attention to the change of time at the Central Building. All classes are called at 8:15 in the morning and dismissed at 11:30 and 11:45 at noon. The afternoon session begins at 1 o'clock, the elementary grades being dismissed at 3:30 and the junior and senior high school students at four o'clock.

He declared that the field of refrigeration has "only been scratched," pointing out that it will be but a few years before the canning of foods will be obsolete, and predicted that each home, especially on the farm, will be equipped with a frosted foods cabinet for meats, fruits and vegetables.

Mr. Brown's talk was interesting and educational and was greatly enjoyed by the club members.

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW CHURCH

GRACE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN BUILDING IS NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION HERE

The building of a new church by the Grace Evangelical Lutheran society of Tecumseh at the corner of Maumee and Shawnee streets, was announced today. Already the basement excavation work has been finished and the pouring of the cement for the foundations will be started today. The new edifice, to be completed at a cost of nearly $5,000, will be large enough to accommodate about 150 persons, and present plans call for its completion by mid-November. It is hoped that the Thanksgiving services may be held there, if not its formal opening may be delayed until Christmas.

The Lutherans, until last March, occupied the Braun building on East Chicago boulevard, using the first floor of the building for church services and the apartments on the second floor for the pastor's residence. When this building was swept by flames the society accepted the offer of the Episcopal church at Clinton to use its building, and it is there that services are being held at the present time. Last spring, the church acquired the property at Maumee and Shawnee streets, and a residence that adjoins the church property has been remodeled and redecorated for the pastor's convenience.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Perhaps 50,000,000 people will go to the polls this November to vote for our next President of the United States. Until then we will be forced to listen to a lot or orafory that will do little to influence our vote either way. Unless something spectacular occurs to swing the 10 per cent of those who have not yet made up their minds, they will vote in the same proportion as the rest of the voters.

Miller

There are so many issues being brought to our attention that most of us will vote without knowing exactly what we are voting for. We will simply put the X in the Democratic or Republican column and feel we have completed our duty.

Mr. Roosevelt made the assumption in 1936 when he won so overwhelmingly that it was a mandate from the people to do anything he wanted to. Nothing could be further from the truth. Mr. Roosevelt has accomplished many worthwhile social gains. Some were far from overdue, others the country was not yet ready for. The result was misunderstanding, bitter wrangling, and a feeling by many that Roosevelt was actually under the influence of Communists.

On the other hand there have been many things that the people could not condone, even by those who had been ardent supporters of Roosevelt's administration. His conniving with the worst of political machines, his reckless extravagance, his attempted purge of faithful Democrats whose fault was that they did not support him in his foolish and dangerous whims, his attack on the Supreme Court and his attempted blocking of a free press are a few of the "experiments" that caused the whole nation to rise up against him.

The people of the United States who vote for Roosevelt this year are not voting for him because of his mistakes and because he has attempted many times to secure dangerous powers that in the wrong hands would wreck our Democracy. They are voting for him because of the many social gains made under his administration and not because of his mistakes.

Those who vote for Mr. Willkie have the same type of problem. Just as those who vote for Mr. Roosevelt do not vote for him for his many mistakes, those who vote for Mr. Willkie are not voting for him because they are against the social gains attained by Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Willkie has made an enviable reputation in the utility field. He has accomplished as much in his field as Roosevelt has in his, without the costly mistakes. He lowered the cost electricity over 60 per cent and increased the consumption manyfold, all with a profit to the company. The government, taking over his company, has been unable to operate at a profit since they have taken charge.

Mr. Willkie's acceptance speech at Elwood seemed weak to many political observers. His foreign policy is practically the same as Mr. Roosevelt's. He freely admitted the social gains made the last eight years and pledged his administration to keep them in effect. He promised the farmers to keep the farm program until something better could be worked out. He was frank in every way, and in an honest and sincere man would speak to another intelligent person. His record as a man of his word, a hard worker, his efficiency, his ability as an executive and leader show that Mr. Willkie could and would be a president that the nation could be proud of and depend upon.

On the surface there seems little to choose in the two men. They both express similar views on many of the outstanding problems of the day. However, studying further, we find that there is one outstanding difference in the philosophy of the two men, a difference that means much in the form of our government in the coming generations.

In 1932 Mr. Roosevelt spoke

LAND OF MILK AND HARMONY

The fabulous lands of ancient times were those that were mentioned as being rich in milk and honey. Agriculture was the one great source of wealth in those days; talk of milk and honey emphasized that fact.

Centuries later, it was America that set the pace in creating industry—the making of goods—as an even greater source of wealth and human well-being.

Today, as a result, the United States is rich both in agricultural produce and in manufactured goods. And to begin with, as far as farming goes, it is a land tremendously rich in milk, though honey isn't as important as it used to be. This country produces about 50 billion quarts of milk a year.

That's a lot of milk. Much of it is processed to make cheese and various other dairy products. In the process, vast quantities of "waste" are left over.

At that point, industry has stepped into the picture. In late years, research workers have found hundreds of ingenious ways — we almost said "wheys" — of turning this former waste into useful industrial products.

Plastics, fibres, paints, finishes, cosmetics, films—the list of things made from milk is rapidly approaching a point where it can be called "endless." Two great occupations in this country — agriculture and industry — are becoming more interdependent each year, in this and many other ways. Today 30 per cent of milk by-products have a sales value; the future will undoubtedly see this figure rise to new highs for many years to come.

And to the extent that this economic interdependence increases and is appreciated—to the extent that the industrial scientiss can find uses for excess farm products—isn't it reasonable to assume that we'll be moving along towards the day when this country can reasonably be called a "land of milk and harmony?"

ARE WE RESEARCH-MINDED?

Is the United States sufficiently conscious of the importance of industrial research? Do we in this country appreciate the tremendous stake we as individuals possess in the endless work that is going on in hundreds of industries all over the country to improve existing products and find new ones?

We'd answer the questions affirmatively, and without the slightest hesitation, after hearing about something taking place at the du Pont New York World's Fair exhibit. The folks there have been asking visitors all over the country to tell what new products they'd like to see invented. And the answers reveal an extremely serious interest in the subject on the part of the typical American.

The greatest number of people —about one out of every four— hoped for more new medical developments to check diseases now called incurable.

Longer-lasting fabrics and materials were second on the list. And third came new developments in food production.

In all these fields, industry has already made tremendous strides and day-to-day advances are to be expected.

Of course a handful of facetious individuals asked for a method of disposing of used razor blades. Americans have a sense of humor, and it's one of their most commendable traits. But above and beyond that, the great majority have a profound recognition that they can depend upon industry, and upon industrial research, to bring them the same gains in comfort and pleasure that these "forces for better living" have brought them in the past.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

Reading history . . . hearing the stories handed down to your own family . . . listening on the radio to episodes from our past . . . have you ever wondered why we built this country SO FAST?

Only a little more than a century and a half since we became a nation! Only 300 years since all there was of it were those few, precarious settlements on the Atlantic seaboard!

And now? We are the greatest nation in the world with power to lead that world, if we choose!

Have you ever felt that back of the urge which brought people to this country was something more than personal ambition? A great plan—perhaps—that caught them up in its unfolding so that they were eager to cross the ocean when it was six weeks wide, and dangerous; so that they were determined to go West, generation after generation until there were no more frontiers? Have you ever wondered why women as well as men, were possessed with such a love for land of their own that nothing mattered but gratifying it? Not drudgery, not danger, not loneliness.

Have you ever wondered why even the climate of this new world is for the most part more stimulating than that of the old so that men are necessarily active and intolerant of idleness? Have you ever thought that we are set apart between two great oceans or fonder why we have been so inventive and skilful with machinery?

Today, as the old world seems to be destroying itself, the need for a strong, new world, equipped by Nature and her own self-elected people for complete self sufficiency is apparent.

The great role, for which we as a nation have been unconsciously preparing through all of the swift, full years of our history, is not revealed. The part calls for colossal strength, great wisdom, tolerance and hard, persistent work if we are to play it well and and realize the destiny which our great past has made possible.

We have the necessary resources. We have the propitious geographical setting, the economic genius and the material development. Those who have gone before us have played their part well . . . but have we the Will, the Unity and the Vision to play this part as it must be played if the world is to go forward in its own development?

Each one of us alive in America today is helping to give the momentous answer!

HINDU FAKIR WALKS ON FIRE!

Your feet, untrained to such torture, demand protection. But if the soles on your shoes are worn thin, you, too, may be walking on fire.
Just because a shoe sole is labeled "leather" doesn't mean it's good. There are many grades—and only quality soles, molded to your shoes by real experts, are economical. Get a pair of these "extra-grade" soles tomorrow.

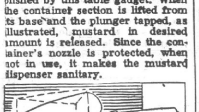
With the increasing interest shown in gardening novel types of equipment are becoming increasingly popular. A typical example is the jug-shaped bird sanctuary shown at the left in the picture above. It may be placed wherever desired since it is set on a steel pike which may be stuck in the ground. The unique clock is similarly movable although the pike is of wood.

There seems to be no end to the versatility of electrical servants as witness this corn popper. Not only is it equipped with a glass top to permit overseeing the process but, it butters the corn while it is being popped.

The dispensing of mustard without using jar or paddle is neatly accomplished by this table gadget. When the container section is lifted from its base and the plunger tapped, as illustrated, mustard in desired amount is released. Since the container's nozzle is protected, when not in use, it makes the mustard dispenser sanitary.



SERVES CAKE WHOLE

Cake baking is an art but anyone can serve it expertly now. Pieces of cake can not break or fall apart when served with this trowel-like gadget. You simply slide it beneath a piece of cake and the right-angle trough holds the portion secure and upright. An opening between the two lips of the server permits the crumbs to remain on the plate.

NOMINATE
ELTON R. EATON
On the Republican Ticket

He has held many positions of responsibility and trust in the past and he is honored and respected by all his official, business and social acquaintances. He has held many local public offices, was three terms sheriff of Kalamazoo county, and was personal secretary to Ex-Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck while governor, and he is at present a State Legislator from Plymouth (Wayne Co.) of several years experience, giving him definite qualifications for the office.

Elton R. Eaton

We have known Mr. Eaton for many years, and can vouch for his absolute honesty, faithfulness, and dependability in all he undertakes, in either civic, business, or political affairs, and know that he will acquit himself honorably. He has always been an ardent champion of justice and economy in state government, free from graft and boss control, and demanding aid for the aged and unfortunate. He is the militant editor of the Plymouth Mail, the progressive weekly newspaper of Plymouth, Michigan, and he has gained the reputation as the unceasing fighter for all that is good in state government. We, as fellow publishers in other parts of the state are glad to endorse his candidacy and pray for his nomination.

THIS AND THAT

bitterly about the concentration of power in the hands of industry and said this was the major cause of the depression. The wrongs that accrued under this arrangement were not in the public interests and he spoke heatedly how the concentration of power with any group led to many evils. However, since Mr. Roosevelt has had the Presidency he has spent much of his time securing more power until now he controls the lives of every one of us. Our wealth, our everyday living, our homes, our future, everything we possess can be controlled by our President. Mr. Willkie says that the power the industrialists held back in the 20's was wrong, but it is equally wrong to give this power to the President. A concentration of power to one man or a group of men will always lead to graft, corruption and a breakdown of Democracy. History is on the side of Mr. Willkie.

How you vote in November will determine whether you feel the President and his advisors should have this power or it should be transferred back to the people as it was meant to be when the constitution was written.

MEASLES CASES DUE TO RISE

PARENTS URGED TO BE ON LOOKOUT; PROTECTION OF BABIES ASKED

Opening of school should cause parents to be on the watch for measles, which will strike Michigan with epidemic force during the coming winter, says the Michigan Department of Health. One case of measles may mean an exposure of all the children in a school room.

"The only outbreak of disease that we are able to predict is measles," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, commissioner. "An outbreak is coming, such as we have every third year. Due to our warnings, more parents will obtain protection for young children after exposure to a case, for parents more generally understand that measles is a serious disease for babies and little children and one to be avoided or controlled."

In the last two measles epidemics, reported cases have been 80,000 compared with an off-year total of six or eight thousand cases. The monthly reports of measles are already higher than usual, but the peak is not expected until spring, when 25,000 or 30,000 cases may be reported a month.

If there is an exposure of a susceptible child to a case of measles, an attack is almost sure to follow, but the family physician can give a treatment which will control the attack and make it mild. The child will recover in two or three days instead of two weeks, and there will be little or no fever. The controlled attack, however, will give the child lifelong immunity against measles.

Babies and preschool children are the ones who need the protection which the physician gives five or six days after the first exposure to measles, before symptoms develop.

"It's the six-year-old who usually brings measles into the home," says Dr. Moyer, "and the pratective treatment is especially valuable in those homes where there are babies or young children who should have protection. Half of all measles and 90 per cent of the deaths occur in children under five."

Bible Lectures Continue At Lower Light Mission

Lecturer Evangelist Walter Zvoda has shown four sets of pictures at Lower Light Mission this week, illustrating his talks on Bible Prophecy that have been fulfilled in the Holy Land the past 4,000 years. Tonight he will start illustrating the prophecies that are fulfilling in Palestine today. He will show the persecution of the Jews in Europe and the Exodus to Palestine, as the Children of Israel are returning to the land of their fathers. This land that has laid waste for the past 1900 years is beginning to blossom as a rose, as the refugees are building beautiful farms and colonies and planting groves of citrus fruit and wheat fields. The New Jerusalem is being built up with streamline buildings and with out walls. Many illustrations of prophecy will be shown on the screen such as the Parable of the Fig Tree, with the many signs of the times, from Matt. 24. False Christs, deceivers, wars and rumors of wars, nations falling with many other signs nearing the soon return of Our Lord.

Interest in these meetings is growing and many expressions are being made of the interest and deep Bible knowledge to be gained by attending these meetings. Services begin at 7:45 each evening at the Lower Light Mission on South Maumee street. The public is cordially invited.

The generally accepted opinion that all elderly persons must cough, and that coughing is without danger to those about them is false. Elderly persons with a chronic cough should have an immediate physical examination, including a tuberculin test and X-ray if necessary.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

"My friend and I"

SOMETIMES ONE HEARS the sorrowful expression, "My friend and I have separated." Notwithstanding the possibilities of mutual aid and happiness in friendship, too often has this bond been broken by self-seeking or ambition on the part of one or both of those concerned. Hearts have been hardened and distrust of mankind entertained as a result of such ruptures. Without the knowledge that God is the one infinite Friend, human friendship lacks the only foundation on which fidelity and affection can be secure. In "Retrospection and Introspection" Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 80): "There are no greater miracles known to earth than perfection and an unbroken friendship. We love our friends, but ofttimes we lose them in proportion to our affection. The sacrifices made for others are not infrequently met by envy, ingratitude, and enmity, which smite the heart and threaten to paralyze its beneficence."

The desolation and loneliness of the human heart are healed when Love is found to be the divine Principle, God, who creates and maintains all that is lovely and good. The understanding of God as the one Friend, forever reflected by man, is of the utmost importance; for the proving of this truth requires that each one shall in his own thinking and living reflect the one Friend, express the Love which is universal and impartial. This view of Friend, as Principle, removes the longing for personal friends, waking rather the desire in oneself to be a friend to all through reflecting in one's life the universal Love which is God.

This true loving and living fills the waste places of seemingly lost friendships or aloneness with the rich satisfaction of communing with God and reflecting Him, as Friend, to all. In this true view, the concept expressed in the phrase, "My friend and I," is exalted beyond the finite personal sense to the conscious realization that since God is Friend, then each one, as God's child, expresses Friend. When one, instead of seeking how he can win personal friends, thus seeks to manifest what he knows of God, he will find his experience being enriched with many lovely manifestations of friendliness. . . .

Christ Jesus said (John 12:32), "I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." And near the close of his companionship with his disciples he said, "I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you." And he had just told them, "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you" (John 15: 12, 15). Here he made plain the true way of friendship, each sharing with others what he has learned of the Father. As he had shared with these friends what he knew of God, the Father, so after his departure they continued with one another in close bonds of Christly affection. . . .

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 266): "Would existence without personal friends be to you a blank? Then the time will come when you will be solitary, left without sympathy; but this seeming vacuum is already filled with divine Love. When this hour of development comes, even if you cling to a sense of personal joys, spiritual Love will force you to accept what best promotes your growth." This need not mean to us that we should not have friends, for indeed we should have many of them; but we should not believe that existence can ever be a "blank" or a "vacuum," since infinite divine Love is ever present, protecting us and making manifest to us all that is beautiful and good, as we look for all that is real in Spirit. . . .

The Rev. and Mrs R. E. Simons and son George have returned from a two weeks' trip through the eastern states.

Mr and Mrs F. P. Starrett and son of Villa Park, Ill., are visiting Mr Starrett's brother C. D. Starrett and family north of Clinton.

"He comes down here to get away from it all — business is so rushing since he began advertising in The Herald."

A Good Neighbor, a Welcome Visitor for Nearly a Century

For 90 years the people of Tecumseh and its trading territory have relied upon The Herald for the news of this community and the advertising messages of its merchants.

The Herald's enviable record of nearly a century of service has made it a welcome weekly visitor in homes, shops and stores, where annually hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent for food, clothing, farm implements, motor cars, luxuries, etc.

Your message, Mr. Business Man, if it appears in The Herald, is reaching these buying centers. Your advertising is included in a newspaper that is read by the members of the families that are spending these thousands of dollars each year for necessities and luxuries.

Consider for a moment;

You are a part of Tecumseh; are you doing your share of advertising for your store or business, your town and your community?

Are you, through advertising, attempting to bring more people to Tecumseh that they may learn of its advantages as a shopping center?

Your advertising—is it carefully planned and attractively presented? (Advertising, you know, is your representative. It is YOU in the printed form.)

Should you not consder a well-balanced, regular program of advertising; a program that will reflect the dignity of your business, the alertness of your enterprise?

When you advertise in The Herald you are advertising in a medium that has an enviable reputation for service; a newspaper that has kept abreast of the times for nearly 100 years; a newspaper its subscribers have learned to know as trustworthy.

Why not share with The Herald these advantages? Include your advertising message in a newspaper that is welcomed by the family circle. Present your story through a medium backed by 90 years of good neighborliness through a friend that has a front-door entrance to every home where it calls.

Michigan Leading Nation In 'Fifth Column' Activity

LANSING, Sept. 5—Because the United States is moving steadily toward a showdown in its policy of "aid England but keep out of war," Michigan is due for more "Fifth Column" troubles.

According to Lieut. Harold Mulbar, who heads the state's own "Scotland Yards" state police division for anti-subversive duty, Michigan has more activity of this kind than any other state with the single exception of New York.

Just because the idea seems a bit Hollywood-like and you would prefer to think that "it couldn't happen here," don't discount the possibilities that spies of foreign countries are busy at work right in your own home county. If we didn't have the solemn word of the deputy chief of state police detectives for it, we might be inclined to be skeptical too.

Where are these enemies of American freedom? How do they operate? What are they attempting to accomplish?

History is in the writing. Here are some hand-writings today on your wall.

Effective use of propaganda is a leading weapon of the Fifth Columnist.

Ever since Adolph Hitler wrote in "Mein Kampf" that Allied propaganda in the first World War caused the Fatherland to collapse, it has been certain that propaganda would be an integral part of the German war machine.

Dr. Goebbels became Hitler's right-hand man as minister of propaganda and public enlightenment. That was in 1933. The British waited until after Munich; the French until after World War II had begun.

Foreign propaganda has three fronts: Maintaining morale at home, undermining morale of the enemy and its allies and maintaining or winning friendship of neutral nations.

Two of the propaganda fronts extend to Michigan, and it is those that we are concerned about.

One subversive propagandist in the Fifth Column category is the person who seeks to overthrow the American form of government.

We quote Lieut. Mulbar: "Within the borders of our state there are men and women spreading propaganda against our government, persons trained in the art of espionage, sabotage, riot and military tactics who are impatiently awaiting the call to bear arms against the United States in a bloody revolution."

In other words—a communist or a fascist—if you please.

It is common knowledge at state police headquarters that Communists played an important part in the 1937 sit-down strikes by organized labor.

Furthermore, these anti-American forces penetrate into recognized institutions such as colleges, churches and public schools to further a spread of their ideologies. Quoting from "War Propaganda and the United States" by Harold Lavine and James Wechsler: "The propagandist has allies—the disgruntled, the discontented. In the democracies, they may be the Communists, the Left-wing Socialists, the pacifists, the Fascists, the defeatists."

These groups provide a fertile soil for the seeds of foreign espionage.

One way to hinder American military defense preparations is to spread the doctrine of pasifism.

Lieut. Mulbar charges that Communists, engaged in this activity, are utilizing churches and schools to further their objectives. He backs up his statement by displaying a number of pieces of printed literature which he says were distributed by Communists among school students in one Michigan city this year. Dr. Alexander Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, became so disturbed over these disclosures and others that he declared Communist students should be denied admission at Ann Arbor this fall.

"Facts in Review," the official German propaganda organ in the United States, has a reported mailing list up into the hundreds of thousands. Hundreds of professional people including college faculty members are on the list in Michigan.

Following a pattern set in the last World War, all out-in-the-open propaganda is aimed at upper class America. In April, 1917, when Congress declared war upon Germany and assured the sending of American troops overseas to Europe, the masses were quite indifferent to the Allied cause. Official propagandists center attention on the public leaders, while their hidden agents spread isms among the workers.

This combination is at work today in Michigan.

With the rise of war talk by interventionists who believe sincerely that the United States is headed for a head-on collision with Fascism, Michigan is bound to experience an intensification of fifth column activity.

The centering of huge armament contracts in this state will contribute much to make Michigan a battleground for espionage, in the judgment of state police officials.

Previous to the the fall of France, Jay Franklin wrote in Washington: "Irrespective of which party wins the election it is the view of American military experts that this country will enter the war within the year."

The United States News also observed: "Chance of United States' staying out of Europe's war is reduced. Nothing imminent; not this year; but Hitler is adding group after group in U. S. who will have a strong personal and sentimental stake in Allied victory. Result: every increase in prospect of British-French defeat adds to pressure for action."

This sentimental interest in the outcome of England's present do-or-die fight is increased in Michigan by our nearness to Canada and the residence here of many former Canadians. Counter to this pro-British wave are the Volksbunds which are numerous in our state and which hold frequent meetings—even rifle practice!—as their contribution to the Nazi cause.

Scores of Michigan plants have received important orders for armament supplies from British and American governments.

As long as the tempo of war action continues to mount, state police detectives are apprehensive that espionage agents will attempt sabotage of production.

"Thanks to the foresight of Commissioner Oscar P. Olander," noted Lieut. Mulbar, "the Michigan state police through the limited facilities of its 11 posts is keeping a watchful eye, as much as possible, on the activities of the fifth column throughout the state."

It is emphasized that the state police are co-operating with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the G-Men unit.

They are ready for any emergency.

Fred E. Shoemaker

Republican Candidate For County Treasurer

The following advertisement appeared in the Telegram, September 8, 1930.

Put in by Harry Bradley against Harry Osgood, then County Treasurer.

"I believe it is not the intention of the voters of Lenawee to make the office of County Treasurer a life job."

"My opponent has held this office for 10 years and is not yet satisfied that he has had it long enough."

"I think your sense of fairness will say that it is time for a change."

His argument then, should be good NOW.

Your Support at the Primaries Tuesday, Sept. 10, WILL MAKE THE CHANGE.

They gave a majority of their votes to Luren Dickinson, Republican, for governor, who will be opposed in the November election by Murray Van Wagoner, Democrat. Lieutenant governorship will be fought out in November by Eugene Keyes, R., and Frank Murphy, D. In the Congressional race, Earl C. Michener, Republican incumbent, was nominated and he will be opposed by Redmond Burr, D. Elmer Porter, Republican state senator, won the nomination, and Chas. Staub, D., also was victorious.

CLINTON STORE SWEPT BY FIRE

BAKERY BLAZE, LAST FRIDAY MORNING, CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

The Clinton Bakery, operated by H. H. Hoffman in Clinton, was completely destroyed by fire early Friday morning, the blaze, which started from grease which caught fire, spread rapidly and destroyed all stock, equipment and woodwork in the interior of the brick building. Mr. Hoffman had just finished frying doughnuts when the grease caught fire.

The apartment over the bakery was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. August Middlebrook and four children. Mr. Middlebrook smelled the smoke and aroused the family. His wife's mother Mrs. Emma Richardson of Traverse City, who is visiting them, collapsed and was taken to the home of his sister. Mrs. Richardson is over 80 years of age. The Middlebrook furniture was scorched and other furnishings and clothing damaged by smoke and water. Mr. Hoffman's loss in the bakery was estimated at $2500. Neither he or Mr. Middlebrook carried insurance.

The bakery building was a part of the brick block owned by the C. F. Smith Co. with a Smith store adjoining on the west. The grocery was not damaged but a beauty parlor on the second floor was damaged by smoke.

The W. P. Van Tuyle building east of the Bakery is occupied by the 5c and 10c store. Parke Kanitz, manager of the store, estimated the loss to store stock and his household goods at about $500, covered by insurance. Mr. Van Tuyle's loss is also covered.

During the fire a piece of falling glass struck E. A. Gibson, fire chief, on the head and severed an artery. Three stitches were necessary to close the wound.

The fire started about 4:30 and firemen worked until after 6 o'clock. This is the second fire in the same location. The first on February 2, 1902, destroyed five frame buildings, including the postoffice and a hotel.

Angle Parking Of Cars May Bring Friendly Suit

The parking of motor cars on Chicago boulevard, (M-50-52) in Tecumseh's downtown district, at a 30-degree angle instead of parallel, as required by the state law, began here on Wednesday. The parallel parking of cars, as ordered by the state, brought many objections to the village council and merchants, many motorists declaring that it was impossible for them to park their cars in the alloted spaces. Merchants also declared that the enforcement of the state law resulted in a loss of business because motorists refused to shop where they could not park.

Wade L. Jones, execctive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was in Lansing last week and conferred with state highway officials regarding the change. It was indicated at Lansing that a friendly suit might be brought against some town or city in Michigan that failed to comply with the 1939 legislative act, in an effort to test its validity. Whether or not Tecumseh will be named in the suit, or some other city, is not yet known. Nevertheless, Tecumseh motorists are parking their cars "at an angle" and are doing no worrying.

T.H.S. PREPARES GRID SCHEDULE

SEASON OPENS SEPTEMBER 27 AT HUDSON; PLAY ONLY THREE HOME GAMES

With Tecumseh high school's opening grid game only two weeks away, Coach Neville Hart continued this week to put his candidates for first string positions through the paces, preparatory to meeting the Hudson high team "in that city" on Friday, Sept. 27.

The Indian's schedule as announced follows: Sept. 27, Hudson, there; October 4, St. Mary's, Adrian, there; October 11, Manchester, there; October 18, Clinton, there; Oct. 25, Hillsdale (B team), here; Nov. 1, Morenci, here; Nov. 8, Blissfield, here.

The school experienced some difficulty in getting its seven-game schedule this year, inasmuch as a year ago it switched from the Huron Valley League to the Lenawee County League, which has five members besides itself. It was necessary, for this reason, to go to Hillsdale for the B-team game to complete the line-up. All games this year will be played at the Athletic park in Tecumseh, because the newly acquired athletic field near the high school is not in condition for play.

Coach Hart is enthusiastic with the candidates who are working for first string positions and it is expected that the Indians will show considerable more strength this year than they did a year ago. Practice games are being held nightly and there is close competition among the group for starting numbers. Those working for first team spots are: Dean Emmert, Oliver Bovee, Jack Brown, Bill Brown, Malcolm Bacon shaw, Don Brazee, Allen Brooks, Dale Carpenter, Chas, Coffey, Don Carlson, Jack Curtiss, Max Green, Bob Jewel, Bob Laidlaw, Bill Richardson, Jack McConnell, Bob Mohr, Jack Osburn, Ernest Oliver, Seaman Packard, Bill Sisson, Don Smith, Jim Spooner, Karl Schneider, Mahlon Sebring, Geo. Underfield, Bob Walter, Bob Wilson, Bob Williamson, Roy Hamilton, Wayne Jackson, and Harold Gorrell.

INDUSTRIAL AID AIM OF SCHOOL

INDUSTRIAL ARTS EXPANSION PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED BY BERKHOF

A program of closer cooperation between the public schools and the industrial life of Tecumseh is being sought by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, and to this end it was announced today that the board of education has authorized the purchase of drawing tables and necessary other equipment, making it possible for the school to offer a complete course in mechanical drawing.

The industrial arts expansion program follows on the heels of a step taken a year ago when some metal-working tools were added to the school's shop equipment, and a forge was purchased making it possible for instruction in welding and casting. This year Mr. Berkhof hopes to add a gas furnace, making it possible to melt metals at higher temperatures, and also to add other tools of a type similar to those used in local industry.

"We are vitally interested in the future of the boys who attend our schools, and many of them will not go on to college. If we can train them to be better employees in Tecumseh's shops, then we will be doing both the youth and the industry a good turn," Mr. Berkhof declared. "We plan to work into the industrial arts program gradually, as funds permit, but we do hope within a short time to have one of the finest programs offered in any school of our size in the state."

The regular September meeting of the board of education was held on Tuesday evening at the high school. The board was advised that the Works Progress Administration office at Flint had forwarded the corrected forms for Tecumseh's athletic field project to the Lansing office. Because the letter lacked further comment, it was assumed that the program as submitted locally is acceptable. This calls for the expenditure of some $26,000 in improving the natural amphitheatre near the high school, including the building of seats, grading, tiling, etc.

The school's guidance program is already under way this year, the board was advised, and pupils are meeting twice weekly with counsellors. These guidance periods last for 30 minutes.

Mr. Berkhof advised the board that a strong system of citizen education will be emphasized this year in the entire system.

The board approved an order for five new typewriters for the commercial department, and a motor-driven milk tester for the agricultural department. A set of the Americana Encyclopedias will be added to the school's library.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR LENAWEE FAIR

The Tecumseh Public Schools will recess on Friday, September 20, for the Lenawee County Fair, at Adrian, it was announced today at the office of W. L. Berkhof, superintendent. The board of education approved the closing at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening.

The county fair, billed this year as bigger and better in every detail, will get under way next week Monday continuing for one week. Attractions this year include an excellent racing program, an enlarged midway, and one of the largest displays of stock and produce in its history.

STORE REMODELED

The store on East Chicago boulevard, formerly occupied by P. G. Heidenreich, jeweler, is being remodeled and redecorated to suit the needs of its new tenant, the F. C. Hanna Insurance Agency. The work may be completed this week end.

As soon as the building is in readiness Mr. Hanna plans to move his offices into the new location from the second floor of the Bidwell block. The Heidenreich store has been moved to a store on North Evans street.

BISHOP IS COMING

The Rt. Rev. Frank W. Creighton, S. T. D., bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, has announced that he will come to St. Peter's church, Sunday, November 3, to make the annual bishop's visitation and to administer the Apostolic rite of Confirmation. Bishop Creighton will also preach on that day.

Those interested in coming into the full fellowship of the Episcopal church and the Angelican Communion are asked to see the rector of St. Peter's as soon as possible. An interview or attendance at the confirmation is a step which can be taken by adults at any time and by children ordinarily twelve years of age or older. Instruction classes will begin soon. The exact time will be announced later.

Mr. Palman hopes that the work may be completed within the next six or eight weeks, making possible a formal opening there early in November.

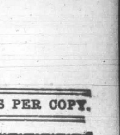
This and That

Gerald K. Miller



Miller

The failure of the Government to take the people of the United States into its confidence still remains a puzzle to me. Our unpreparedness can be traced directly to Congress refleeting the opinion of those back home. They in turn, not realizing how close by war has been approaching the last few years have naturally resisted the spending of huge sums for armaments. Our unpreparedness lies directly at the feet of those who do not believed that we are too young a nation to be told the "facts of life."

The trained military observers have been afraid to say too much for fear of being classed as war mongers, or of being laughed at. Now, however, with the collapse of country after country and England fighting a desperate uphill struggle to prevent invasion, they feel they can speak out with what they consider knowledge of what we may expect. The Pollyanna spirit must be changed to that of hard reality.

At the rate College military experts believe that England is doomed. Nothing outside of immediate intervention by the United States can save her, and now that help is too late. Also, that we are next on the Nazi war agenda. If England is invaded this fall we will be forced to meet the invasion of the western hemisphere in 1941. Like it or not, you want to, or you want to, but that is what the majority of army and naval officials actually believe.

The first act would be the bombing of the Panama Canal, leaving most of our Navy in the Pacific Ocean. Japanese trouble would flare up in the East, keeping some of the fleet there. The rest would be delayed weeks rounding the Horn, finally arriving to find nothing to defend. If the British Fleet were immobilized, the Nazis would have the greatest armada in the history of the world. German, Italian, and French units together with the merchant marine of Holland, Norway, and other subdued countries would bring troops, guns, and tanks in huge quantities to the Americas. And right now there are huge depots of all forms of war supplies in Central and South America and many islands along our coasts. Fantastic. Yes, but it is all in the plans of totalitarian war.

The official theory of the majority of military experts and high officials of Washington is that inevitably we will be forced into the war. This explains the actions of President Roosevelt and high government officials in trading actions that many of us have deplored. It does not explain their theory of keeping quiet of issues of the greatest importance which seriously affect all of us. To have the fullest cooperation in a Democracy, we must have intelligent knowledge of conditions as they actually are. We are entitled to know, and it is to our best interests to know the worst as well as the best. Once more I say, "Give us the facts, it's the sole hope of a united people.

DEATH IN MEXICO

A man named Leon Trotsky was murdered in Mexico City the other day. His death teaches no lesson except that those who live by violence usually perish by violence. But his life carries its moral for all Americans and all men of good will to read.

Perhaps more than any other individual of our times, Trotsky represented the view that theories of government could be applied wholesale and made to change the economic habits of single countries and then, ultimately, of the whole world. He preached destruction of existing systems, promising that after the old ways had been discarded the new ways that replaced them would mean "a heaven on earth" for all the earth's people. But the only part of Trotsky's program that bore real fruit was the destructive one.

What is the lesson involved? Surely it is this:

Theorists invariably feel that if they had their way they could remake society in very short order. It is their conception that the end justifies any means. They are not content with the slow progress of peaceful business and commerce, wherein through orderly production the number of goods and services used by the average person is steadily increased. Out of books and theories, they want to change everything in a single day.

All theorists are not as ruthless and inhuman as was Trotsky. But all are more or less victims of the same poison; all are willing to destroy instead of produce, feeling that after the "class struggles" and the regimentation and the wreckage are over, they can build a perfect society.

Trotsky lived long enough to see the world chaos that his theories achieved. He was probably too sure of his own genius to admit his error. But Americans can see the tragic results of his way—and are not likely to succumb easily to the argument that "the end justifies the means!"

WE REPLACE "TOY WEAPONS"

In National Guard maneuvers currently in progress in the United States, soldiers simulated real warfare with toy weapons made from cassines and blocks of wood. Similarly, Army trucks bore placards to indicate that they were supposed to be "tanks."

These episodes should remind Americans of practical problems that must be realistically faced.

A modern army is only as strong as the war materials it possesses. Only industry can provide the nation with arms. And it faces a tremendous job.

To perform that job most successfully, industry needs public help and public understanding of its problems. The present clamor for raising an army should not obscure the extremely pressing problem of arming our soldiers.

The unequivocal support that industry is giving our national defense program is a matter of fact and record. In connection with it, remembering the picture of real men drilling with toy guns and riding in mythical tanks, we need constant reminders that the manufacturing job is a primary one in American national defense today.

TOURIST SEASON AT PEAK OVER LABOR DAY

LANSING, Sept. 12—The Michigan tourist season reached its climax over the Labor Day week end with a rush of traffic at the Straits of Mackinac.

Following the double holiday period, Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced that traffic for the week end from Friday through Monday, inclusive, totaled 13,979 vehicles, a 4.7 percent increase over last year's record volume. The heaviest day was on Sunday when 4,227 vehicles were transported.

In terms of past years experience this was the heaviest total traffic for the holiday week end in the department's history. The previous high Labor Day week end was last year when the ferry services handled 13,530 vehicles. The Sunday previous to Labor Day last year, however, remains as the highest single day in the history of the service. Sunday this year was within nine vehicles of the record of 4,227 vehicles.

THESE ARE MY JEWELS

BY SUSAN THAYER

They LOOK different — the different parts of this country. The elm-shaded streets of old New England towns are not at all like the wind-blown streets of prairie villages. The square white houses topped with "captain's walks" of seaport settlements have an atmosphere about them that is altogether lacking in the new stucco houses of the Southwest.

But underneath and through it all is something stronger than these differences; something more potent than the fascinating variety. And that is—the SAMENESS!

Everywhere you go, from Maine to California, we are, first and foremost and above all, Americans. We are nourished by the same impulses — inspired by the same ideals and, to be mundane and practical, served by the same producers.

A 10-cent store on the streets of a town built by sea-faring Yankees in the 18th century even smells the same as a 10-cent store on the street of a western oil town that sprang up a dozen years ago. Looking at the familiar displays in a drugstore window you feel yourself "at home" no matter where you are or what part of the country you hail from.

Monotonous? Stereotyped? Maybe. There might be more color to the American scene if there were great sectional differences and regional cultures. But there would not be the strength, the similarity of outlook and the possibility for national unity such as the world has never known, without this national uniformity.

If the good people of Connecticut ate a breakfast food the good people of Nebraska had never heard of . . . if the movie stars of Hollywood had a face cream unknown to the ladies of New York . . . and if the people of South Carolina drove cars strange to Michigan, this country could not be what is is today and will be tomorrow.

Eating the same foods . . . using the same face powder . . . wearing the same clothes . . . using the same vacuum cleaner . . . driving the same cars, gives us an understanding of each other that has nothing to do with distance or climate or historical background.

So it is our manufacturers, as well as our writers and statesmen and educators, that make us ONE people. For by producing goods for Americans as a whole and by a unique system of distribution they are able to sell them in every city, town and village throughout this far-flung land. . . .

Thus are we united by our every-day habits of living, as well as by our ideals of Liberty!

KATTY KITTY Says

The awfulest things.

Kitty's a snip . . . always making terrible remarks about people. Just yesterday, she referred to Mrs. J. Morton Richbucks as a LEOPARDESS. "I mean," she explained, "that she's worn the same spots for YEARS."

We think spot removal's highly important in cleaning. That's why we employ expert "spotters" and spend a lot of time getting the most insignificant spots out of garments. Send us a difficult cleaning job tomorrow.

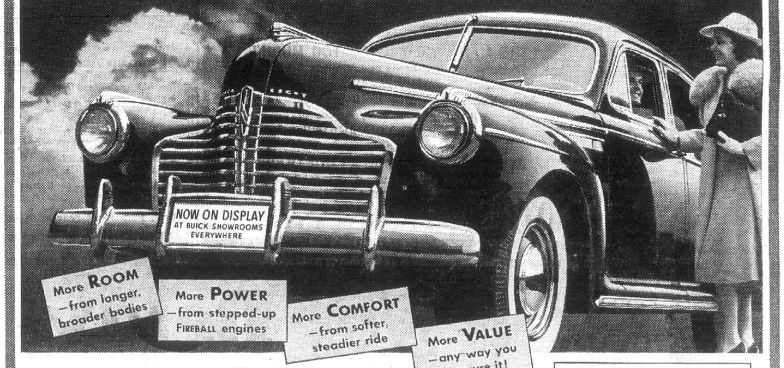
For '41—Finest We've Done!



WITH this advertisement, Buick ushers in a brand-new automobile model year.

1940 production is history—recording the greatest manufacturing and selling season our company has ever known.

You may be sure we grimly realized we had to accomplish things in our new cars for 1941 that we could count on to continue our advance.

So we've taken our greatest all-time car and steadily and carefully brought it forward to a perfection of action, ease, goodness beyond anything ever offered under our name.

Every car in all five series of the whole new line deserves unused fresh-minted language.

Stylewise, their suave and dynamic beauty refreshes the jaded eye as would sight of a hydrant in the desert.

They move and function like young wild things. They're all grace and poise and eagerness. They bring to driving and handling a keener pleasure and a new thrill.

Go see these superb new cars at your dealer's and ask especially about the new micropoise-balanced FIREBALL engines—the 1941 furtherance of Buick's Dynaflash design and kingpin of all the features that make Buick the sensation of the new automobile year.

According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, a super motor which travels with a series of explosions like the shock waves of a great projectile is called a "FIREBALL."*

ONLY CAR IN THE WORLD WITH ALL THESE FEATURES

MICROPOISE BALANCING AFTER ASSEMBLY.

"MASS-STREAM" BODIES, with concealed running boards.

FORE-N-AFT DIRECTION SIGNAL with Automatic Cut-Off.

MASSIVE BUMPERS—with built-in front license frame.

THE FIREBALL* DOES IT!

Modern gasolines have high octane ratings to permit higher compressions without "ping." Note how this piston, which can be used only in valve-in-head engines, rolls the fuel charge into the shape of a flattened ball that centers around the new, smaller, racing-car type spark plug. Fired at its very heart, this more highly compressed fuel lets go with such full-forced, "ping-free" wallop that any gasoline of 75 octane rating (now available at standard-fuel prices) may be used in the 115-hp. engine. Any fuel of 80 octane rating serves in the 125- and 165-hp. engines.

LECTURES CONTINUED

Lecturer Evangelist Walter Zvoda of Saginaw, Mich., has been requested to continue on this week with the meetings at the Lower Light Mission. Mr. Zvoda will preach messages on Christian living, and on Thursday evening will preach on the two roads being used in Tecumseh. The Applegate Sisters, 5 Gospel Song Birds, will be here to sing. Sunday he will show the views pertaining to the life of Christ, from Bethlehem, to Calvary and the Garden Tomb.

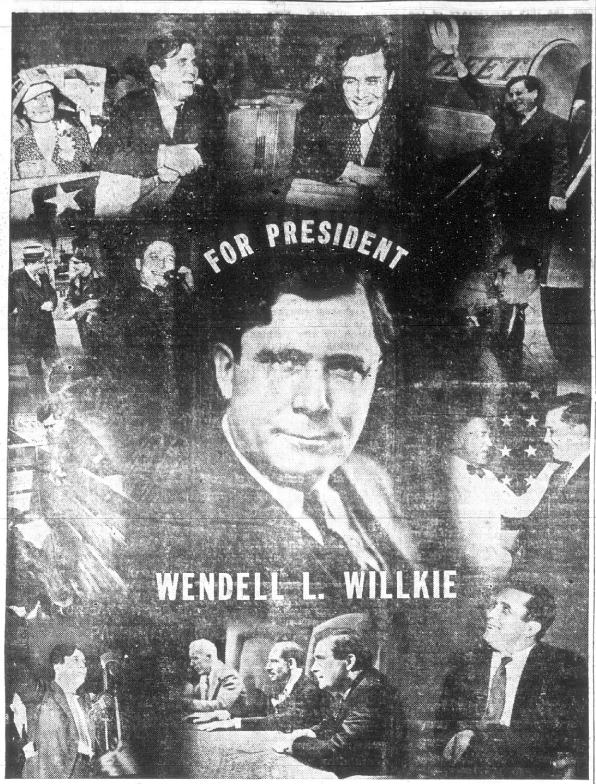
WENDELL WILLKIE MAN OF ACTION

Republican Candidate for President, Like Thomas Jefferson, Has Wide Interests.



In the two and one-half months since his unprecedented and spectacular nomination for the Presidency, by the Republican National Convention, Wendell Willkie has demonstrated to the country his dynamic personality and driving energy as well as his quick and clear mind.

Few men have ever been nominated for the Presidency who have as wide and universal an interest in many fields of endeavor as Wendell Willkie. In that respect he has been compared to Thomas Jefferson who was as well versed in architecture as he was in the law—knew as much about farming as he did about political philosophy.

Born 48 years ago in the small town of Elwood, Indiana, Wendell Willkie was educated for the law. But before he received his degree in that profession, he taught history in the high school at Coffeyville, Kansas; drove a bakery wagon; worked as a barker for a tent hotel in Aberdeen, South Dakota, as a field hand in harvesting wheat in Oklahoma and as a laborer in California. He has labored in steel mills and sugar fields.

Once embarked on the practice of law, Wendell Willkie defended labor unions with his father; enlisted in the army the day this country declared war on Germany in 1917; became a lawyer for a rubber company; and finally went to New York, first as counsel for Commonwealth and Southern Corporation and then, when the sick company needed resuscitation, as its president. Even critical New Dealers always have paid tribute to Willkie's candor, honesty and ability.

Nurtured in a home filled with books, Wendell Willkie throughout his life has been a constant reader of books—all kinds of books. He reads rapidly and, with a photographic-like mind, retains what he has read. He demonstrated his rich background of information on the "Information Please" programs on the air and in motion pictures. He is a qualified authority on English Constitutional history and writes much better than many professional writers. Had he not been a great lawyer, he would have been an outstanding newspaperman.

Though Willkie has sat among the great and learned, he has never lost his touch with his Indiana origin. Though he likes books, he likes people more. He is as much at home in conversation with a truck driver or farm laborer as he is with an industrial tycoon or college President. Typical of the man is the fact that his faith in American agriculture is so great that he placed the savings from his salary in Indiana farm land. Operating these farms on a 50-50 basis with tenants, Willkie now knows as much about farming as he does about law.

Indeed, like the Roman of old, Willkie might say "nothing human is foreign to me." But that thought would never occur to Willkie because he believes that when a man commences to compare himself to a Cicero or Napoleon, people had better look out for him.

KEEP SICK CHILDREN HOME FROM SCHOOL

School bells calling a million Michigan children back to school this week also brought a request from the State Health Department for the cooperation of parents in protecting the health of school children.

Youngsters showing any of the early signs of illness should be kept at home and the family physician promptly called, declared Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. Contrary to the former policy of emphasizing 100 per cent attendance, school and health officials today realize that the health of the whole school population will be better protected if the sick child is kept at home.

Communicable diseases are most rapidly spread during the early stages before a medical diagnosis is obtained. For this reason youngsters should be isolated at home if they have the colds and fever which are frequently the beginning signs of many of the communicable diseases of childhood.

Dr. Moyer reported definite progress during the past year in the improvement of health instruction and health services in the schools. He attributed much of this improvement to the active leadership which is being given to the school program by the State Department of Public Instruction.

To the Editor:-

Everywhere throughout our land,
Townsend clubs go hand in hand,
With election now so near,
All must get busy that is clear.
If to congress they would add
A Townsend statesman who has had
An understanding of the plan
And wants to help his fellowman.
Your nearest club wants everyone
To come and see how it is done.
Mr. Jobless worker, they need you,
So money or no money you come too.
A vacant chair awaits you there
So please come out and do your share.
This is a part that you can play
To help your parents old and gray.
Your children too, they are in need
So now this invitation heed,
For each and every thinking man
Should know and boost the Townsend plan
Your local club just can not stand
Unless you give a helping hand.
Now is the time; decide its fate,
Perhaps tomorrow may be too late.
What we say to you we say to all,
United we stand, divided we fall.
This the members all request;
And it is up to you to do your best,
And don't forget you must attend
The primaries first if you would send
A congressman, the proper one,
Next November to Washington.

PARENTS CAN AID IN POLIO FIGHT

With nearly 20 counties in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas fighting outbreaks of poliomyelitis, Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner, this week called upon parents everywhere in Michigan to be on guard for the first signs of the disease in their children.

Health and medical agencies throughout the state are prepared to handle all cases, the commissioner declared. At the first sign of pollo a doctor should be called immediately and the patient isolated. The first stage of the disease, which may come on quickly, is usually indicated by fever, and often nausea and vomiting. Children may complain of stiffness or pain in the back and neck and of muscle tenderness.

Early diagnosis followed by continued medical supervision and orthopedic care will greatly lessen the danger of paralysis. No serum or vaccine has been shown to be of value in preventing pollo.

August polio cases totaled 303, compared with 385 last year, Dr. Moyer reported. The commissioner declared that the seasonal peak for the disease is usually reached about the first week of September, with a rapid decline in cases thereafter.

Don't Hit Your Feet
With a Sledge - Hammer

Every day, the soles and heels of your feet hit the pavement thousands of times with the force of your weight behind them. They need real protection to withstand such abuse. Cheap half-soles, attached by "speed" methods, don't give necessary protection. Let us put "extra-grade" half-soles on your shoes — for your health and for economy.

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 15, 1940.

The Golden Text (Romans 8:-25) is: "If we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Prov. 8:1, 20, 21): "Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice? I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 451): "Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit."

NEW CAR MODELS NOW ON DISPLAY

BUICK, CHEVROLET, OLDS AND STUDEBAKER ANNOUNCE; FORD NEXT WEEK

The finest motor cars in American history are being shown this week to a nation of appreciative customers and in Tecumseh dealers report unusual interest in 1941 models. Buick, Oldsmobile and Studebaker cars already are on display here, and the new '41 Chevrolet will be seen for the first time on Saturday, at Schneider Brothers Garage, Inc. New model Fords, Mercury and Lincoln-Zephyr cars will be displayed next week, it was said at the Butler Motor Sales, but the definite show date has not been made public.

Buick was the first of the new cars to be shown locally by Schneider Brothers, and the new models, with advanced streamlining and color are meeting with instant reception. Mr. Schneider also expects that the new Chevrolet will attract many motorists to his showroom on Saturday.

"There is unusual interest this year," Mr. Schneider declared. "We have several orders for the new car now, even before it has been seen by the customer. We are expecting a good year in sales," he declared.

Brown Motor Sales are displaying the new model Oldsmobile, with the 1941 refinements. The Olds this year operates without the conventional type clutch, is further streamlined, and the two-tone paint jobs are unusually beautiful.

Ives Auto Parts, Evans at Logan, are showing the new model Studebaker cars, and like other dealers, declare that there is keen interest on the part of buyers.

Chas. O. Butler, of Butler Motor Sales, local Ford dealers, said today that he expected that the new model Ford line would be shown in Tecumseh next week, but he could not announce definitely the date. He said that Ford for 1941 would come with surprisingly new models in all price classes.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Tecumseh village council was held on Monday evening with Mayor Karl M. Schneider presiding.

Committees will report their findings on these matters at the next meeting, October 7.

PLANE FACTORY BOOSTS PAYROLL

SIXTY-FIVE EMPLOYEES LISTED AS COMPANY EXPANDS PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

With sixty-five employees on its payroll and a heavy schedule of unfilled orders, the Meyers Aircraft Company, one of Tecumseh's newest industries, today was endeavoring to speed up its production in an effort to meet the demand for its product. The company is now building two to three planes weekly, and hopes soon to increase the schedule to a plane a day.

The Meyers plane, one of four ships approved by the federal government for training purposes, is much sought after by instructors who are training pilots for the army and navy service. Two ships that left the local plant this week went for training purposes, one to Tulsa, Okla., the other to Lincoln, Neb. Another ship, already sold, will come off the line today or Friday.

The Meyers plant went into operation here last fall and only recently doubled its factory space in an effort to speed production. Within the past two weeks it has added about 25 men to its payroll, and it will continue to increase, it was said.

The plane factory, the only one in Lenawee county, is located at the Tecumseh airport on M-52, in the village limits. Planes built here are tested at the local airport before they are turned over to the purchasers. Al Meyers, formerly of Romulus, is at the head of the industry. Mr. Meyers is an aviator and inventor, and holds the patents on many features used in his ships.

GUARD ORDERED TO MOBILIZE

LENAWEE UNIT WILL ASSEMBLE FOR YEAR'S TRAINING ON OCTOBER 15

ADRIAN, Sept. 19 — National Guards of this community will be mobilized October 15 for a year of intensive training at Camp Beauregard, La., as the result of a second mobilization order issued Monday by the War Department at Washington. The order affects 35,000 guardsmen. Approximately 4,500 of them are in Michigan. Sixty thousand guards were mobilized in the first order.

"We'll begin preparations for the year's training immediately," Capt. G. Chandler Bond of Co. B, 126th Infantry said. "Before leaving Adrian, all National Guard records must be changed over to the status of federal army records."

The present strength of Company B is 81 men and Headquarters detachment 11 men. Capt. Bond said that the regular peace time strength of Company B is 142 men and an effort probably will be made to reach that strength before October 15. Official orders may include a provision that the company be brought to a war-time strength of 156 men, he said.

He also said that the deficiency in the company may be made up at Camp Beauregard by conscripts who are drafted under the Burke-Wadsworth bill, although he has no official indication that this will be done.

The War Department orders will call the Adrian guardsmen to the armory here the morning of October 15, fully equipped to spend the year in training. Training will be intensive, it was said, the armory serving as a barracks. Within six days an induction board will be sent here by the regular army to conduct a physical examination of all men in the two Adrian units.

At that time all married men in the companies may resign provided they can submit affidavits to the War Department that they are the sole support of their wives, Capt. Bond said. He pointed out that it is unlikely that the War Department would look favorably on the applications for dismissal of recently married men.

As far as Capt. Bond knows, the local guardsmen will be in a tent encampment in Louisiana. The entire 32nd division, including the National Guard companies of Michigan and Wisconsin will be stationed in the village limits.

In the meantime, the selective service committee in Washington in charge of drafting conscripts for a year's training estimated that about one-third of the men 21 to 35 would technically be liable to draft, the other two-third being exempt because of dependents or being engaged in essential industries.

Under this standard, it was noted, over 212,000 youths in Michigan would be liable to service. However, under present plans, only 400,000 in the nation will be called at first, or from eight to 10 per cent of the total registered. On that basis only 21,200 Michigan men would be called.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

The looting of occupied countries by the Nazis goes on at a rapid pace, but not in the manner of looting in years gone past. Previous to this time the men of the armies of occupation would seize anything they wanted for themselves, their wives and their sweethearts back home. Also, a systemic looting by the government would confiscate everything they thought they wanted. Now it is done in a much more pleasing way, but just as effective and just as efficient as in the past.

In France, for instance, the rate of exchange has been fixed by decree to give the German soldiers more French money in exchange for German money than it is actually worth. Following the German soldiers around in their leisure we find he minds his own business and pays for everything he receives, he seems not a bad fellow. He usually buys items to send home that there is a shortage of in Germany, buys a few things for himself, and spends some for food and drink. But every time he spends a franc he is really getting in value 1 1-2 francs. Thus everytime he spends money he is making France that much poorer.

The German government deposits German bonds in French banks and for them receives francs in exchange. Then they proceed to commandeer anything they want but pay for it. However, the bonds are worthless for practical purposes. They are supposed to be used to pay Germans for French purchases in Germany. Germany has nothing to sell that France wants or needs so the useless bonds remain in French banks and the French are losers again.

In much the same way the other countries are deprived of their wealth. In Denmark German credits are forced on the banks in exchange for Danish kroner. Germans buy meat, poultry and everything they want, but the Danish are unable to buy their needs from Germany and the credits lie in banks as useless mementoes of the German occupation. As a result, these countries are short of foodstuffs, clothing, fuel and raw materials for their factories. In short, practically all of the necessities of life and of making a living.

There will be severe suffering in most of these countries this winter. Unless Hitler can defeat England this Fall he may have a revolution in these countries this winter. Men are not going to stand idly by while their wives and children are slowly dying from exposure and starvation. Even against terrific odds their anger at the terrible wrongs will compel them to try to overthrow the Nazis aggressors.

For this reason England must hold off the intended invasion. If they can fight Germany off this Fall, they should be in a position next Spring to carry the fight to Germany, making them the defending nation. The chances are then that Germany will have more than they will be able to cope with. Uprisings all through their occupied territories, lack of supplies and food, and internal discontent with the way Hitler's war is progressing will tend to put England in the advantageous position—IF they hold out now.

Presbyterians To Show Motion Picture Classic

Cecil B. De Mille's great dramatic spectacle "King of Kings" has been made available to this community without admission charge by the Presbyterian church. This famous masterpiece of the screen will be shown on the nights of September 26, 27 and 28 in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church.

Produced in the characteristic De Mille fashion, it is a spectacular and gripping, yet beautiful, it has a cast of more than 5,000 persons and was produced at a cost of over $2,500,000.

The New York Times said of "The King of Kings," "during its initial screening, hardly a whispered word was heard. It is in fact the most impressive of all motion pictures." During its premiere showing in the theatre, the picture commanded the highest admission prices ever received by any picture.

The immortal story upon which "The King of Kings" is based coupled with the incomparable De Mille technique with its thrust and vividness have made the picture a perennial success. The adding of sound to the film has also contributed to the triumph which it has enjoyed when shown in hundreds of churches during the last several months.

The program is being supported entirely through silver offerings taken each night at the conclusion of the picture. Its reception in other cities and communities is reported to have been so enthusiastic that ofttimes hundreds have been turned away.

HART PREPARES TO MEET HUDSON

INDIAN GRIDDERS IN DAILY TRAINING FOR FIRST CONTEST, SEPT. 27TH

With Tecumseh's opening grid game with Hudson a little more than a week away, Coach Neville Hart has announced daily workouts for his high school Indians —workouts that are sending the boys to bed at an early hour, but with a determination that Tecumseh intends to dish out a different brand of football than it did a year ago when the team went into retirement with only one game to its credit, one tie and three defeats.

"It's a bit early to predict," Coach Hart said today, "but we do intend to give Hudson a battle. We're not over-confident, however, and we do need some more training."

Tecumseh has a squad roster this week of thirty-four players, many of them sophomores and juniors. There are only two letter men. Tecumseh losing 10 experienced players last year, due to graduation, the squad this year will average about 150 pounds, a little light for football, but sometimes very dangerous. ABOUT THESE MACHINE TOOLS

The public demands utmost speed from government and industry in their current job of providing this country with sufficient equipment to meet its national defense needs. When the public hears reasons advanced for delay, it wants to know the facts, and it's entitled to them.

On that account, having frequent mention of the problem our national defense industries are having with "machine tools," we decided it would be a good idea to find out more about this matter.

This seems to be the story:

Of course vast numbers of machines are needed to make tanks and guns and airplanes. But did you ever consider that, before the armaments are produced, "supermachines" must be put to work to make these vast numbers of regular machines? It's the opposite of Dean Swift's little verse about the little fleas who " . . . have smaller still to bite 'em,

And so proceed ad infinitum!"

The super-machines in question are known as "machine tools." Most of these huge machines that can cut metal like butter and shape it to desired form are enormously complicated and expensive. Machine tools can't be made in a day under any circumstances; and the increased demand for them because of the national defense emergency has made the problem of production even more complicated.

That's why there's nothing hypocritical connected with industry's statement that machine tools are causing a lot of delay and defense headaches. These delays are being cleared up as rapidly as possible. In the meantime, public understanding of the difficulties involved will be a real contribution to progress.

SOUND TALK FROM THE PAST

P. T. Barnum may have had some of the weaknesses generally credited to showmen, but he was highly successful and he ran a good circus where you generally got your money's worth. A word of advice from the man who operated the "Greatest Show on Earth" is therefore apropos at the present time.

Here's a very pithy declaration from Barnum's own lips:

"Advertise, or the chances are that the sheriff will do it for you."

The Great Showman's estimate of the value of advertising is surely worth the attention of certain individuals, even some in high places, who are inclined to view it with contempt. Those who argue that advertising is a waste of money forget that it sells goods widely, helps to make mass production possible, and thus in the end leads to far lower prices for the average consumer.

Barnum understood these matters. It was perhaps when he ran into folks with a contrary view that he made a second famous remark: "There's one born every minute!"

"Lucy always smells like a filling station."

Not that Lucy isn't fastidious. She has her clothes cleaned regularly. But she's a victim of "bargain" cleaning in which the cleaning solvent has become so dirt-logged that it leaves garments with an unmistakable and obnoxious odor.

We're fussy about clean, fresh cleaning solvents. They do a better job and they leave your garments smelling as fresh and clean as they look. Try us tomorrow. We promise you, "no filling station odor."

MICHIGAN FACES PROSPEROUS ERA

ARMS CONTRACTS EXPECTED TO BOOST BUSINESS IN THIS INDUSTRIAL STATE

LANSING, Sept. —Maybe it's just the pre-election rose-colored glasses that Washington experts are looking through.

But if the prognostications of the government authorities are right, Michigan is going to enjoy, moreso than the average state, a record bumper prosperity during the next few years.

According to arms contracts let so far, Michigan is eighth on the roll of states with a total amount of $40,315,000. The astonishing contemplated expenditure of 36 billions for defense of democracy will serve as an inflationary influence on commerce, and in the judgment of the "United States News," Washington news weekly, the coming boom of record proportions "is underwritten by the uncertainties that will continue regardless of the course of the war abroad."

While the average business man is inclined to be skeptical that the new federal spending venture may turn out to be another "flash in the pan," it is pointed out that the 36 billions program far exceeds any spending experiment during the New Deal, that it will be prolonged over at least four years, and that the new spending must go on whether Great Britain loses or wins the war.

Furthermore, the new federal reserve index shows business today is higher than it was in 1929 or 1937.

Politically speaking, Democrats are jubilant over the 1940 boom, while Republicans feel they have been robbed of an honest issue of New Deal unemployment. It's like having a rabbit pulled out of your hat, while the magician is off stage.

Politicians are once again promising miracles of doing away with our multi-million state deficit while giving more pensions for the aged, restoring aid to the crippled children and assuring other benefits here and there.

Together with the "defend democracy" armament spending, these deserving causes are complicating the plight of Michigan public schools.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, has been one of Michigan's most vigorous proponents for adequate state school aid. However, he is also aware of certain weaknesses in the school armor. The one-room school, of which there are more than 5,000 in the state, is one of them.

In this day of good transportation, it may surprise you to know that Michigan has 596 schools with 10 pupils or less. In fact, 66 schools exist with five pupils each!

In rural areas that are sparsely populated, the one-room school may be indispensible. But an astonishing fact is that most of the 596 one-room schools with 10 or less pupils are located in the southern rural districts; they are not in northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

When you start talking about the rural school situation, someone is sure to warn,"Better go easy! You're going to tread on someone's toes."

The sentiment that encircles the community center where Mother went to school (and perhaps Grandma too) is one of the complicating things in this dollars-and-cents rural educational picture.

In the first place, folks just prefer to run their own affairs. And that goes for their schools.

In every neighborhood whether it be urban or rural you will find certain individuals who are possessed with ability for leadership. They yearn to assert their American rights. The school, an institution that is almost as sacred as the church, becomes the object of friendly concern. School leaders become elected commissioners, many of whom receive salaries or fees for their services.

The principle of home rule needs no defense in rural Michigan.

Among its staunch defenders has been Melville McPherson, for 38 years a school district officer and now chairman of the state tax commission. Mcpherson knows his taxes.

Translating a generalization into pocketbook terms, the office of Dr. Elliott in Lansing has estimated it would be possible to effect saving of approximately $196,000 a year in shutting down these 596 one-room schools.

Pupils would be transported by bus to nearby centers.

This conclusion was reached after a study had been made of "before and after" costs of seven grade school districts in Barry county.

These districts continue as legal units. They merely pay pupils' transportation and tuition costs. Here are some interesting figures.

BEFORE. Total cost of running the seven schools was $5,926.51, or an average of $846.64 per district.

AFTER. Total cost of transportation and tuitions was $3,611.45, or an average of $515.92 per district.

CONCLUSION. Net annual saving per district is $330.72. Sharpen your pencil and the total for 596 schools would be a bit more than $196,000 every year.

MICHIGAN FACES—GAL 2

That's close to a million dollars in five year's time! In any man's language, the tax economy would be substantial.

Sympathetic as he is to the idea of home rule and the community school, Michigan's state superintendent of public instruction takes the position that waste in education must be removed.

Dr. Elliott is quoted: "To pay a teacher, pay the expenses of keeping up the school property, pay salaries or fees to three school commissioners — all for the purpose of providing a school for five or ten children seems wasteful to me. All the surveys on the subject have shown that most of these schools could be closed with advantage."

The above rural school situation is another illustration how times have changes. Good highways and comfortable heated buses have expanded the geographic radius. The modern school curriculum includes subjects other than reading, writing and arithmetic. To Governor Dickinsin some of these courses may constitute "frills," but to many mothers of 1940 they are just as essential as the telephone, electric lights, radio and the family automobile. The difference in viewpoint is largely a difference in ages.

At a time when tax dollars are being called upon to do many duties — almost impossibly so at times—it is inevitable that these one-room schools of yesterday will be appraised anew in terms of today's needs.

Un-American Activities Discussed By Mrs. Hardy

Discussing un-American and subversive activities, Mrs. Jenny Law Hardy was the guest speaker at an open meeting of Tecumseh Grange, held last Thursday evening in the hall northeast of here.

Mrs. Hardy, who speaks several foreign languages fluently, has been able, during her many world-wide travels, to observe and better understand many of subversive movements now threatening America. She discussed many organizations and groups in the United States and Michigan that are controlled or subsidized by foreign governments or agencies, and which seek to change the policies and the form of the government here in accordance with the wishes of the sponsors. She also gave a report on the activities of the Dies Committee, which group is attempting to expose those who threaten democracy.

Discussing the Latin American conferences at Havana and the effort that has been made to link the 21 republics and governments into a single unit, Mrs. Hardy displayed the flag of each of the republics. In this she was assisted by Mrs. E. H. McConnell, at the piano, who played the national anthems of each of the countries. She also showed the "flag of the Americas," adopted by the conference symbolizing unity.

The program included a reading on "Our Flag," by Mrs. Fred Sheldon. Dorothy McConnell contributed two solos and a duet was sung by Miss McConnell and Lois Anderson.

The meeting was well attended and after the programme all went to the dining room where melons were served.

The next meeting of the Grange will be held September 26. It will be Booster Night when all who are interested in the organization, and becoming members are welcome.

Miss Marjorie R. Hicks Bride Of D. L. Benedict

Miss Marjorie Rose Hicks, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. George Hicks, and Donald L. Benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Benedict of Adrian, were married Thursday evening in a candlelight service in the Methodist church in Adrian. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Greenwood, pastor of that church and the Rev. E. F. Hildebrand of Tecumseh, in the presence of relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony G. Raymond Hicks, a brother of the bride, and a member of the faculty of the music department of the College of the City of New York and the New York College of Music, played a program of Bach Chorales. After the ceremony he played the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" and the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Gertrude Hicks of New York City, and Richard Ford of Detroit was best man.

The bride chose a street length frock of burgundy, fashioned in redingote style with a velvet coat for her wedding and she wore wine colored accessories with hat and veil to match. Her maid of honor wore bottle green crepe with brown accessories. Each wore a corsage of white Pom Poms.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mr and Mrs John McColl, the latter a sister of the bride. Later Mr. and Mrs. Benedict left for a short trip and will return to Newark, N. Y., this week where Mr. Benedict is engaged in Christian Welfare work. Both are graduates of Tecumseh high school and later Mr. Benedict graduated from Albion College. At present he is a student at Union Seminary, Columbia University. Mrs. Benedict is a graduate of Barnard School for Girls at Columbia and has been employed for some time in New York City.

Friends from Erie, Britton, Dearborn, Detroit, New York and Tecumseh attended the wedding.

Miss Katharine Whaley Bride Of Kenton Hunt

Miss Katharine L. Whaley, daughter of Mrs. Enna Whaley and the late Homer Whaley of Adrian, and Kenton Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hunt of Tecumseh, were married last Friday in the bride's home which had been decorated with garden flowers and ferns, providing a beautiful setting for the impressive double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. A. W. Greenwood of Adrian, assisted by the Rev. W. E. Grove of Curtice, O.

Preceding the ceremony, Fred Dickinson sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Kathryn Downer of Morenci, who also played the wedding march. Master John Wheelock, in a pink knitted suit and carrying the rings on a satin pillow, led the bridal party. Mrs. Maurice Cuylor of Albion was the bride's maid of honor and Mr. Hunt was attended by his brother Woodrow Hunt of Manchester.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her floor-length veil was caught to the head with a tiny band of pearls. She wore pearls as her only jewelry. She carried a shower bouquet of white asters.

Mrs. Cuylor wore white swiss with blue dots, trimmed with blue velvet. She carried a shower bouquet of pink asters.

Mrs. Whaley chose a gown of printed chiffon and her corsage was of yellow bebe chrysanthemums. Mrs. L. S. Buler, grandmother of the bride, wore a wine colored lace gown and her flowers were wine and white bebe chrysanthemums.

An informal reception was held immediately following the wedding and refreshments were served to more than 100 relatives and friends. The entire postoffice force and their families attended from Tecumseh. Other guests were present from Adrian, Albion, Onsted, Chelsea, Manchester and Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt left on a short wedding trip in the eastern part of the state and on their return will be at home to their friends in their new home on East Logan street.

The bride graduated from Albion high school and has been employed at the A. B. Park store in Adrian. Mr. Hunt graduated from Tecumseh high school and is now employed as a clerk at the post office here.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

Where the hills divided and the valley widened we came upon another town. It was typical of New England, with square, white houses set in shady laws along wide, quiet streets. But this town was more beautiful than the last ones we had driven through and there was a different air about it; something that told us that here people were not living upon past glories but were an active, useful part of Today although living in homes which spoke eloquently of a different age. The busy store along Main Street showed plainly that business was good.

"They must make something here," we told each other and turned to drive along the river looking for the factory or plant that was inevitable when we came upon towns like this. We found it, spreading its old brick walls along the river for at least a couple of blocks—a paper mill that had been turning out news print for more than a hundred years.

This explained everything. The size of the beautiful homes, which meant prosperity a century ago, as well as their present up-keep which means prosperity today. For on that 2,500 mile trip wherever we found an active factory we found contentment and prosperity. The houses in fresh coats of white paint with green shutters, the lawn smooth and green, the flower beds ablaze with color.

And why not? According to a study made recently by the National Association of Manufacturers, a typical factory means an investment of $975,000 and an annual payroll of $180,000 which is largely spent in the community itself.

Such a payroll supports 33 retail stores with sales of over half a million dollars a year. It makes possible the sale and servicing of 320 automobiles. It accounts for 393 houses and a school house of 22 rooms.

It means a livelihood, not only for the factory workers themselves and the storekeepers from whom they buy, but supports approximately 24 professional men and their families; doctors, dentists, lawyers, and ministers. It also means the support of the farmers of 6,600 acres. A community and a factory are interrelated—and as the factory prospers, so do the various individuals who make up that community.

The Herald's Weekly Scrapbook

Week's Best Recipe —

SPICED BEEF STEW — 2 lbs. lean beef; 8 small onions; 8 small potatoes; 4 carrots; 3 slices bacon; 2 tablespoons whole mixed spices. Crisp the bacon in the bottom of a stewing pan and sear the beef in the fat. When beef is richly browned add 2 quarts hot water, salt to taste, add the spices tied in a bag. Cook 15 minutes, then remove the spices. Cook another hour then add the vegetables and continue cooking until all the ingredients are tender. Thicken the gravy with a little flour moistened with cold water.

A Beauty Hint —

It's no longer smart to look obviously painted. The idea is to put a very faint line of light of medium or cream rouge over the entire face so that the skin will look as though it had a faint glow of health. Then put on face powder all over the face and apply a darker shade of rouge to the cheeks just as you would when applying your usual makeup.

A Style Hint —

A liberal use of suede appears in autumn style collections. Suede is used to trim or make entire hats. It trims many of the smartly-tailored street frocks and forms entire jackets that are combined with woolen skirts for sports.

Household Hints —

If a bureau drawer sticks do not rub it with oil as oil tends to make it worse but rub the bottom of the drawer and the runway with a cake of dry soap . . . Discoloration caused by food or water containing iron is easily removed from aluminum utensils by rubbing briskly with steel wool and soap. Rinse and dry thoroughly.

Kitchen Kinks —

aMaple syrup mixed with powdered sugar to which a little butter or cream is added makes a delicious cake frosting . . . Cottage or cream cheese moistened with orange juice makes a delicious filling for peach or pear salads . . . A spicy relish served with the usual boiled dinner adds the right flavor.

The Family Doctor —

Pressure on the upper lip at the outer edge of each nostril will often stop nosebleed, or a piece of ice rolled in cotton or cotton soaked in ice water may be inserted in nostril, applying steady pressure from outside. Place feet in mustard bath, drawing blood away from the head. Do not allow the nose to be blown.

NURSES HOLD BANQUET

The Lenawee County Nurses Club met Wednesday evening in Onsted for a banquet at "The Farm." Dinner was served to the 25 guests at 8 o'clock. Dainty place cards marked their places and corsages were given to the officers as well as the speakers. Jennie Gillespie, president of the group introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Ann Pfeister of Adrian who in turn introduced the speaker, Mrs. Geo. Prentice who reviewed the book "I Married Adventure" by Mrs. Martin Johnston. The chairman of arrangements was Mrs. Carl Dunning of Adrian.

Silhouette for 1941

As surely as the new Buick FIREBALL* straight-eight engine sets the performance pace for the coming season, the graceful silhouette of the new Buick SPECIAL and CENTURY cuts the automotive style pattern for another half decade.

The reason is not alone the grace of its Buick-created lines, nor the appearance of solid substance in action that gives this honey the look of a speedster straining at its leash.

It is the practical quality of great room enclosed in sleek and flowing lines—more room for legs, for elbows, for heads, more room for entrance and more room for carrying luggage—that makes this the silhouette the cars of the future will seek to achieve.

Why wait for that—when in this Buick you travel in a car that, like time and tide, obviously isn't waiting for any man?

*According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, a super meteor which travels with a series of explosions like the shock waves of a great projectile is called a "FIREBALL."

Buick prices begin at $935 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich.

*Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

School Notes

Kindergarten - West Branch
Mrs. Updyke - Teacher

We have 27 children in the kindergarten, 12 boys and 15 girls. We have been having a good time becoming acquainted with each other and with the many things in our room.

Dorothy Bickhan's mother surprised us one afternoon with a party. Dorothy was five years old, and we enjoyed ice cream and a beautiful birthday cake.

Our kindergarten standards and aims may be interesting to parents who have children in school for the first time. They are as follows: We try to give the kindergarten child an education which is appropriate to his stage of development, which will be satisfying to him in the present, and which will prepare him for the year immediately following.

We hope to develop all his powers, emotional and social as well as mental. We wish to equip him with the power to meet new situations and with the understanding of how to gain whatever information he may need, to give him practice and skill in thinking, rather than to tell him what he should think. We hope to discover the abilities and possibilities of each child.

Visiting the kindergarten room will often help to give the parents a better idea of our procedure in accomplishing these aims. We feel that if the teacher and parents work together, the child is better understood, and his growth in the right direction is better assured.

First and Second Grade
- East Branch
Miss Borgards - Teacher

Our room was more than crowded the first days of school, but since transferring some pupils to the West Branch, and since Rufus and Wayne Sparks have moved to the country, we now have an enrollment of 29. Of these, nine are second graders, and 20 are in the first grade.

There has been much interest and excitement in our room over baby turtles which we watched hatch: We had six eggs buried in a pan of dirt, and one morning when we came to school we found a turtle crawling around on the ground. Later in the day another came to the surface. Next day we found a tail sticking through the ground, and finally we had six healthy turtles to put into our pan of water. Kathryn Ann Sisson brought a tiny snapping turtle, so we think we have a large family.

Our first graders have begun their reading with much eagerness and interest. We have several charts about vacations, pets, and families which we enjoy reading.

The second graders are reviewing their first grade readers and are showing much interest in spelling.

First Grade - West Branch
Miss Smith - Teacher

The enrollment this fall for the first grade is 28, 16 boys and 12 girls. At present we have two reading classes, the boys' class and the girls' class. Each class meets twice a day. We are building stories about pets, and we are learning the names of colors and action words.

Our room is working on a picture dictionary. Many pictures have been brought, and we plan to finish the dictionary in a few days.

Miss Humphrey comes to teach us music and Mrs Bliel, physical education. We have already learned several new songs and games, which we enjoy very much.

Second Grade - West Branch
Miss LaPointe - Teacher

There has been a change made in both the opening and closing time for the branch schools, as well as for the central building. School begins in the morning at 8:45 and closes at 11:15. In the afternoon school begins at 12:45 and closes at 3:15. Children living within the city limits are not expected to be at the building before 8:30 or 11:30.

We have 15 boys and 17 girls enrolled.

Our work in cursive writing has started, and all the members of the class seem to enjoy learning how to write.

Clarabel Barnes, Billy Baker, Jolene Barron and Shirley Bailey were the helpers for the week.

Third Grade - East Branch
Mrs Truesdale - Teacher

Most of us were happy to return to school again, even though our vacation was a pleasant one. We enjoyed sharing the summer's fun with the rest of our group. Many of the children brought curios collected during the summer, and during an interesting English period they told us where they had secured them. Some of the most interesting articles in our exhibit were a Mexican doll, a Dutch doll, Indian jewelry, a boat, and a stone collection.

The following children received "A" on their first lesson in spelling: Josephine Powell, Jo Ann Johnston, Marilyn Lindsley, Lee Phibbs, Gerald Van Valkenburg, Jennie May Bird, Shirley Teske, Gordon Keyser, Mary Glancy, Charles Goodacre, Norman Felger, Neil Hindall, and Joann Buehrer.

There are 37 children in our room this year.

Fourth Grade
Miss Cole - Teacher

The Fourth Graders are enjoying their first year in the high school building and feel quite grown up. There are an equal number of boys and girls this year, 16 boys and 16 girls which should help make our classes very interesting.

We are using two new books, a science "Discovering Our World" and "Creative Art for Graded Schools."

Our first science project has been to bring insects, turtles, plants, flowers, leaves, stones, shells, etc. to school so that we may learn about them by looking at them as well as reading about them.

Fourth and Fifth Grades
Mrs Pfaus - Teacher

There are 28 of us in our room, 14 in each grade. We have had perfect attendance the first two weeks. It is our aim to keep up this fine record.

The first week of school each fourth grade pupil chose a fifth grade pupil for a big sister or a big brother to act as his guide in the new building.

We are enjoying our new course in science, having Shaw brought his chemistry set and demonstrated it's uses.

On Tuesday we surprised Mrs Pfaus. We had a fruit roll for her.

A beautiful bouquet is in each window of our room. We think the flowers at this time of year are especially colorful.

Fifth Grade
Miss Starr - Teacher

We are off to a good beginning with 32 in our room at present.

For the first time we are meeting some new subjects, such as history and science. We all think history is going to be fun.

Our new science book "Discovering Our World" is very interesting with its many colored pictures.

Two members of our class had real vacations this year, and they have told us about their adventures, Marlou Gilman visited Cuba as well as parts of our country on her way to Florida. Bob Moore enjoyed a trip to Alaska. We enjoyed their pictures and stories, along with their many souvenirs.

Today we used our new art books and found them filled with new ideas.

Sixth Grade
Mrs Smith - Teacher

We are enjoying school very much this year.

Tuesday we elected our class officers. They are: Jim Sisson, President; Ben Hammack, Vice President; and Martha Hewlett, Secretary-Treasurer. Louise Wilson is our Librarian.

We have started the study of all of our books except Health, which we will start next semester.

Our history book is very interesting. It is fun to try to keep up with all of the world as it is today.

Mrs Smith read us a true story about the behavior of a female monkey, named Jinny. We are studying about behavior in science.

We have a new science book, which we have never had before and also a new art book. Our first lesson in art is in making silhouettes.

Our room helpers this week are Martha Hewlett and Gloria Underwood.

Our enrollment is 21 girls and 18 boys.

Reporters, Martha Hewlett, Wilfred Waldron.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, SEPT 19—Riding on a well advertised slogan, "Keyes for Good Government," Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, a darkhorse candidate from Dearborn, provided a surprise feature of Michigan's primary election this month.

He led the field of nine men for the Republican nomination of lieutenant governor.

Virtually unknown among party leaders, Dr. Keyes is today the coveted subject of attention by old-time politicians. Republican members of the State Senate are wondering "who" is next to Dr. Keyes and how they may fare in the next legislative appointment of committees. More than one senator is planning a trip soon to Dearborn, perhaps to visit Ford's Greenfield Village and then to "drop in" casually for a chat with the new state figure.

The Republican nominee has the distinction of being a three-in-one professional licensed physician, dentist and lawyer, all at the same time. His popular-price medical clinic at the automobile town in Wayne county is envied by rival practicioners for its profitable operation. And yet Dr. Keyes has never been a member of the state or county medical societies.

Because of the apparent cost of Keyes' primary campaign, more than one Lansing observer has wondered how it was being financed. From the friends of the Dearborn physician - dentist - lawyer comes the assurance that Dr. Keyes, a business success, has paid the bills himself. He made a vote appeal of the statement that he was independent of any group and hence was not pledged to factional commitments.

Among his opponents whose Lansing background include many years were the following: Felix H. H. Flynn, Cadillac, a state senator and president pro tem; Arthur Woods of Detroit, many-term state senator; Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, a state representative, former sheriff of Kalamazoo county and also executive secretary to Governor Groesbeck; James Thomson of Jackson, past chairman of the Republican State Central committee and former commissioner of agriculture under Governor Fitzgerald.

True, Dr. Keyes was elected one year ago to the city council of Dearborn. But that is a long ways down the ladder from the office of lieutenant governor, glorified somewhat by the 1939 legislature which made it a $5,000-a-year job. The sudden death of Governor Fitzgerald had demonstrated the possibilities which this office offered, automatically elevating Lauren D. Dickinson into the governor's chair. Because Mr. Dickinson is 81 years of age, it is inevitable that interest will center to a great degree on his running mate for lieutenant governor. This is not to allude that the governor isn't in the best of health; in fact, his physician pronounces him to be sound physically for the office's responsibilities. It is merely recognizing the fact that life is more uncertain at 81 than it is at 42, the age of Dickinson's opponent, Murray D. VanWagoner.

A Primary Trait

If the nomination of lieutenant governor were to be made at a party convention, such as is the case for state treasurer, attorney general, secretary of state and auditor general, an independent candidate of the type of Dr. Keyes wouldn't have had the proverbial snowball's chance.

The organization custom is to recognize the loyal party worker whom the leaders feel can be trusted. Or perhaps the "powers that be" weigh the geographic, class and possibly religious factors at the ballot box and cut a deal which is henceforth relayed down to the rank and file. In the latter process the unknown may be given an opportunity, but it is usually for a reason known only to a select few.

At least, his chances of winning are as good as his rivals.'

"Keyes for good government," emblazoned on a myriad of newspaper advertisements, billboards and direct mailing pieces, did what no party convention would have done for the Dearborn newcomer. The boys at lansing are still scratching their heads and wondering how it could have happened!

One answer is: It could take place only in a primary election.

And so, if you aspire for state office, take comfort. If you deplore the breakdown of party organization and party responsibilities, read the news and weep.

Van Wagoner

No one doubted for a minute that the Democratic primary would produce any other nominee for governor than Murray D. VanWagoner.

In party circles his nomination was conceded six months ago.

In fact, the Van Wagoner band wagon was being oiled up since spring thaws in anticipation of a full race with Dickinson. G. Don Kennedy, his campaign manager, who resigned as deputy highway commissioner because of the Hatch act, indicated weeks ago that the contest against Dickinson would be fought cleanly on issues arising from the Republican administration's record.

To those who have observed the efficient functioning of the highway department, as chiefly every state legislator will readily concede, the Democratic state campaign is expected to follow the established Van Wagoner lines of intense organization.

Charles Porritt, Van Wagoner's choice for state chairman, has a headquarters staff that even includes a publicity writer (something that the Republican staff does not have at present). Regardless of your party inclination, put it down in the books that the Democratic campaign will be waged vigorously. And that despite the following observation made by the Associated Press bureau at Lansing:

"Political observers who scanned the returns for a straw to show which way the wind may blow in November found little that was conclusive save that the outstate, traditionally Republican save for its bolt to Roosevelt and the New Deal, again appeared to be safely within the G. O. P. fold."

Van Wagoner's aids would probably challenge this. They would merely recall that Michigan Republicans outvoted the Democrats two to one in the 1936 primary. After all, the chickens won't be hatched until November!

What's in a Name?

Another primary characteristic is seen in the Democratic nomination of Frank Fitzgerald and Frank Murphy for the office of United States senator and lieutenant governor, respectively.

Both men possess names famous in Michigan.

The Detroit Free Press comments: "A young lawyer by the name of Frank Fitzgerald, who has never been prominent in politics, walks away with the Democratic nomination for United States senator because of the similarity of his cognomen with that of the late Governor. And a Frank Murphy easily wins the nomination for lieutenant governor."

Recalling the fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt was aided at the beginning of his career by the magic name of Roosevelt, observers note that history is repeating itself in the rise of the new Fitzgerald and Murphy. Each is 43 years of age.

Will the magic of Fitzgerald and Murphy attract voters to the Democratic ticket in November? On the basis of the primary vote, such appears to be quite possible.

In the coming weeks the personal popularity of Dickinson and Van Wagoner, each one a powerful leader in his own party, will be put to a new test. We make no prediction other than this one: The campaign will be colorful and interesting.

PRESBYTERIAN LEAGUE

The Presbyterian League met Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock for its first meeting of the year. The 35 guests were seated at two long tables where a delicious potluck dinner was served. After the business meeting several of the members gave talks about their vacations and trips this last summer. Then each one told who had been her mystery sister last year. Games and contests followed.

The October meeting will be held with Mrs. John Thompson with Mrs. Cora Pfaus, Mrs. Magdalina Boyd and Mrs. Edna Helzerman as assistant hostesses. The leader will be Mrs. Hoyt Raymond and Mrs. W. L. Berkhof will have the devotions. Mrs. Wade Hendershot was chairman of the September meeting and program.

ENTERTAINS FOR SON

Mrs. Frank Fairbanks entertained eleven small boys Saturday afternoon for her son, Douglas, who was celebrating his eleventh birthday anniversary. The boys enjoyed a weiner and marshmallow roast, followed this with games and contests. Mrs. Fairbanks later served ice cream and cake. Douglas received several gifts.

PRAYER SERVICE

There is to be a series of three prayer services, designed to precede the World Wide Communion Service to be held October 6, in the Presbyterian church. The prayer services are to be on the following evenings: Sept. 18 and 25, and Oct. 2.

DEPENDABLE CLASS

The Methodist Dependable Class met on Friday at the home of Mrs. Byron Sones with a large attendance. The president, Mrs. J. Temple, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Hildebrand had charge of the devotions.

Talks about vacations were given by three of the members, followed by readings and guessing contests.

Later refreshments were served by Mrs. Sones and Mrs. Perkins as the assistant hostess.

FIRM IS INCORPORATED

The Hayden Poultry Farms here, has been incorporated with a capitalization of $5,000 common stock. A. B. Horton of Tecumseh, Dr. Reece Horton and Joe Salmer of Detroit are the incorporators. The company operates a federal-state egg grading station here and is engaged in the egg and poultry business.

CHILD STUDY CLUB TO MEET

Dr. Marsh Will Report For Military Duty

Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, major, medical corps, 107th Medical Regiment, Michigan National Guard, today announced that his offices here would be closed for one year, beginning October 13, while he is on active duty with his regiment, at Camp Beauregard, La.

Major Marsh will report for active duty at the Detroit Armory on Tuesday, October 15. There, for one week, he will act as a member of a board of medical examiners conducting physical examinations of officers and enlisted men of units stationed at Detroit, Wyandotte and Monroe. At a later date, troops will receive orders for assembly at Camp Beauregard, near Alexandria. It is expected that within a few weeks after the first troops arrive the total number will be increased to more than 60,000 officers and men.

Superintendent Berkhof Snags 13 1-2 Lb. Trout

Some 18½ pounds of Mackinaw trout graced the table at the home of Superintendent and Mrs. W. L. Berkhof Monday evening, when they entertained the superintendents, their wives and families from five other towns in Lenawee county, at a dinner in their home on North Union street. The occasion: In honor of Supt. Berkhof, the champion fisherman at the fall conference of school superintendents in Traverse City, last week end.

It appears—off the record—that the school men did a little fishing on Friday afternoon, during a convention recreational period. The Lenawee school men chartered a boat for a little "deep sea" sport and then, on the side, agreed that the fellow who caught the largest fish would play host to the other fishermen.

Mr. Berkhof, who likes to fish, snagged a 13½ pound trout. C. A. Mulder of Blissfield succeeded in landing a five pound fish. The others in the party were not so successful.

At Traverse City, the convention presented Mr. Berkhof with a complete fishing outfit, as first prize for his excellent catch. And Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Berkhof and their son Billy, entertained their guests: Mr. and Mrs. George Little of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Mulder of Blissfield, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gray of Addison, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olsen of Morenci, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller of Hudson.

Brandt, Mrs. Lillian Tingley, Mrs. B. J. Pulver. Mrs. E. F. Hildebrand, Mrs. L. A. Des Ermia, Mrs. Naomi Sallows, Mrs. A. O. Howard, Mrs. Dan Corkery and Mrs. John R Thompson.

Intersoll, Detroit, $2; Ross Snyder, Tecumseh, $2; Hubbard Sickle, Galveston, Ind., $3; J. W. Withers, South Haven, $3; D. W. Hackett, Ypsilanti, $2; Mrs. Eleanor Dennis, Adrian, $2; John Boyd, Tecumseh, $2; Archie Boyd, Tecumseh, turning on red light, $2.

SCALP HUDSON CRY OF INDIANS

HART'S GRIDDERS IN FINAL PRACTICE BEFORE SEASON'S OPENER ON FRIDAY

The cry of "Scalp Hudson," rang through the corridors of Tecumseh High School today as Coach Neville Hart prepared his warrior-gridders for an invasion of that city Friday evening, marking the opening of the 1940 football season for the Indians.

"We're not over-confident, our team is young," was Coach Hart's comment today, "but we've got a determined group. We're going to Hudson to play football—and we hope to bring home a victory."

The game at Hudson will be called at 8 p. m., and will be played on that city's lighted gridiron. This may or may not be a handicap for the Warriors, but the evening game is certain to bring out a record crowd, numbering scores of enthusiastic fans from Tecumseh.

The probable starting line-up for Tecumseh will be as follows: LE, Oliver; LT, Leonardson; LG, Brooks; C, Coffey; RG, W. Jackson; RT, Williamson; RE, Green; QB, Wilson; HB, Carlson and Carpenter; FB, Mohr.

Coach Hart said that he would take 25 players on the trip to Hudson. Tecumseh is somewhat handicapped this year through the loss of lettermen through graduation, the first string numbering only two men with letter-experience. Hudson, too, outweighs Tecumseh, but weight is not always an advantage.

Hudson tried its strength with Wauseon in a game last week and was defeated by a score of 25-0. Wauseon, however, has a team that is conceded far superior to the Hudson eleven and the defeat was not a surprise to those "in the know."

Garden Club To Name New Officers, Soon

The Tecumseh Garden Club was entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Ralph Helzerman. Mrs. A. Helzerman, Mrs. Roy Cadmus and Mrs. Ella Brown in the home of Mrs. Ralph Helzerman on South Ottawa street.

Mrs. Louis Lent gave a report of the Junior Garden Club and told of the 26 gardens which have been visited three times during the growing season, and also gave a list of the awards, as follows: Junior Martin and Geraldine Daniels, each received $1; Ralph and Dale Peotter and Darwin Creger, each 50c; Martha Jane Kropf and Jean Wilson, 50c each; Jerry Coffey, Maxine Covell, Evelyn Joyce Covell, Donald Beaubien, Richard Lent, Justin Coover and Louise Bowen, 25c each. An exhibit from these gardens will be held this evening, Sept. 26, at the Tecumseh Parent-Teacher Association meeting when four additional prizes will be awarded. Mrs. Cadmus reported on the extension meetings held in Adrian and the president reappointed Mrs. A. Helzerman and Miss Mary McWilliams to attend the meetings for the next club year. It was also reported that the Tecumseh Garden Club placed fifth in the county fair exhibits.

Mrs. R. K. Anderson gave an excellent paper on "Window Gardening," telling of the different types of gardening and containers, of the work connected with them and the reward; and led by Mrs. F. E. Berry, the club held an informal discussion on "The Care of the Chrysanthemus." Mrs. J. M. Mulvany contributed two soprano solos, "Remember" and "In a Garden," accompanied by Mrs. George Parsons. Mrs. R. S. Moore then told of the gorgeous flowers she saw in British Columbia, especially at Lake Louise, also at Banff, Alberta and in Seattle.

Tea was served at the close of the program from a candle lighted table with Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Robert Moore Jr. pouring. Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. W. J. Wehe and Mrs. Parsons were guests.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Moore Jr. on South Maiden Lane when the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. W. L. Jones, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw, Miss McWilliams and Mrs. E. G. Palmer, will be given and election of officers held. It will be the final meeting of the club year.

This and That

Gerald K. Miller

Emotion, not common sense, is playing too big a part in our everyday thinking. So much is contradictory we must be very careful to discriminate between the truth, half-truth and the false. We can only do so in a spirit of complete openmindedness. Following are some news reports taken from newspapers to illustrate what I mean.

British claim Nazi gasoline production cut to trickle, and 80 per cent of oil plants bombed.

Germany claims to have a 10 year supply of gasoline.

The CIO and AFL united to fight the Conscription Bill. Much of labor was bitter against it.

In the United States Labor would suffer more than anyone else if Hitler should invade America Unions abolished, long hours with just enough pay to keep body and soul together, forced migration of thousands of laborers to interior Germany at real slave labor is the history of each of the conquered countries.

Unless red tape and unnecessary delays in the Defense Program are cleared up immediately William Knudsen, who left a $300,000 a year job with General Motors to become defense production chief is likely to make quite a loud fuss. He has met delays at every turn. The White House is trying to keep everything quiet, and hopes everything will shape up quickly.

Democratic Headquarters issues statement that Defense Program is right on schedule.

German salesmen are offering steel and many manufactured goods for October delivery to South America at prices far below United States prices. They claim the war will be over then, and Germany will resume its foreign trade.

Neutral military observers now believe that German's chances of a blitzkrieg on England this winter are rapidly approaching zero. The war will last throughout the winter.

Democratic Headquarters say that the course Roosevelt is following will keep this country out of war.

General Hugh Johnson compares Hitler to Roosevelt, and claims that if Roosevelt is elected for the third term we will be forced into the war.

A private employer, even filling defense orders, could not fire from a job any employee solely because he was a Communist, Alien, or Fascist. The National Labor Relations Board would force them to rehire men fired and restore back pay.

The United States Government is removing Aliens, Fascists and Communists from defense areas such as the Panama Canal Zone, powder factories, etc.

Despite denials, it is true that at least one Senator has been informally sounding out colleagues on their attitude toward a declaration of war on Germany. He is Senator Pepper. The response so far has been definitely cool.

Over two hundred Communist and Fascist organizations in the United States have embarked on a Peace Campaign to keep us from fighting their countrymen in Europe. They have found the best way is to organize mothers to operate these organizations.

NEW FORD CARS HERE ON FRIDAY

WILL BE DISPLAYED AT BUTLER MOTOR SALES; CHEVROLET, OLDS ALSO HERE

Larger, and more beautiful inside and out, the new Ford models for 1941 will go on display tomorrow morning at the show rooms of the Butler Motor Sales, West Chicago Boulevard.

Increased wheelbase and overall lengths, bigger tires and softer springs have given designers new advantages, and according to Charles O. Butler, dealer here, the new models are the smartest, roomiest and most luxurious ever produced by the company. The car, as in the past, is equipped with the V-type eight cylinder engine.

The new Mercury car also will be showed by Butler Motor Sales and in this field there has been much improvement, according to the dealer.

"While I am not permitted to make any definite announcement," he said, "I am safe in saying that Ford, this year, has made many revolutionary changes in all model cars. They must be seen to be appreciated."

The new Chevrolet car models went on display last week at the showrooms of Schneider Bros. Garage, Inc., and attracted considerable attention. Roomier, larger, and more streamlined, the new cars attracted scores of lookers. Mr. Schneider also reported a heavy demand by buyers.

The new Oldsmobile also is being shown this week by the Brown Motor Sales, West Chicago boulevard. This car, with its many refinements, also is causing much conversation among interested motorists. The Olds, this year, is "clutchless," a feature that is very popular with the feminine drivers.

POLITICAL WAR TO START SOON

FIREWORKS EXPECTED AS NATIONAL CAMPAIGN SWINGS INTO MICHIGAN

LANSING — Political fireworks will soon start popping.

With the Democratic ticket already completed and the Republican ticket shaping up at the Grand Rapids state convention, opening today, the campaign is expected to get under way vigorously.

Wendell Willkie, the Republican standard-bearer, invades Michigan next Monday for an address before the national convention of the Republican Women's clubs at Olympia in Detroit. And despite President Roosevelt's insistence that affairs of state will keep him from political engagements, Chairman Edward Pruett and his helpers haven't given up hope yet that the President may inspect Fort Wayne in Detroit or Selfridge Field at Mount Clemens on a national defense trip into the midlands.

Both state headquarters are officially optimistic, of course.

It's going to be a colorful year, if Mr. and Mrs. John Public will only take their minds off the European tug-of-war. Therein is another story.

Word from Washington's congressional row is to the effect that recent mail from the home precincts has been running heavily anti-war.

To give you an idea how Michigan home folks feel about it, here is the roll call on the compulsory military service bill: Against it—Senators Arthur Vandenberg (R) and Prentiss Brown (D); Representatives Blackney, Bradley, Crawford, Hoffman, Jonkman, McLeod, Michener, Shafer, Wolcott and Woodruff (all Republicans) and Democrats Dingell, Lesinski, Rabaut, and Tenerowicz.

Out of Michigan's delegation of 17 congressmen, three did not vote: Republicans Dondero and Engle and Democrat Hook. The score, in reality, was an overwhelming vote against conscription, like it or not.

It merely illustrates the observation, oft made, that congressmen are responsive to the feelings of those back home. In this case, the mail has been heavy anti-conscription and anti-war. An election is looming, too. Memory is also fresh that Senator Vanden-

HE FEARED THE OUTCOME

The late Senator Borah of Idaho was a truly great American — sometimes wrong, which is the common lot of humankind, but able to comment upon significant facts with intelligence and the force of real logic. In one of his last addresses to the Senate, in the early days of this year, Senator Borah offered an analysis of legislation to conscript industry that has developed even more pertinence today than when it was first spoken.

Borah's remarks are themselves the most powerful kind of an editorial to confound those who would give government complete control over all the processes of production. We think you'll agree when you've read his words:

"If we can do what is provided in this bill because of an emergency . . . then we could also provide, in case of an emergency, for the suspension of the Bill of Rights. We could prohibit free speech, free press and the right of trial by jury . . .

"Mr. President, democracy is having a pretty tough fight with arbitrary power and with arbitrary governments . . . Such legislation as now proposed and the seizure of every opportunity to discredit democracy and democratic processes, hastening at all times to advertise the efficiency and the necessity of arbitrary powers, are telling most against democratic principles and democratic processes . . . The glory of the Bill of Rights is that it is a restraint upon government as well as upon individuals."

Thus the eloquent "final words" of a great legislator serve to remind us that political assumption of power does not stop halfway—and that the next step after the drafting of property is the drafting of free thought and everything else that democracy values most highly!

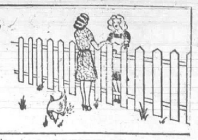
THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER



Typical American answers, being given in plants and factories all over the United States today, are "sure" and "O.K." For American business, which must prodcce the "sinews of war," is on the march!

We have a genius for organization and production in this country born of our conquest of the continent. We know how to "get things done" and we're getting them!

Tungsten is needed for tank construction and a supply is located in far-away Turkey. Two American ships are in the neighborhood but one hasn't enough fuel to stop for the ore. American business men in the National Defense Commission who know the Near East get busy. Cables are sent. 'Phone calls are made.

"Sure, we can pick it up" . . . the tungsten is soon on its way to this country.

It takes from 400 to 600 subcontracts to produce the parts and accessories for a single bombing plane. A job that would ordinarily take months must be put thru in weeks.

"O.K. we'll step on it" . . . and in much less time than was anticipated the planes will come through.

American business men know how to work under pressure. Plant expansion and new tools are needed to produce other equipment. That means an investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars; perhaps millions. A manufacturer must be able to pay off this investment and make a reasonable return to his stockholders, but red tape often hinders the necessary governmental assurance from coming through as soon as is desirable.

"O.K. we'll take a chance . . ." In dozens of cases manufacturers are saying this—going ahead with the necessary expansion before contracts are signed. For American business men, who have the responsibility for building our defense, know how important it is to get going. Our national security may depend on speed.

It took initiative and a lot of hard work to build a nation like this in 150 years. There wasn't a city west of the Mississippi in 1800 and now look at it! The men and women who made this country weren't afraid of danger or toil. They said "Sure . . ." and as our slang developed they said, "O.K." . . . Typical American expressions . . . showing clearly the typical American spirit!

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick SPECIAL for '41 — its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.

But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrift you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL* Eight.

For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.

Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage—power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.

Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal.

All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.

Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly a half "on call" for emergency use.

More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion —and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.

But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road.

That's a demonstration—and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?

58 New Cases Of Polio Reported In September

Fifty-eight Michigan counties have reported cases of poliomyelitis so far in September, the State Department of Health, at Lansing, reported this week. The September cases are 200 more than 1939, and the year's total to date is a little more than that of last year.

Polio cases reported in September are so scattered that the Department is repeating its August warning for parents throughout the state to watch for early signs.

"Unless parents have been put on guard by a local outbreak, they may easily fail to realize the importance of the first signs of polio," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner.

"First stage symptoms come on quickly, and a physician should be called at once. Consultation service from infantile paralysis experts is being supplied wherever needed, and physicians have available the necessary equipment for treatment of serious cases."

Dr. Moyer said that only one out of three or four cases of polio develops paralysis, but that the course of the disease cannot be predicted at the beginning stage. Prompt medical care is therefore of great importance, as soon as any symptoms are observed. The first stage symptoms include fever, nausea, irritability and stiffness of the neck, and sometimes pain and tenderness in the arms and legs.

Twenty-four counties reporting five or more cases of polio this month through September 18 are: Alger 10, Allegan 5, Barry 13, Berrien 7, Branch 9, Calhoun 5, Delta 10, Dickinson 13, Eaton 5, Gogebic 7, Ingham 29, Iron 10, Kalamazoo 14, Kent 43, Luce 31, Mackinac 5, Mecosta 5, Midland 6, Muskegon 8, Ottawa 5, St. Joseph 8, Van Buren 11, Washtenaw 5, Wayne 31, for a total of 298. Sixty cases have been reported in September to date in 34 other counties.

POLITICAL WAR

berg, opposed to conscription, won a smashing primary victory.

If the congressional vote and the mailbag trend is any accurate index of Michigan public opinion, the anti-war state of thought may have a bearing on the November election.

Both party nominees are busy trying to pin the appeasement label on the other, while both have also announced in unmistakable words a pledge not to send American sons overseas again to fight on foreign soils.

Hadley Cantril, director of the Princeton Public Opinion Research project, has been laboring since the outbreak of the war on an intensive study of the American mind with respect to neutrality and war. Aided by a grant of funds from the Rockefeller Foundation, Dr. Cantril has come to some definite conclusions, as given in the current issue of Public Opinion Quarterly. As they have a relation to the Michigan senatorial and congressional attitude, we will review them briefly.

War's outbreak in September, 1939, found an overwhelming majority of American people utterly confident that England and France would win, as shown by George Gallup polls at the time. By late summer, 1940, more people believed the Germans will win than those clinging to hopes of an ultimate Allied victory.

As of August 1, hopes were rising that the British, after all, might stave off immediate military defeat long enough to get an ultimate triumph due to their economic blockade. Yet, while a large majority of Americans want Washington to do more to assist the British, they also balk at anything that might embroil us in the conflict. Certainly, both nominees are pledged not to send the Yanks "over there," although it will be recalled that President Wilson was re-elected in 1916 on a record of keeping us out of war—and we went to war the very next spring.

Dr. Cantrill makes the observation that about one-quarter of our population adhere to an isolation view "It is more important to keep out of war than to help England."

Also, a majority of the isolationists believe that Germany will win the war. Of possible interest to our women readers is Dr. Cantril's observation that the Gallup polls show there are more women in this isolationist group than men; also more poor people than those who are well-to-do.

The younger Americans tend to believe cynically that the war is largely a contest between the British and Germans over power and wealth rather than over democracy.

A second group is made up of the interventionists who, as we enter the Fall season, make up a good third of the country's population. These citizens favor conscription; they fear a German attack on this country. They feel we should go to the limit in helping beleagered England, even at the risk of involvement in the war ourselves.

This group comprises many people over 30 years of age in the upper and middle income groups; they take an educated long-range view, possess greater stability of opinion, and are fully aware of the economic consequences of war dislocation.

A 40 per cent group (No. 3) is sympathetic with England, but agrees with the isolationist group that it is more important to keep out of war than to aid England.

With regards to the possibility of a German victory, the sympathetic group is about half-way between the isolationist and the interventionist segments.

At the present time, when new British pleas for military assistance are arising at Washington, the nation finds itself in a contradictory state of public opinion: Aid England but keep out of war, first and last!

It is this majority viewpoint, as analyzed by Michigan congressmen whether in the senate or in the house, that was behind the almost solid anti-conscription vote last week.
